STUDENTS PREPARE FOR WAR DUTIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, May 6. — High School students are being thoroughly organized for war duty. Large additions have been made to the agricultural classes, with practical work to fit the lads for service in orchards and on ranches; girls of the domestic science classes will do practical sewing in producing supplies for the Red Cross, and all male students without exception are taking military drill for at least one hour per day.

Practically all of the girls are members of first-aid classes and are studying for examinations for nurses' assistants for enlistment, if necessary, with hospital units.

IN STOLEN AUTO.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, May 6.—Two youthful automobilists were arrested today when C. D. Wood of No. 1718 Censhaw boulevard, Los Angeles, identified the machine they were driving as his own. The boys are Glen Dragg, 14 years old, a newsboy, and Harry Apperson, 16 years old, who gives his occupation as a laborer.

INTENSIFIED OFFENSIVE

Allied Drive Gains Impetus.

Leaders Rushing Reserves to Stem the Tide of the Entente Troops.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE—DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 7.—Since the first battle of Arras, the Entente Allies have taken nearly 50,000 prisoners in the west. Figuring on the basis that the enemy has suffered five casualties for every prisoner, there was a minimum of 250,000 Germans killed and wounded last week, which gives a fair idea of the intensity and violence of the fighting at the two points of attack by the French. It is likely that the figures run higher, but even those figures show a daily average of 35,000.

Today while the French were consolidating their gains and fending off furious attacks by the enemy along the Chemin des Dames north of the Craonne, the British infantry pushed their drive against the Hindenburg line in the region of Bullecourt. The Haig-Nivelle teamwork is going well and getting on the nerve of the enemy. A sharp curve in the line of advance almost encircles Bullecourt, leaving only the northern entrance open. The enemy is in an inclave, which may prove dangerous, as he is reported to hold the village in force.

BERLIN SATISFIED.

Berlin pretends to feel satisfied with the results of the fighting on the Aisne, claiming the capture of 726 men besides maintaining all positions. Chevreux, northeast of Craonne, is still in the possession of the Germans.

All reports from the Allies' conference at Paris hint at a decision regarding future military operations and the conduct of the offensive. Naturally there is no indication of its nature, but emphasis is laid on the unity existing between the British and French high commands. Under the present arrangements Nivelle is the executive officer to Petain. With their acute sense of everything of a military nature, the French people have been quick to analyze the situation. After the first big French attack the people at home became critical, but the latest effort of their army has served to allay earlier doubts.

The struggle on the western front has reached a point of intensity in the past two days where the attempt to chronicle incidents is a mere futility.

RUSHING RESERVES.

Battered, torn, perhaps bewildered, Hindenburg is now throwing every man of his cherished strategic reserve into the struggle, hoping at all costs to prevent a further Allied victory. For the time being all idea of movement or the capture of positions has faded on either side. Both forces are now locked fast in an absolute fight to a finish and the victories are not in the amount of ground gained, but in the men put out of action.

The greatest accumulation of guns in the world's history fire unceasingly, killing men at an unprecedented rate and the infantry follows up in a manner reminiscent of the bloodiest battles of medieval history.

This afternoon Haig reports the

CLAMORING FOR FOOD.

France and Britain in Distress.

Help Must Come from America Within Three Months or Exhaustion.

Pitiful Situation in the Afflicted Lands Told by a Specialist.

BY FRED B. PITNEY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE—DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, May 7.—The vital question now is, can America organize in three months? France faced the problem of a country with 80 per cent. of her work mobilized and 56 per cent. of her production of raw material in the hands of the invaders. She completed the task in five months. America has both men and raw material free. With free hands, can she do in three months what France did in five months, with both hands tied behind her?

France and England both have in hand ample supplies of munitions for the moment to carry on any kind of warfare they choose. They will have ample supplies for the next three months. They have food enough to get on with for the next three months. They will both be pinched, but they can get on.

But in three months, unless supplies of both finished munitions and raw material for manufacture begin to reach England and France in large quantities—quantities greatly superior to what comes now—neither England nor France will have enough munitions.

In three months, unless foodstuffs begin to come into both England and France in large quantities, both England and France—and England especially—will be in a very bad way for food.

So it is that America must be ready in three months to take up the burden. It is the question of victory. It is the vital point of the whole thing. Can America organize in three months?

The question of organization is divided into two parts—organization of production, organization of transport. I have already stated the need for organization of production. I now purpose to give a few facts about submarine warfare, which is the heart of the transport problem.

SUBMARINES.

Germany has today about 200 new, long-radius, cruising submarines in addition to smaller types and those she had before February 1. She is building faster than she is losing. The rate is approximately three to one.

She has established seven zones of blockade, four of which are subsidiary, one of which has been almost completely successful.

The principal zones are the Atlantic coasts of England, the southwestern coast of Europe (France, Spain and Portugal,) and the Mediterranean. The subsidiary zones are the North Sea, the Channel, the Eastern Mediterranean off the Dardanelles and the American coast. The home ports of the submarines blockading the North Sea, England and the Channel are the German North Sea ports. The home port for the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and the southwestern coast of Europe is Pola. The American blockade is carried on from both Germany and Pola.

The North Sea blockade is almost entirely successful. There are very few submarine losses in the North Sea at present. That is because merchant traffic in the North Sea has almost entirely ceased.

STREWN WITH WRECKAGE.

Both the English and French coasts of the Channel are strewn with wreckage. The English and French admiralties can prove that there has been no loss of life in the Channel, but there is no getting away from those long lines of wrecks, which represent millions in merchandise vitally necessary to the conduct of the war.

Every ship coming with grain from the Far East to England must needs pass through four zones of blockade, the Dardanelles, the Mediterranean, the southwest coast of Europe and the English coast.

The losses to shipping from submarine warfare average from 8 to 10 per cent. a month. Twelve months more there will be no shipping left worth mentioning.

Of three armed merchant ships that meet submarines two get by.

This means that the German submarines are the masters of the seas today. Whatever may be admitted by the Allied admiralties, whatever figures may be published from week to week, the fact, nevertheless, remains concealed behind the admissions and figures that under the German submarine warfare the merchant shipping of the world is disappearing at the rate of from 8 to 10 per cent. a month, and in another twelve months at the same rate the war will be over, with Germany the victor. For France and England will have been cut off from supplies, both food and munitions, while Germany—I have it on the word of a French Cabinet Minister—can con-

CURTAIN OF ASBESTOS ON STATE DEPARTMENT.

Background of Complicated Events no Longer Open to Scrutiny.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The usual channels of information through which news of America's relationships to foreign powers reach the public were closed by Secretary Lansing today.

An order bearing his name was distributed broadcast instructing State Department officials not to talk with newspaper men "even on insignificant matters of fact or detail."

Henceforth, under the order, the press will not be able to discuss the background of complicated international questions with the experts at the head of each bureau.

The order says that hereafter all news must be given out either by the Secretary himself or by the newly-created so-called Bureau of Foreign Intelligence. Secretary Lansing sees the newspaper men twice daily, but does not pretend to be able to answer the mass of questions raised every hour by newspaper cables. The meetings are becoming more and more perfunctory.

The Bureau of Foreign Intelligence is about a month old and is charged not only with the press work but with supplying news to all American missions abroad. Usually very much behind the press cables because of the need of coding and decoding, the bureau, at the same time, because of its relative lack of authority, confines itself mostly to formal statements on news facts and does not attempt to provide the background or explanation which gives international news its real value.

Consequently, from now on, if today's order remains in effect, the public will receive from the State Department only such perfunctory news as the bureau gives out and such fragmentary explanations as Secretary Lansing himself finds time for in the crush of other work. The bureau chiefs, handling questions of the Far East, South America, the Near East or Western Europe, will not be able to give to the public the benefit of their expert knowledge and intimate familiarity of their specialized situations.

Secretary Lansing, in discussing the order tonight, said the present situation was entirely too delicate for the various bureau chiefs to be giving out information. He said he recently had learned that some matters he had not wished published had come out through newspaper men seeing various officials of the department, and he did not feel that they should expect to continue such visits under the present situation.

GRAVE GERMAN CRISIS RAGES ABOUT HOLLWEG.

Heated Criticism of His Policies may Result in Fall of the Chancellor and Other High Officials — Two Groups in Reichstag Openly Defying the Kaiser and Attempting to Curtail His Powers.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 7.—A grave political crisis is fast developing in Germany, according to authenticated news which has just reached London. It will culminate in nothing short of the fall of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, in the opinion of many observers.

For the first time since rumors of internal trouble within the German empire began to reach London, the public has faith in the reports. Everything points to a great desire on the part of the German authorities to keep the news secret, and unless all signs fail, the trouble now rapidly is assuming the proportions of a great political crisis that is destined to have far-reaching effects.

SOURCE OF DISCONTENT.

The German Chancellor is the source of most of the discontent. All the heated criticism of the last few weeks has centered around his administration, and it now appears that Hollweg, following the franchise proposals, is suspected of leaning toward the Socialists' idea of peace without annexation. There seems to be no definite evidence to this effect, but the impression here is that the Chancellor is looking rather more attentively toward the Socialist group at the present time than he did before the political agitation began.

Reversing the usual order of their activities the agrarians are making a furious attack on Hollweg and the Socialists. This has brought about a heated controversy the end of which is not yet in sight. No one here cares to predict where this will lead but it is bound to have an unfortunate effect on the German people, who desire above all else to show a unanimity of action in the war.

REICHSTAG DEFIANT.

No one in London a year ago believed it possible that a bare twelve months would find two important parties in the Reichstag openly defiant of the Kaiser and using every effort to reduce his powers. This is what is going on at the present time in Germany and it is one of the reasons why observers here give credence to the reports that Hollweg and possibly one or two others are to pass into private life.

The army and navy appointment prerogative is one that always has been jealously guarded by the present Kaiser. With the Liberals and Conservatives seeking to provide a certain amount of Parliamentary responsibility in these appointments the Kaiser must realize that things in Germany are not exactly what they were this time last year. The proposed amendment will leave the German Emperor with his old power to sign appointments but he will have to share it with the Reichstag.

AWAIT WORD.

The Chancellor's delay peace talk is eagerly awaited here as a statement coming from the Kaiser and the Emperor of Austria. No one belives that Hollweg will act upon his own initiative even in the minor details of writing the speech. It is pointed out among students of German affairs here that the new peace address will have an additional significance in the fact that it is doubtless based more or less on information concerning the attitude of the United States through conferences with former Ambassador Von Bernstorff. When the Kaiser last enunciated his peace terms, America had not entered the war and German officials had less of an opportunity of measuring the American sentiment.

Considerable credence is also given here to the reports that the new German peace move was instigated by the Emperor of Austria. Notwithstanding official statements to the contrary Emperor Charles is known to favor a speedy peace and his people are said to be weary of the long war. No one believes the Kaiser will permit his Ally to quit at this time but he doubtless realizes the necessity of giving some attention to the Austrian sentiment. Accordingly it is believed that the coming peace address will be a compromise for the Austrians in addition to a statement calculated to inspire confidence in the Government among the German people.

GERMANS REPORT ALLIES REPULSED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) May 7, 10:07 p.m.—The official communication issued this afternoon says:

"On the Arras front strong artillery fire continues on some sectors. At Roeux and between Fontaine and Reincourt British attacks have been repulsed with sanguinary losses. At Bullecourt the fighting continues.

"On the Aisne strong French attacks on both sides of Craonelle failed."

WOMAN DISAPPEARS; SUSPECT FOUL PLAY.

Disappearance of Mrs. Mary M. Greenleaf, 80 years old, from her home, No. 5835 Woodland street, was being investigated by the police early today. The woman, it seems, had employed a young man to run an auto for her in the jitney business and she rode with him downtown yesterday morning. Late last night the youth appeared at the University Police Station, where he turned in the car, saying Mrs. Greenleaf had gone home, he having given her 5 cents for street-car fare. He gave a name and address, which afterward proved fictitious, and disappeared. Neither he nor the aged woman was found early today, and fears that the latter may have been the victim of foul play for the money she is known to possess were expressed.

BULLETINS

LONDON, May 7, 6:54 p.m.—The opinion prevails in British circles that the German Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, is "sitting on the fence" in the matter of announcing German peace proposals. It is believed here that he is playing for time in an attempt to let the fighting run through the summer before he commits himself.

The German Chancellor is anxious to see the outcome of the submarine campaign, of the fighting on the western front, and of the Russian crisis before he definitely announces a "no annexation" programme. Likewise, it is believed, he is delaying in the matter of internal reform hoping that the trend of events will make it possible to ignore a large part of the demands for such action. According to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam, the pan-German newspapers in Berlin continue their attacks on the imperial chancellor.

COPENHAGEN, May 7, (via London, May 8, 5:40 a.m.)—There is still talk in Berlin, according to advices received here, that Germany will make new peace proposals this week. There is no definite basis apparent for the rumors, though the convocation of the Bundesrath committee on foreign affairs perhaps may be confirmatory of them.

AMBULANCE CORPS TO BRANCH OUT.

AMERICANS IN FRANCE MAY RUN FIELD SUPPLIES.

Plan Also Provides for Granting French Commission to Trained Members of Force — Special Course Opens for Preparing First Class and Others will Follow.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 7, 1:51 p.m.—With the entrance of the United States into the war, the American Field Ambulance Corps has decided to develop two important new branches of its work. These are:

First—A military transport service in which the Americans will have charge of the transportation of ammunition and field supplies at main points where offensives are in progress.

Second—A military school at which the Americans will receive special training under French officers leading to appointment as officers of the French army after a few weeks of intensive training.

Both these steps have been worked out by Prof. A. Piatt Andrew, chief inspector of the American Ambulance Corps, together with the French military authorities and the actual commencement of both branches will take place this week.

The first section for the transport of ammunition to the fighting front leaves next Wednesday. It will be composed of forty-five Americans drawn from the leading colleges, with twenty heavy ammunition trucks. It is expected that one additional section will leave for the front each week.

The school for Americans seeking commissions in the French army will be opened tomorrow at Meaux, where extensive quarters have been assigned for recitation rooms, drilling, dormitory and refectory purposes. Fifteen Americans will compose the first class and will be drawn from those who previously have been operating ambulances. As these qualify, pass the examinations and are assigned to French commands, others will be brought in from ambulance work to form new classes, thus making a continuous flow of Americans qualifying for French commands.

The development of these two new branches of work probably will lead to a change of the name of the American Field Ambulance Corps to the "American Field Service" or "American Volunteer Corps."

INVESTIGATE DERAILMENT OF WAR MISSION'S TRAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

EFFINGHAM (Ill.) May 8.—A special train carrying the members of the French war mission arrived here early today and will remain until forenoon before resuming the eastward journey after the tour of the Middle West.

The train was held here several hours on the advice of officials of the State Department in Washington, that citizens of all communities where stops were originally scheduled might have an opportunity to greet the distinguished visitors.

Members of the commission said they felt no ill effects of the derailing of the party's special near Arcola, Ill., last night. Most of the commissioners were asleep before leaving Arcola, where the wreckage held the train about four hours, and slept until morning.

Long before daylight little knots of people began to gather about the station in the hope of obtaining a glimpse of the guests, and before the sun was high practically the entire community was awaiting an opportunity to greet them and express satisfaction at their escape from serious accident in last night's derailment.

A study of the track at the Arcola wreck by railway officials early today disclosed a broken rail near the point where appear the first marks of the wheel flange of the tender of the engine derailed, the second two locomotives drawing the train. The accepted theory is that the flange cut off the nuts of the fish plate which bound the ends of the rails, and thereby permitted the rails to spread, letting the day coach, ope sleeper and the front truck of the dining car down on the ties.

ALLIES' BLOCKADE STARVES GREEKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

WASHINGTON, May 8. — An official dispatch from the Greek government, communicated to the State Department by the Greek Legation, says the blockade by the Allies of the Greek coast has resulted in many deaths from starvation.

In January there were twenty-five deaths; in February, twenty-six; in March, forty-nine, and in the first third of April, ten. These figures do not include deaths within the area occupied by the French and English armies, and they cover only such cases as were certified to by a physician as having been due to starvation. The legation assumes that many cases must have occurred without being reported.

The greatest distress appears to exist in Epirus, where forty deaths occurred. In Thessaly there were seven, while in other provinces and islands the cases range only between one and four.

As the organization of the new Zaimis Cabinet was undertaken in harmony with the wishes of the Allies, the legation assumes that the blockade will now be raised.

SOON TO BE BUILDING WOODEN SHIPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

WASHINGTON, May 7. — The administration's wooden-shipbuilding programme, it was announced tonight, is definitely under way and the shipping board hopes within a few months to be turning out great numbers of vessels to run the German undersea blockade. Some builders, without awaiting formal contracts, are proceeding on the assurance of the board that the ships will be taken over when completed.

"Contracts for dozens of the ships," Chairman Denman said tonight, "will be signed immediately on the appropriation by Congress of sufficient money to cover the programme."

RED WINTER WHEAT $3.10 IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

CHICAGO, May 8.—Flour is at a new high level here today, after scoring an advance of $1 yesterday. The price on family brands reached $15.60, and on bakers, $15.

Red winter wheat sold in the Chicago market yesterday as high as $3.10, the highest ever known, it is said, while 3000 bushels of No. 1 hard Duluth spring wheat sold for seed at $3.25. It is to be shipped east by express.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR ON POLITICAL TOUR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

VIENNA, May 8.—Emperor Charles, accompanied by the Austrian Premier, has embarked on a tour of Galicia, to which considerable political importance is attributed. The plan to give Galicia a special autonomous position in the empire, incidentally cutting the Polish strength in the Austrian Parliament and giving the German parties working control, has been dropped, and the Emperor and Premier are endeavoring to find some other solution.

WAR DEPARTMENT FAILS TO DO CONGRESS ORDER

No Time to Make Standard Weapon Authorized; Censorship Defied.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 7.—The first big scandal of the war was exposed today. As a result of the failure to carry out preparations authorized by Congress, the War Department is totally unable to arm the new national army of 1,200,000 men with the Springfield rifle, the standard of the service.

It would take a year to manufacture the machinery necessary to the manufacture of enough Springfields to arm the troops the United States will raise for the war with Germany.

In order to put a rifle into the hands of every recruit who will be in the training camps by next September it will be necessary to purchase 500,000 Enfield rifles, the arm of the British troops, which is being manufactured in this country in large quantities.

To equip the army with a single standard arm it will be necessary to retire the 690,000 Springfields now available and purchase 2,500,000 Enfields, although the English rifle is considered far inferior to the Springfield. It is necessary to provide approximately two rifles per man.

In order to avoid rechambering the Enfield to fit American ammunition, it will be necessary to retire the present cartridge stock and manufacture the British type of ammunition.

DRILL WITH BROOMSTICKS.

There is grave danger that the government will be unable to procure enough Enfields by the time the training of the new army is in full swing. The prospect, therefore, is that a heterogeneous lot of arms will be in use—Springfields, Enfields and the hot-of-date Krag-Jorgensons. In fact, it is not unlikely that thousands of recruits will be compelled to drill at first with broomsticks.

It also developed during the day that the British war commission brought to this country the models of various implements of trench warfare, the rights to manufacture which it was desired the United States government should purchase from English manufacturers. The models were exhibited by British army officers in a building there which was engaged for the purpose. The royalties of these trench bombs, mortars and other arms, if adopted by the American government, would have netted millions of dollars to British manufacturers.

When the French commission arrived, it was learned that the British models were not in use on the French front because they are out of date. The French offered to supply the models of their trench warfare implements free of cost to the United States.

DEFIES CENSORSHIP.

The exposure of the failure of the War Department to provide the Springfield rifles for which Congress has appropriated was made in the House. Defying the censorship on the ground that the American people should be acquainted with conditions well known to the enemy, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, a member of the National Guard of his State, disclosed the desperate situation faced by the government in the matter of arming the troops soon to be raised.

Speaking of the Springfields, Mr. Tilson said:

"We can produce at the maximum only half a million of these service rifles of ours in a year.

"We cannot manufacture the Springfield rifle rapidly enough now to serve our purpose, although I believe it is the best rifle in the world. We cannot increase our capacity to manufacture that rifle because of the difficulty of procuring gauges. We have waited too long."

"Do you think that is good information to make public?" asked Representative Robbins of Pennsylvania.

"Everybody knows it except ourselves," replied Tilson. "All our enemies know it. We need not try to keep it a secret now. We had better meet it squarely. We have not the special tools and fixtures, which must be made by skilled mechanics. We would be willing to pay any price for these tools, but we have not got them and we cannot make them. If we put all the available tool makers in the country to work we cannot make them in time to use in this war."

GUNS TRAINED ON HOUSE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Four machine guns, trained from the well of the House upon the members, along with a great array of rifles, revolvers and other weapons, formed an exhibit today to accompany a speech by Representative Tilton of Connecticut, former National Guard officer and member of the House Military Committee, urging that the United States should use the British army rifle to equip its war army. Mr. Tilson declared it would be impossible to manufacture enough American Springfields in time, and that the only question was whether the United States should rechamber the British Enfield for American ammunition. He argued that there would be a great advantage in having any American force sent abroad use the same ammunition as the British.

HOOVER TO CONTROL EXPORTS AND PRICES.

New Head of Food Management is to Have Wide Authority—Department of Agriculture Already Equipped to Enforce Domestic Regulations — May Form Commission to Apportion Supplies to Allied Nations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Although Herbert C. Hoover's place in the government's food-control programme has not been determined finally, there were indications today that he would be given direction of food exports and later of price-fixing measures if Congress passes the administration's food bills.

The Department of Agriculture is fully equipped to enforce domestic regulations contained in the legislation, but the problem of apportioning food among the Allies may be largely left to Mr. Hoover as chairman of the Food Committee of the Council of National Defense. Under the bills the President would be empowered to name an agency to deal with price fixing. This, it is understood, if made necessary, probably would be left to the defense council with Mr. Hoover supervising operations of the act.

There have been suggestions of an international food commission, sitting in Washington, to handle American and Allied food problems. If it is created the American member probably would be Mr. Hoover.

Secretary Houston announced today that Canada was awaiting passage of the administration's bills to put into force similar regulations. American and Canadian food interests are so nearly identical, he said, that Canada feels it would be useless to proceed with measures until the United States decides on a definite course.

A Canadian official probably will be placed here permanently to advise his government how this government is meeting the situation.

Mr. Hoover will see President Wilson Wednesday to report on food conditions abroad. Today he appeared before the House Agriculture Committee at a closed session to discuss the food bills. He suggested creation of a commission of business men, serving under the President, to handle broader features of the measures, leaving to the Agriculture Department authority to enforce other regulations. This board, he suggested, should sit as an independent body, overseeing transportation and preferential shipments.

Mr. Hoover opposed price fixing for perishables, but said he thought power should be conferred permitting the setting of basic prices on nonperishables.

Chairman Lever of the committee submitted a favorable report today on the first of the bills, which would empower the Secretary of Agriculture to make a survey of the country's food resources and authorize the department to put into force measures to stimulate production.

Secretary Houston is extremely anxious for early action on the food bills.

"Under the laws asked we will be further along in a few months than the Allies are in three years," he said.

The Agriculture Department is turning over to the general railroad board a mass of telegrams asking preferential shipment for farm products and materials. The government, under the legislation asked, would have power to order that food and agricultural materials go ahead of other commodities.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Louisiana sugar crop of 1916 was over twice as great as the crop of 1915.

Figures compiled by the Department of Agriculture show the 1916 crop was 607,800,000 pounds, as against 275,000,000 pounds in 1915.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 7.—Atty.-Gen. Wiley E. Jones tonight directed letters to the county attorneys of Maricopa and Pinal counties urging an investigation of the lynching yesterday of Star Daley, whose real name was Van Ashmore, near Mesa, Pinal county.

Daley was taken from Maricopa county officers who were taking him from the jail here to the State Prison at Florence for safe keeping. He had confessed to killing James Ray Gibson and attacking Mrs. Gibson on the Apache Trail Thursday night.

So it remains for America to meet these conditions, to organize her production, to organize overseas transport, to solve the submarine problem and to bring victory. And she has three months only in which to work.

The only practical way to combat submarines yet found is with small vessels. Capital ships are no good for the work. Against a submarine the capital ship is the more vulnerable of the two. In the present war the capital ships on both sides remain in harbor, while the work is done by the submarines on the German side and the mosquito fleet on the Allies' side. To give you one figure only: England has 480 private yachts mobilized for patrol work. The owners of the yachts are mobilized in the Naval Reserve and command their own vessels. In many cases they have done very valuable work.

But what has to be done is to establish a thoroughly-patrolled trans-Atlantic lane, a lane that will be as safe as the Boston Post Road, and that will be patrolled from one end to the other. It will not do to patrol the American coast and the European coast and leave a thousand-mile gap in the middle. The lane must be patrolled from end to end.

The three elements of the problem for America are munitions and food supplies, transports and submarines. She has three months to solve the problem.

FRENCH MISSION AT LINCOLN'S TOMB.

SILENT TRIBUTE PAID TO THE GREAT EMANCIPATOR.

M. Viviani Speaks Before Illinois Legislature and Gives High Honor to Memory of War President—Governor Tells of France as First Mississippi Pioneer.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 7.—The French mission to the United States paid tribute to the memory of Lincoln at the Emancipator's tomb here today and received an enthusiastic welcome to the capital of Illinois.

Marshal Joffre silently placed a wreath upon the Lincoln sarcophagus. With bowed heads and doffed hats the hero of the Marne, Rene Viviani, vice-president of the French Council of Ministers, and the military and civil officials who accompanied them, filed into the tomb, paid honor to the war President and left without a spoken word.

At the State Capitol, however, where an official reception had been arranged, both Joffre and Viviani spoke. Gen. Joffre briefly expressed appreciation of the cordial reception.

M. Viviani paid tribute to Lincoln and to President Wilson and told of the rejoicing that spread through France when the speech of President Wilson announcing the intention of the United States to enter the war was received. He predicted that with the aid of the United States it would be brought to a glorious conclusion.

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

"Before coming here to this hall of legislature," M. Viviani said, "we entered the chamber of silence and deposited a wreath upon the tomb of the immortal Lincoln. The homage of all France comes with us. We wish you to understand, no matter how far it is from Springfield to France, the vision of this splendid modern democracy is understood in France. You know that, born among the people, not able to read, Lincoln arose by study and intelligence to be the emancipator of modern civilization. He attained his ends by plunging the country into civil war after exhausting every other means within his power.

"Lincoln understood human conscience and that is the reason he is proclaimed the 'Immortal.' He accomplished this civilization and although he is now in silence, by his triumphs and his deeds, he still lives in memory.

"Three years ago the German government violated the rights of man without any motive or right and sought to conquer France. The United States is now face to face with the same crisis. We are now together in this great world war to defend the rights and justice of man."

LOWDEN SPEAKS.

Gov. Lowden had called attention, in his introduction to French settlement of the Mississippi Valley.

"The first French came to discover the Valley of the Mississippi and founded the first government in that valley," M. Viviani said. "It is here that we see now the demand of our ancestors. As the Governor has said, 'We will take back to France the debt of gratitude we owe them.'

"It is not to France you owe the debt, but you owe it to liberty and equality because our children are now fighting to maintain this equality of man.

"We will take back with us a remembrance of you and when we return to our country, we will be asked what we have heard and seen and we will answer that we have traveled through America and have been acclaimed everywhere on account of France. Not only France will be liberated, but the whole of Europe."

AT DECATUR.

DECATUR (Ill.) May 7.—Decatur's enthusiastic welcome of the French commission today was followed by one of the first misfortunes of the trip when the train killed Peter Quick, aged 47, a spectator, just as it was leaving the city.

M. Viviani made the following statement here:

"This war is not a war of cannon, of munitions, of courage in the fighting line alone; its continuation and final success depends as much on the farmers as on the soldiers and the services rendered by those who cultivate the soil cannot be overestimated.

"Every bushel of wheat, every peck of potatoes counts as much as shells and bullets, and even more.

"In such a war as this all must serve if it is to be brought to a quick and victorious conclusion. The farmer in his field fights the common foe as efficiently as the soldier in the trench.

"In France our children even have been taught to cultivate gardens and every spot of available land."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Wilson was attacked in the Senate today for failure to take Congress into his confidence on matters of legislation and particularly those questions that have come up in relation to the international situation in the last few months.

Both Democrats and Republicans joined in the discussion. It was held behind closed doors and Senators, after it had progressed for some time, were reminded that they are pledged to secrecy.

Indignation arose over the announcement by Majority Leader Martin that the President was extremely anxious that the Senate reconsider its action of last week in modifying a provision of the administration espionage bill relating to embargoes on exports. Senators Lodge, Fall, Reed and others declared that the Senate would never have been put in the position of having to reconsider its action if the President had called in leaders before the bill was sent to the Capitol and explained the need for this legislation.

Criticism was also directed to the fact that no members of the Senate or House were invited to participate in White House functions in honor of the visiting British and French missions, and the attitude of members of the President's Cabinet toward the legislators came in for some vigorous condemnation.

IN THE SENATE.

To give administration leaders opportunity to explain reasons for their insistence on the embargo and newspaper censorship sections of the administration espionage bill, the Senate closed its doors today when it took up that measure.

Senators understood the government had information to show that under present conditions information of military value is getting to the enemy and that the censorship section would stop it. Retention of the embargo section was supported by facts showing that despite all precautions supplies are getting into Germany through neutral countries.

Senator Martin pleaded with the Senate to stand by the President. There might be difficulty, he said, in obtaining facts to support the embargo, and the Senate should be willing to leave the question to the judgment of the President.

Unqualified authority for proclamation of export embargoes by the President was restored to the administration espionage bill by the Senate after Democratic Leader Martin had explained behind closed doors that President Wilson feared he would be unable to accomplish the ends desired under the section as it had been modified.

The provision as it now stands would empower the President during the war, when "the public safety shall so require," to proclaim it unlawful to export articles to "any country named." Last week the Senate voted to authorize embargoes only against countries through which goods were found to be reaching the enemy.

Senator Martin stated when the doors were closed that the President would be embarrassed by the amendment put in last week, and that the Senate should now reverse itself. He said the government has reason to believe that American exports were getting to Germany through Holland and Switzerland. Senator Walsh said that one instance showing the need of a stronger provision was found in the fact that Spain now is limiting exports of certain articles needed by England, which she formerly allowed to go in large amounts. With a strict embargo law in the United States, he suggested the administration might help an ally by restricting exports to Spain.

Senators Lodge, Knox and Fall called attention to the fact that the Senate had no advance information on reasons for enactment of a strict embargo section.

They declared nobody had any idea that the war was a partisan affair, but that the President had not consulted any Republican Senator nor had he told any administration leader until the Senate modified the provision his reason for desiring it passed in stronger terms. It would help, he said, if the President would take into his confidence one or more Democratic leaders on important legislation that they might transmit it to their colleagues.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE.

Senator Williams, a Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee, replied that the President had tried taking Senators into his confidence early in his administration on the Mexican situation, and later on the shipping act, but had found the whole subject of his conferences thoroughly revealed in the newspapers shortly afterward.

Attention also was called during the discussion to the fact that no member of the House or Senate was invited to the White House functions in honor of the British and French missions. Other Senators in a critical mood spoke of the fact that the President had not called into consultation on army questions Senator Chamberlain, the chairman of the Senate Military Committee, and had not thanked Representative Kahn, the Republican member of the House committee, who helped the administration put through the army war bill.

IN THE OPEN.

In the open Senate, after the embargo section had been adopted without a dissenting vote, Senator Townsend, Republican, declared he understood the purpose of the legislation was to coerce neutral nations into the war on the side of the United States. If this were true, he said, this nation has abandoned "the high ideals we have set as a reason for entering this war."

Senator La Follette proposed to modify the section to forbid an embargo where exports are intended for consumption by a neutral country, and any coercion of such neutrals. It was not discussed before the Senate adjourned until tomorrow.

RUSSIA TO SUPPRESS TRENCH FRATERNIZING

PETROGRAD, May 6 (via London, May 7, 6:55 a.m.)—Gen. Gurko, commander on the western front, has issued an order declaring that the fraternizing of Russians with the enemy troops, which has become a common practice, must be stopped.

Gen. Gurko says that three divisions of Germans have been transferred from the Russian to the French front, and that others are following, including artillery and aircraft.

Representatives of the Belgian and Serbian embassies have published an appeal to the Russians, recalling the sufferings of their respective countries and asking the Russians not to leave them to their fate. The Council of Deputies has voted to support the Russian "loan of freedom" by a large majority.

AMERICA REPRESENTED IN PARIS CONFERENCE.

PARIS, May 7, 4:40 p.m.—The United States was represented for the first time in the Entente Allied war conferences by Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, present at the recent council of war here. In connection with the measures discussed by the British and French missions at Washington, the discussions at Paris are likely to be followed by numerous developments in the part the United States will actually take in the war.

Rear-Admiral Sims, it is stated, will direct operations, so far as that is possible, from this side, in order to avoid the delay and uncertainty incident to directing operations from across the Atlantic.

Five nations, upon whom the brunt of the campaign against the Central Powers is falling, were represented at the war council—Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia and the United States. While Great Britain and France were represented by military and naval officers of the highest rank, the participation of the United States was confined to the naval side, only Rear-Admiral Sims and Lieutenant-Commander William R. Sayles, the naval attache, attending. There was no military or diplomatic representative present. This is taken to indicate the advanced stage of the plans for action by the American navy.

defeat of another desperate attempt to throw the British out of the Hindenburg line. It ended in complete failure. In some ways these furious attempts at recovery are more significant than the original British assaults because it is becoming apparent that the shaken, penetrated and disorganized line is beginning to totter with the possible result that another retirement is in view. However, this is subject to the fact that there will not be strongly fortified lines on which to retire on this occasion.

NIVELLE'S BLOW.

In the French sector, the effect of Nivelle's latest blow becomes increasingly threatening. Following upon the capture of the key position of Craonne, his general assault over a front of six miles seems crowned with especial success.

Despite furious German counter-attacks, the French maintained and reorganized the captured positions with the result that they are now masters of the crest stretching nearly nineteen miles along the Chemin des Dames. They have captured 5800 prisoners and altogether their operations of the past two days is the most brilliant episode since the great counter-attack last November.

Both on the British and French fronts the German losses of the past two days probably are the heaviest since the battle of the Marne, and though nobody looks for any decisive results for many days to come, yet there is a feeling that the tide has turned in favor of the Allies and that the present battle probably marks the initiation of the finish.

NEW FACTOR.

An important factor authentically reported today is the growing failure of the German railroad service. Apart from the lines worked to death the past two years, there is apparently a general shortage of axle grease which is disorganizing the entire running of the system and threatening an absolute stoppage in the next few months. The disorganizing of the whole German plan of army organization. There was a raid by a German airplane early this morning over the northeast of London in which a man was killed and a woman injured. However, there is no likelihood of a Zeppelin attack during these moonlight nights. But though the Germans paid dearly for their last Zeppelin raids it is likely that they will later make further attempts to damage the London area.

SAYS RUSSIAN PEACE WOULD BE CALAMITY.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) May 7.—Prof. Alexander Petrunkevitch of Yale, who is the son of the first floor leader of the Russian Duma, said today that it is the duty of every American to do all in his power to bring about the fall of Prussian militarism. He is fearful lest the Socialists of Russia may force that country into a separate peace with Germany.

"They think that the offer of no annexation and no indemnity would be an effective one," he said. "I think," said Prof. Petrunkevitch, "that this way of thinking is likely to start trouble for the government as soon as it dissents from their views. There will be no German republic or anything of the kind. The Teutons are not ripe for any such government as yet. If Russia does conclude a separate peace it will be a world calamity. Russia, at the present moment, is like a volcano. It may go this way, it may go that way; it may blow up or it may do nothing."

STUDENT AVIATOR KILLED BY LONG FALL.

HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.) May 7.—Two student aviators who had never piloted an airplane before, and who were said to have begun a flight without permission at the government aviation school at Mineola today, were killed after a fall of 1000 feet. They were Ranson Merrit, 23 years old, of Lockport, N. Y., formerly a Cornelli student, and Anthony Silleno of Roosevelt, N. Y.

The airmen had been assigned only to try out a self-starting device. They were observed climbing into the biplane they were using, but it was not thought they planned to attempt a flight. Their machine suddenly began climbing at a steep angle, and rose to a height of 2500 feet, where cross currents caught it and it began a descent, reaching the 1000-foot level before it collapsed.

The skulls of both occupants were fractured and the machine, worth $12,000, was destroyed.

AMERICAN EXPEDITION IS GOING TO FRANCE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Nine new regiments of army engineers, to be composed exclusively of highly trained railway men, will be the first American troops sent to France. They will go "at the earliest possible moment," the War Department announced today, for work on communication lines, but speculation as to the exact time, when or to what points they will be sent is forbidden because of the submarine menace.

The new forces will be volunteers, raised at the nine great railway centers of the country. Each regiment will be commanded by an engineer colonel of the regular army, aided by an adjutant. All other officers will be railway engineers or officials.

The expedition will have a total strength of between 11,000 and 12,000 men, each regiment being composed of two battalions of three companies each. Every branch of railway workers necessary to the building or operation of lines will be represented, and the War Department expects a response to the call that will insure a force already trained to the minute, an army of experts in railway operation.

The department's statement follows:

STATEMENT.

"The War Department has sent out orders for the raising as rapidly as possible of nine additional regiments of engineers which are destined to proceed to France at the earliest possible moment for work on lines of communication. It is requested of the press that no speculation or rumors regarding the force be carried other than that given out. All details regarding the force will be given out as fast as compatible with the best public interests."

RECRUITING.

Recruiting will be directly under the colonel of each regiment. Recruiting machinery of the regular service or the National Guard will be placed at their service and it is hoped the enrollment of the troops will take little time. The recruiting points will be New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Atlanta, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Officials believe the great railroad brotherhoods will co-operate, throwing the strength of the unions behind the recruiting efforts. The railway companies already are so organized under the Council of National Defense that their co-operation is assured. The engineers and officials of the lines who offer themselves will be selected in such manner as not to cripple the operating forces of any company.

The decision to send the engineers is understood to have grown out of conferences here between government officials and members of the French and British war missions.

One of the great problems of the war has been that of maintaining adequate supply lines, and the railroads are the vital element of the system that feeds men, shells and food toward the fighting front from channel ports and from France.

SPECTACULAR.

Engineering feats of spectacular nature have been accomplished in perfecting these communication lines. A whole British railroad was picked up bodily, rolling stock, rails, roadbed and all, and taken to France. American engineers had much to do with that. They also have, under contract with the British and French governments, built spurs and branches, mapped out schemes of operation that are in operation.

DANES PROTESTED WAR-BOUND SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—It was revealed in the House today that an unpublished provision in the agreement with Denmark by which the Danish West Indies were acquired by the United States was that German or other war-bound ships in the islands would not be seized or confiscated.

The disclosure was made by Chairman Alexander of the commerce committee presenting the administration bill to confer Congressional sanction upon the President for seizure and operation of enemy war-bound ships in American ports. When Republican Leader Mann asked for more information Chairman Webb of the Judiciary Committee warned the House that it was not a subject to be discussed publicly.

Mr. Alexander then explained the purposes of the bill, which he said was to give the President full power to take title to the ships except in the Virgin Islands, and to provide for their operation or lease by the government.

ANGELENOS OFFER ARMY CAMP SITE.

OSBORNE HELPS VISITORS TO COMPLETE WORK.

Formal Tender of Baldwin Ranch Made by Committee in Washington—Request for Submarine Base not Favored at Present.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 7.—Congressman Henry Z. Osborne today visited the Navy Department with Dr. George F. Bovard, president of the University of Southern California; Edward F. Trefz, associate secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Clarence H. Matson, secretary of the Harbor Commission, and asked Secretary Daniels to recommend acceptance of the site at the shore end of the breakwater at Los Angeles Harbor as a submarine and hydroplane base, in accordance with the recommendations of the Helm Naval Commission and also to recommend a bill, establishing a submarine base this session. Secretary Daniels stated he would not recommend to the extra session of Congress any project excepting those he considered emergency war measures and that he did not so consider any of the Helm recommendations. Nothing would be done on any Helm commission projects before the regular session of Congress in December. Congressman Osborne and the same gentlemen also called on the Secretary of War and Adjt.-Gen. McCain and offered the Baldwin ranch site for the purposes of a concentration camp during the collection of the army of defense. Without final decision, the proffer was received with a considerable show of interest and approval. Congressman Osborne has secured the insertion in the new rivers and harbors bill of all Los Angeles Harbor items that were in the former bill, which includes $25,000 for maintenance, $50,000 for widening and straightening the entrance to the harbor and a provision for a survey of the west basin and its channel.

INTERNED VESSELS WIN DAMAGE SUITS.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—New York banks today lost their litigation in the Supreme Court against the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie at Boston, in which they claimed $2,240,000 damages for failure of the vessel to deliver gold bullion worth $11,000,000 shipped to England and France just at the outbreak of the war.

The Cecilie, the Supreme Court decided, is not liable in damages to the shippers for turning back to America in mid-ocean and abandoning her voyage. The decision determines large similar claims against a score of other German vessels in American ports. Justice Holmes delivered the decision. Justices Pitney and Clark dissented.

APPEALS TO WILSON TO OPEN OIL FIELDS.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Dr. Ray L. Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, appealed to President Wilson today to relieve an oil shortage in California, caused, he said, by the closing of wells during the controversy over control of the naval fuel reserve.

Speaking for the California State Council of National Defense, Dr. Wilbur said he was not taking a position in the controversy over the wells, but was seeking only relief for the State in a situation which threatens to grow more desperate as the war goes on. A nonpartisan commission appointed by Gov. Stephens will supply the President with further information. His attitude on the subject was not disclosed today.

ESTATE RECEIVERS DISCHARGED BY COURT

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—Today the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court reversed the Fayette county court which some time ago appointed receivers for Josiah V. Thompson, and the case stands the same as prior to the receivership proceedings.

Three receivers were appointed on January 19, 1915, to handle Thompson's affairs. It was said that Thompson's estate, which includes valuable coal lands, is valued at $70,000,000, and that his indebtedness at the time the receivers were appointed amounted to about $22,000,000.

FORMER SLAVES LOSE SUIT FOR WAGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Today the Supreme Court dismissed the celebrated suit brought by former negro slaves and their heirs to collect $68,072,333 from the government for labor upon crops in the South from 1857 to 1865. The money was collected as internal revenue taxes on cotton. The claim was made that the money was due them for work performed while in a state of involuntary servitude.

FAIL TO AGREE ON ARMY BILL.

Conferees Still Divided on Roosevelt Volunteers.

Conscription Ages Also a Point of Contention.

Further Session Today may End the Differences.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Conferees on the war army bill in a four-hour discussion today failed to reconcile the differences between the bill as it passed the two houses, and adjourned until tomorrow. A decided difference of opinion arose over the Senate amendment which would permit Col. Roosevelt to take an expeditionary force to France, and unless it is smoothed out the bill may have to go back to the two houses for further action.

Other points of difference included the prohibition amendment inserted by the Senate and the age limit of men subject to the selective draft. The Senate bill fixes the limits between 21 and 37, and the House between 21 and 40.

Although there was talk tonight of a compromise by which the Senate would get the Roosevelt volunteer amendment and the House the age limits as fixed in its bill, it was said there was nothing tangible in today's conference to make this appear more than a possibility.

House conferees who were among the leading advocates of the volunteer system as against the selective draft when the bill passed the House have insisted in conference that, the House having turned down the volunteer provision, they cannot now support it in conference by accepting the Roosevelt aamendment.

Discussion is expected to continue for several days at least before the conferees despair of an agreement and take the bill back for further instructions.

FILIPINOS EXPRESS LOYALTY TO AMERICA.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MANILA, May 7.—A great parade of the Filipinos of Manila was held here Saturday as a demonstration and pledge of their allegiance to the United States.

Speeches were delivered, Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Filipino Senate, acting as spokesman for the population and exchanging felicitations on American-Filipino solidarity with Gov.-Gen. Francis Burton Harrison. The more pro-Filipino the administration was the more pro-American were the Filipinos, said Senator Quezon in his address. Gov.-Gen. Harrison, in his response, pointed out that the United States was fighting in the cause of the smaller nations and that only thus would it be able to secure to the Filipinos the blessings of complete liberty and permanent independence.

REAL LOYALTY.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Gov.-Gen. Harrison cabled the War Department today that on Saturday about 15,000 people representing all classes of the Manila community marched in procession to his official residence and gave expression to spontaneous and genuine sentiment of loyalty and devotion to the United States. The Governor-General adds:

"I believe this feeling to be almost universal through the Philippines, as evidenced by resolutions of provincial and municipal boards and great numbers of societies and cities."

WASTE OF BREAD WOULD FEED MANY.

ONE SLICE IN EACH HOME MEANS MILLION LOAVES.

Government Experts Say that the Mere Throwing Away of Stale Bits and Single Pieces if Ended Would Mean a Greatly-reduced Flour Consumption.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) May 4.—A single slice of bread seems an unimportant thing. In many households one or more slices of bread daily are thrown away and not used for human food. Sometimes stale quarter—or half—loaves are thrown out.

Yet one good-sized slice of bread—such as a child likes to cut—weighs an ounce. It contains almost three-quarters of an ounce of flour.

If every one of the country's 20,000,000 homes wastes on the average only one such slice of bread a day, the country is throwing away daily over 14,000,000 ounces of flour—over 875,000 pounds, or enough flour for over 1,000,000 one-pound loaves a day. For a full year at this rate there would be a waste of over 319,000,000 pounds of flour—1,500,000 barrels of flour—enough to make 365,000,000 loaves.

As it takes four and one-half bushels of wheat to make a barrel of ordinary flour, this waste would represent the flour from over 7,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Fourteen and nine-tenths bushels of wheat on the average are raised per acre. It would take the fruit of some 470,000 acres just to provide a single slice of bread to be wasted daily in every home.

To produce this much flour calls for an army of farmers, railway men, flour-mill people. To get the flour to the consumer calls for many freight cars and the use of many tons of coal.

But, some one says, a full slice of bread is not wasted in every home. Very well—make it a daily slice for every four or every ten or every thirty homes—make it a weekly or monthly slice in every home—or make the wasted slice thinner. The waste of flour involved is still appalling—altogether too great to be tolerated when wheat is scarce.

Any waste of bread is inexcusable when there are so many ways of using stale bread to cook delicious dishes.

The United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or your State agricultural college will tell you how to use stale bread in many ways.

THE WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

All the Middle West Clear, Dry and Slightly Warmer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 7.—Practically all the Middle West was clear, dry and slightly warmer today. Three of the Eastern States reported rain, with no appreciable change in temperature, which is unseasonably low. Heavy rains fell in the South, which continues cold. General snow over Northern and Western Texas is worth millions to the crops. The maximum temperature in Chicago was 54 deg., minimum 40 deg. Ohio and Indiana had light rains.

"WIN THE WAR" PARTY CARRIES AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE (Australia) May 8.—Latest election figures show that the victory of the Nationalists is merely a matter of the size of the majority they will have in the Senate and the House, and that the "win the war" policy is assured. The labor party was partly defeated even in Queensland, which was not expected.

The Queensland labor government's referendum to abolish the upper house of the State Parliament was overwhelmingly defeated.

NO OPEN SEASON FOR ARMY BALLOONS.

OMAHA (Neb.) May 7.—Capt. H. J. B. McElgin of the balloon corps at Fort Omaha has issued an appeal to farmers and others throughout this territory to refrain from shooting at passing balloons. He also called attention to the fact that such acts subject the perpetrators to severe penalties if they are detected.

Many balloons are being sent up from Fort Omaha every day for the purpose of training recruits in the air in making observations, drawing maps and the like, and shooting at them as they pass over has been a sport altogether too popular, Capt. McElgin says.

FRATERNAL SUIT SETTLED.

Litigation Over Control of Woodmens Circle's $6,000,000 Ended.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) May 7.—Litigation over the control of $6,000,000 owned by the Woodmen Circle, and directorship of the policy of that order was ended late today when the State Supreme Court approved a stipulation signed by the litigants, headed by Mrs. Emma B. Manchester, the Supreme Guardian, and Mrs. Mary E. La Rocca, the claimant to that office.

Under the agreement the Memphis convention, held early in the spring, and at which rival meetings were held, resulting in the election by one faction of Mrs. La Rocca to succeed Mrs. Manchester as Supreme Guardian, is to be ignored. Attorneys' fees totaling $39,000 are to be paid from the funds of the society, and contempt proceedings against Mrs. La Rocca, who attempted to seize the office from Mrs. Manchester, are to be dismissed.

It was likewise agreed that both factions shall await action by the next convention to be held in Atlanta within sixty days, before further changes in the laws of the society are attempted. This means that Mrs. Manchester will serve unmolested the balance of her term of office, two years.

Headquarters of the order are in Omaha.

ONLY FEW BELGIANS TO BE SENT HOME.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN (via London) May 7, 8:59 p.m.—It is officially pointed out by German newspapers received here that the recent order of Emperor William concerning the deportation of Belgians did not contemplate the revocation of the measure of the return of all the persons deported, but only of those who were able to prove absolutely that they had been unjustly classified as unemployed.

All other persons, says the newspapers, who are capable of working, will be detained in Germany.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin March 18 said that prominent Belgians had appealed to Emperor William to check the compulsory transportation of Belgian workmen to Germany, and to send home Belgians who thus had been transported. The signers of the petition, the dispatch added, had been informed that the Emperor had decided to submit their proposals to a thorough investigation by the Governor-General in Belgium and had reserved his decision. In the meantime, however, it was said, that the Emperor had ordered that persons erroneously designed as unemployed and who had been transported to Germany, should be permitted to return to Belgium and that the compulsory transportation of unemployed Belgians to Germany would be suspended.

MENOCAL FORMALLY NAMED PRESIDENT.

HAVANA, May 7.—The Cuban Congress in joint session this afternoon proclaimed Gen. Mario G. Menocal, re-elected President of the republic for another four-year term, with Gen. Emilio Nunez as Vice-President.

Of the 122 electoral votes cast, President Menocal received eighty-six; Alfredo Zayas, Liberal candidate, thirty-six. The Conservatives carried four of the six provinces.

The Liberals presented a protest against the bye-elections held in Santa Clara and Oriente provinces, but it was voted down. Gens. Menocal and Nunez were then declared elected, while Conservatives and Liberals alike arose and were joined in applause by the spectators.

DENIES COACHING.

Woman Who is Suing Because of an Injury Caused by a Hearse She Says was Speeding, States Attorney Did Not Tell Her How to Testify.

An unexpected turn was taken yesterday during the trial of the damage suit of Miss Dorothy Waring against Pierce Bros., before a jury in Judge Myers's court. Miss Waring alleged she was struck and injured by the Pierce dead wagon and that the hearse, on the way to the cemetery, was being negligently driven and at high speed.

The undertaking firm, through Attorney Morrow, denies negligence and is seeking to show that Miss Waring contributed to her own injuries. Attorney Morrow sought to show that Miss Waring, when her deposition was taken, had denied she had a defective eye. Later the deposition was changed to cover this alleged misstatement. An effort was also made to show that her attorney, Cleveland Schultz, had instructed her what to say if the matter of her deposition was brought up. Miss Waring denied Mr. Schultz had so instructed her.

ADMITS GUILT.

Ralph Arnold, charged with having robbed Mrs. C. E. Sebastian, wife of the former Mayor, confessed his guilt to Deputy District Attorney Becker yesterday. A complete report of the crime was taken down and Arnold was taken to the County Jail to await his preliminary examination. He was unable to furnish bail when arraigned in Justice Hamby's court.

HAMBURG EXPECTS AIRPLANE ATTACK.

COPENHAGEN (via London, May 7, 7:45 p.m.)—Hamburg expects airplane visitations during the coming summer and the commanding general there has issued instructions for the conduct of the population in case of attack along lines which have long prevailed at Metz and other exposed points. The danger heretofore has not been considered pressing with respect to Hamburg, although the steamer Imperator was, early in the war, for its better protection, covered with a vast roof painted to represent fields of water.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS TO REACH BRITISH LINE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 7, 10:47 p.m.—The official report from British headquarters in France reads:

"In the afternoon the enemy launched his third counter-attack with considerable force upon our new positions south of the Souchez River. The first wave of assault to reach the slope in front of our trenches was there destroyed by our rifle and machine gun fire. The supporting waves caught by our artillery barrage were broken up. No German reached our trenches.

"This morning a strong body of the enemy was caught in the open near Bullecourt by our artillery and machine gun fire, suffering heavy casualties.

"Successful work was done by our airplanes yesterday in spite of a strong wind. Six German airplanes were brought down, one of which fell within our lines. One other enemy machine was driven down out of control. Three of our machines are missing."

RUSSIAN ARTILLERY REPULSES NEW ATTACK.

PETROGRAD (via London, May 7, 10:07 p.m.)—"In the region of the village of Potchni, on the Beresina River (western front,) our artillery dispersed an enemy attempt to approach our trenches," says the official Russian statement tonight.

"In the direction of Vladimir-Volynski, south of Zublino, after an intense fire with grenades and bombs, an enemy company left their trenches and began to attack our trenches with hand grenades. Our artillery drove them back to their trenches.

"On the Kabarovice-Zboroff front the enemy carried out an intense bombardment.

"On the Rumanian front enemy attempts to attack our positions south and southwest of Cona were repulsed by our barrages. On the remainder of this front there were scouting affairs.

"Caucasian front: Our fire repulsed a small Turkish attack northeast of Kighi and another attack in the region of Achagi Sourin, northwest of Ognott. Our artillery brought down a German airplane in the neighborhood of Gourgoumoura. Two officers were made prisoner. A squadron of German airplanes dropped bombs on Seletina, Meldava and Kimpolung."

LIQUOR AND ESTATES TO PAY MORE TAXES.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—In an extended session today the House Ways and Means Committee wrote new and drastic liquor and inheritance taxes into the war revenue bill, but adjourned tonight still in disagreement over many sections and about $200,000,000 short of the $1,500,000,000 it has voted to raise. The leaders hope to complete the measure tomorrow and a proposed retroactive income tax amendment, which would yield $140,0000,000 during the coming year and other far-reaching proposals are held in abeyance to be inserted at the eleventh hour, if necessary to make up the desired total.

Several members of the House, including at least one member of the Finance Committee, already are planning to carry their fight for changes in the bill to the Senate Finance Committee as soon as hearings on the Senate side begin, probably this week.

Proposed taxes on whisky were increased by the committee from $1.10 to $2.20 a gallon and on beer from $1.50 to $2.75 a barrel. The amount of exempt liquor in a dealer's possession at the time the law becomes effective was reduced from an unlimited quantity to fifty gallons. These changes, it is predicted, will result in almost $50,000 additional revenue.

BREWERS HEARD.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Headed by Gustave Pabst, a delegation representing the brewers of the United States was heard today by the Senate Agricultural Committee on Senator Gronna's bill to forbid the manufacture of grain into alcoholic liquors during the war.

The delegation told the committee that the brewing interests were ready to co-operate with the government in any way and did not ask consideration from any standpoint other than that of fair dealing and public policy.

The actual amount of grain used in brewing, principally barley, they told the committee, represents less than three-quarters of 1 per cent. of all the grain produced in the United States.

From these figures the brewers urged that the brewing industry was too small a factor to be considered in food conservation.

"Inheritance tax rates were greatly increased over strong protests from Republican members. It was agreed tentatively to increase all such taxes one-third, beginning at the present exemption of $50,000, and to impose the following graduated taxes for large fortunes:

Above $8,000,000 and below $11,000,000, 22 per cent.; above $11,000,000 and below $17,000,000, 25 per cent., and above $15,000,000, 30 per cent.

As reported today in a revised bill the corporation tax was fixed at 5 per cent. and the excess profits tax at 14. Opponents of the increased corporation taxes immediately denounced the changes and upon an explanation of Chairman Kitchin that they were due to a misunderstanding, the old figures of 4 per cent. on corporations and 10 per cent. upon excess profits were restored.

New taxes written into the bill today include 5 per cent. on all advertising except newspapers and periodicals; 5 per cent. on pipe line transportation charges; on proprietary medicines a stamp tax expected to produce $6,500,000; 10 per cent. on the purchase price of Pullman car tickets; 5 per cent. on sporting goods; 5 per cent. on the factory price of new jewelry; 10 cents a deck on playing cards, and in addition to other amusement taxes, a 1 cent tax on every theater ticket sold to a child under 12 years old.

The proposed tax on retail tobacco dealers was stricken out. Attempts to fix a tax on automobiles, motor boats and pleasure yachts already in the hands of users failed.

Efforts still are being made to kill the proposed increased zone rates for second-class mail matter. Opponents of the change today succeeded in adding a provision "that the rate of postage on daily newspapers when the same are dropped in a letter carrier office for delivery by its carriers shall be the same as now provided by law."

A vote on Representative Moore's proposal to tax cotton $2.50 a bale will not be reached until tomorrow. A proposal to tax gasoline will be voted on at the same time.

REGISTRATION BOARD NAMED.

Governor Appoints Citizens to Supervise Lists.

Will Work to Harmonize the Smaller Units.

Will Also Help Counties to Prepare Rolls.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 7.—Gov. William D. Stephens announced today the appointment of Ralph Merritt, comptroller of the University of California, as head of the Bureau of Registration for the purpose of carrying the army conscription law into effect in California. The bureau will consist of several members serving without pay and will have headquarters at the Capitol. It will work in conjunction with the State Council of Defense.

The work of carrying into effect the national conscription act, that of drafting into the service of the army and navy the men of California will begin immediately. Details of the organization and the plans for the co-operation of Sheriffs and other county and municipal authorities will be announced later by the bureau.

Merritt has secured a leave of absence for three months from the university to take charge of this work.

Mr. Merritt this afternoon gave out the following statement concerning the bureau:

"The Governor organized today the State Bureau of Registration in conjunction with the State Council of Defense. Under instructions from Washington, the Governor is to have control of all matters within the State in connection with registration under the terms of the act creating the selective draft system. The Bureau of Registration is to be composed of five members, the Governor and the Adjutant-General, both ex-officio, and three citizens appointed by the Governor. No member of the bureau is to receive compensation.

"The purpose of the bureau is first: To act as a clearing-house for information and instructions to the county councils of defense, who are to be charged with the responsibility of carrying out the terms of the act; second, to co-ordinate the plans devised by the county council, and third, to assist the Governor in keeping general oversight of the work of registration through the State.

"California, through its county councils, is splendidly equipped to undertake the work of selective conscription, which, when the call comes, must be done with speed, accuracy and justice."

KILLS RIVAL WITH CLUB.

Mexican Angered by Jealousy Seeks Primeval Revenge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, May 7.—Roman B. Romero, aged 28, was killed at Chandler today by a blow on the head from a club in the hands of A. Martinez, who has been captured. The cause was jealousy. Martinez was found visiting in the home of a Mexican girl claimed by Romero at his sweetheart.

Ong Kee, who killed Gin Yeang last Tuesday night in a tong war, has been captured at Peoria as he dashed from hiding in a barley field to catch a Los Angeles train. It is told that he was one of a number of Chinese who drew lots for the deed. Identification was made from darkness by concealed Chinese, after the murderer had been placed in a window of the Sheriff's office in the spotlight of an automobile.

POLICEMEN CONVICTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Rollie V. York and Edward Kerr, former Oakland policemen, convicted March 24, 1916, of counterfeiting, will have to serve two years in the Federal prison at McNeil Island, as a result of a decision of the United States Court of Appeal today, which upheld the verdict of the lower court. Both men were arrested in eastern States and returned to California for trial. Their counterfeit $5 gold pieces were so successfully executed that secret service operatives sought the men for years before discovery.

DECLARES ENGLAND'S SALVATION IS SHIPS.

LONDON, May 8.—Archibald S. Hurd, the well-known writer on naval subjects, in an article to which the Daily Telegraph gives prominence, earnestly reiterates his plans for energetic shipbuilding to meet the losses caused by the submarine war, he appeals strongly for American help, in addition to the efforts which he declares to be essential here. Mr. Hurd says that something like an impasse seems to have developed ashore while the balance against the Allies shipping is daily increasing.

"Greater efforts on our part must be undertaken without delay," he says. "It is folly to hope that the Admiralty will discover a complete antidote. Our salvation lies in ships."

The writer declares that the construction now is at the rate of a million tons a year but that if the country is not to be driven into a corner the output must be trebled and three million tons completed within the next twelve months. The organization for this exists, he adds, but it is waiting for men and material.

"It would make all the difference if some of America's millions of skilled and semi-skilled workers could be shipped over here and others employed in America upon shipbuilding to the limit of the existing plant," he continues.

"It would also be invaluable," says Mr. Hurd, "if by economies in non-essential manufactures America could send an additional million tons of steel to this country in the next six months."

GERMANS NEAR WAR PLANTS MUST REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Germans who live within a radius of one-half mile of military reservations, powder plants and factories engaged in government work, must present themselves at once to United States Marshal J. B. Holahan for registration, according to orders received today by United States District Attorney John W. Preston for the Northern District of California. The territory involved in the instructions includes all of California north of Stanislaus county to the Oregon border. No formal notices will be sent to the alien residents in the proscribed areas, but they will be expected to report to the proper authorities after reading or being informed of the orders which were to be widely published in the newspapers. Thousands of aliens will be affected, it was said.

On their appearance before the authorities, the aliens will be required to submit a photograph and take an oath that they will not commit acts hostile to the government. Applications to remain within the restricted areas will be considered by Dist.-Atty. Preston, who is given full authority to grant such permission when the applicant is properly vouched for by citizens, or to reject the applications in the interest of public safety. Violation of the oaths will mean internment, the Federal officials said.

TWENTY-TWO I.W.W. MEMBERS RELEASED.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 7.—Murder charges against twenty-two of the seventy-two Industrial Workers of the World, held by Snohomish county in connection with the battle at the Everett city dock on November 5, 1916, were dismissed by Superior Judge J. E. Ronald today, on motion of Lloyd Black, Snohomish county prosecuting attorney. Black explained that there was insufficient evidence to obtain convictions.

The men freed today were: Harston Peters, Harold Miller, Harry Feinberg, Ben Legg, E. J. Shapero, Charles Black, Mike J. Riely, C. Stevens, John D. Bowdoin, Jack Patterson, John Ross, John Nugent, Victor Johnson, Charles Berg, A. B. Winborne, Oscar Johnson, H. T. Cheatham, William Davis, George Murphy, C. D. McLennan, Charles H. Cody and Charles Austin. Ten were dismissed at the morning session and twelve at the afternoon session of court.

Prosecutor Black, who left for Everett this afternoon, declared that he would inquire carefully into the cases of the remaining fifty and that the cases would be dismissed where there seems little chance of conviction.

TO PICK GUARDSMEN FOR COMMISSIONS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Enlisted men of National Guard organizations who have taken the oath for Federal service are to be selected for training in the Officers' Reserve Corps, it was announced today by the Western Department of the United States Army. Under the ruling of the War Department, the regimental commanders of the National Guard in nine Western States may designate the quotas for immediate training. The States affected and the number of men to be selected are as follows:

California, 146; Washington, 56; Oregon, 54; Idaho, 25; Montana, 27; Utah, 20; New Mexico, 27; Arizona, 25.

Preference is to be given the enlisted men of the National Guard, it was said, over civilians in the event that there is an over-abundance of applicants from civil life.

GERMAN ARRESTED ON FEDERAL CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Charles Latendorff, former private secretary to Lieut. Wilhelm von Brincken, who was convicted recently of violating American neutrality, was arrested today on an order from Washington, marked "urgent." In his possession were found, according to Federal officers, maps of California, blueprints of various vessels in California ports and other documents, the nature of which was not made known.

Latendorff will be taken, it was said, to Fort Winfield Scott.

TRAINING CAMP LIST AWAITS FINAL ORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Although a list of 1904 candidates accepted for training for commissions in the new army had been prepared at army headquarters here today, publication was withheld pending decision by the War Department as to how many militia candidates are to be allowed to attend. The fixed limit for attendance at the camp is 2500. Provision had been made for ninety-seven militiamen, but the War Department today requested that this number be increased to 393. If this is done, it is said that at least 100 of those now accepted will have to be withdrawn from the first camp. Lieut.-Col. W. F. Cox, it is understood, had asked that the list as now prepared be allowed to stand.

ENGLISH OFFICIAL AND WIFE DROWNED.

BALTIMORE, May 7.—Mrs. Julia B. Swindell today received a cable from the English Secretary for Colonial Affairs telling of the death at sea of Mrs. Swindell's daughter and her husband—the Hon. and Mrs. Eardley B. Reece.

No details were given except that the death occurred off the Gold Coast, of which Mr. Reece was acting Governor. The cable did not state whether their ship, the Aprapa, was a victim of a storm, a mine or a submarine.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Thirty-seven electric lines in the California Electric Association lost $2,000,000 in revenues last year by reason of competing jitney busses and automobiles, according to a report of the association who met today.

It was estimated that 80,000 automobiles carried 50,000,000 passengers. The association's report that the private cars cost the Railroads of this city $1... Los Angeles street railways, the Pasadena Traction Co... the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Interurban, $200...

Direct competition with jitneys cost the electric railways larger sums. In San Francisco the association officials declared the United Railroads lost $7,000,000 last year through this competition; the Los Angeles Street Railway suffered to the extent of $1,000,000 through the operation of jitneys. The Pacific Electric system, operating in Southern California, is losing up for the losses in passenger service, however, by increasing the steam railroads' business in freight.

The twenty-seven roads in 1916 approximately ... Their average earnings for three years of 1914, 1915 and 1916 were $33,894,000.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 7.—Seventy-one Russian exiles who have been living in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, departed today by train for San Francisco, whence they will sail for Russia by eastern route to their homeland. They waved red flags and sang revolutionary songs at the station. The party are professional men and skilled laborers who are going into the service of the Russian government. Within the next 1700 additional Russians are expected to pass through Seattle on their homeward bound.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BERKELEY (Cal.) May 7.—An appeal to grape growers to dust their vines with sulphur as a means of preventing an epidemic from mildew was issued by the agricultural department of the University of California. University experts pointed out that as a result of mildew thousands of tons of grapes were destroyed in 1916 when a little precaution and small expense would have saved a large proportion of the crop.

The instructions for the viticultural districts state that dusting should be begun when the vines are 6 inches high, repeated in from ten to fifteen days, and that the third application be made just before the blossoms come into bearing. It was declared that the sulphur should be of extremely fine powder and that the dusting would not exceed $5 per acre.

Good Advice.
UNCLE SAM ON CANNING
Strawberry Season Brings Ideas on Preserves.
Standard Receipts Given for Best Results.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Special to The Times.—Specific commercial handling and proper grading of fruits in the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, have worked out the following accurate directions (which may be applied also to household conditions) for preserving strawberries so that ... fresh strawberry syrup of the proper consistency can be made in advance. When the proper amount of sirup the berries are packed attractively without crushing, and no sirup will be left over, which in many cases means an important saving in sugar.

Fruit Jars.—While the berries and sirup are cooking place the fruit jars and caps in tepid water, clean jars and caps in tepid water and bring to a boil, and allow them to boil for at least fifteen minutes.

Remove the jars from the water only as they are to be filled. Put the caps only when they are ready to be used on the jars. Simply draw the rubber rings and caps; do not wipe them dry. The use of the inexpensive jar lifter is recommended as convenient in handling the jars.

Sterilizing Rubber Rings.—Do not sterilize rubber rings for any length of time, but before placing them on the jars dip the rings for a moment in a pint or quart of boiling water into which has been added one teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES.
Recipe No. 1.—Add thirty-five ounces of sugar to one-half pint of water and bring to a boil and skim.

Preserving.—To this amount of sirup add exactly 2½ pounds of hulled and capped and stemmed strawberries. Boil the fruit until it reaches 223 deg. F., on a candy or jelly thermometer. If no thermometer is available, boil until the sirup is very heavy—about the thickness of molasses. Remove scum from preserves.

Jarring.—Fill the sterilized jars with the hot berries. Pour in enough hot sirup to fill the jar, leaving a little air space as possible. Put on sterilized rings and caps on and do not fasten tightly.

Cooling.—Packed in pail—Stand sealed jars in tepid water up to the necks if possible. Bring the water to a boil. Let pint jars remain in the water at least fifteen minutes, and quart jars at least twenty minutes, then close caps tightly.

Packed in Crate.—At the conclusion of the cooling period stand each jar for a moment on the cap to make sure that the seal is absolutely tight.

RECIPE NO. 2.

Take two pounds of washed, capped and hulled strawberries add twenty-four ounces of sugar, let stand over night. In the morning pour juice thus obtained into a preserving kettle, add one cup of water and cook to 212 deg. F. Add the strawberries and cook to 212 deg. F. until the sirup is very heavy. Fill jars and sterilize as in recipe No. 1.

THE THERMOMETER.

The preserving specialists advise those who are going to put up any quantity of preserves to purchase a candy thermometer which gives readings by degrees Fahrenheit for the range from 212 degrees up. Cook fruit with such a thermometer, and you can be certain of perfect results. The sirup will not reach 223 deg. F. until it is cooked down enough and is of the best preserving consistency. The reason for this is that the sirup will not reach this temperature until the proper amount of water has been driven off by boiling. Such a thermometer is also very useful in all forms of preserving, in candy making, and in other cooking processes where results depend upon correct heating.

BOYSENBERRY PRESERVES.
Make a sirup of one quart of water and two pounds of sugar and boil in an open kettle until a candy thermometer registers 265 deg. when dipped in the sirup. Add eight pounds of berries to the sirup. Cook for just at the boiling point, about ten minutes, when the thermometer registers 212 deg. and pour into pans to cool. Hasten cooling by pouring sirup over berries while cooling. Pill into cans when cold and allowed to stand in position, not tight (cans for four days. Put rubber rings in enamalade tin cans.) Sterilize in a hot-water bath outfit, sterilizing for twenty minutes; if using a canning outfit, or a five-pound capacity steam outfit, or a pressure-cooker outfit, sterilize fifteen minutes. Remove jars. Tighten covers. Set aside to cool and test the joints. Label jars with paper to prevent fading and store.

Committee Outlines Future Programme for Ships.

English Leaders are Guests of Cabinet Members.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Naval co-operation between the United States and the Allies against Germany is being negotiated largely in London, it was learned today, instead of here at Washington, as is the case with military and other subjects. Rear-Admiral Sims, who was on his way to England when war was declared, and who has just attended the allied naval conference at Paris, is charged to speak for the American government on the major questions of the policy. Apart from the original announcement that the United States will patrol American waters and thus relieve the allied vessels on duty here for two and a half years, no statement of naval policy is expected. Whether American vessels will help in an offensive campaign probably will become known only through announcement of some decisive action, if there is one.

Admiral De Chair, head of the naval contingent with the British war mission here, spent most of today at the Navy Department, continuing conferences with bureau chiefs, principally about submarines.

British and American officers, divided into eight subcommittees, reached details today in their effort to harmonize the confusing operations as to how America's aid may be made effective against Germany.

Foreign Secretary Balfour was officially received by the Supreme Court this morning. In the afternoon Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with the British labor leaders who have come to this country on his invitation, called on Mr. Balfour. It was stated that the discussion was purely confidential.

Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department tonight entertained the British labor leaders at dinner and discussed with them the time and place of conferences to be held this week with American labor chiefs. Spokesmen from other allied countries are expected in the near future.

Mr. Balfour had a long conference with the Belgian Minister in the afternoon. It is understood they took up the question of a large American loan to relieve distress in Belgium.

GERMANY SUPPRESSES NEWS OF REVERSE.

COPENHAGEN (via London, May 7, 8:55 p.m.)—The German newspapers, apparently under instructions, entirely ignore the capture of Craonne. The French report of the taking of the village is printed, but is buried in a column of the Entente official bulletins, and in small type.

No mention is made of the loss of Craonne by the war corespondents, who otherwise are industrious in writing long commentaries on the western situation, or by military critics. Capt. Von Salzmann, military critic of the Vossische Zeitung, attempts to warn off his readers from reading the French reports, assuring them that the enemy reports are all lies.

Capt. Von Salzmann, discussing the difficulties of keeping up the supply of ammunition under bombardments by gas bombs, makes the notable discovery that the "sinking of the steamer Lusitania long postponed the use of gas bombs by the Entente Allies and saved the lives of perhaps a hundred thousand German soldiers."

The writer says that under the new Hindenburg method of flying defense, the best soldiers have been concentrated in a corps of elite storming troops, which is used in counter strokes, regardless of the cost. Capt. Von Salzmann says in conclusion that the people should "only give the German gunners cannon and enough munitions and we will see who wins."

HOUSEWIFE IN CELL.

Wagonload of Furniture is Seized as Evidence, Complaint Being that She Removed the Goods Belonging to Landlord When She Vacated.

A wagonload of furniture was labelled as evidence last night following the arrest of Mrs. Leo Heller, a housewife, 30 years old, who was taken to University Police Station by Officers Riggs and Nelson and charged with committing grand larceny.

The complaint states Mrs. Heller moved into a furnished house at No. 1832 South Flower street and that when she vacated many weeks later, a moving van hauled all the furniture to No. 727½ East Twenty-third street.

Late last night Mrs. Heller was still in a cell at University Station waiting for some friend to furnish bail. The officers say she admitted taking the furniture.

Entertainment Committee announces proceeds of entertainments or benefits are devoted wholly to local Red Cross work. Only the money obtained for memberships is divided with Red Cross in Washington.

Thursday evening at Red Cross headquarters will be held opening session of first aid class for men.

Thursday morning the first aid class for women will be instituted at Red Cross headquarters.

Get out your shoestrings and send them to Red Cross headquarters. They are needed. We can't have too many.

Soldiers just simply MUST smoke, and the government will order 500,000 soldiers into service within the next two weeks. Soldier's don't get much in the way of pay—hence the call by the Red Cross for the "makin's."

Every kind of smoking tobacco that can be used in pipe or cigarette is wanted. And a few pipes thrown in won't be rejected.

Gifts of tobacco, cigarette papers and pipes will be received at Red Cross headquarters, and the local chapter will see that the "smokes" find their way into the hands of the soldiers.

Mrs. Mark Rice, No. 1044 West Fifty-third street, will give an entertainment this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Agnes School for Girls. The proceeds will be devoted to the Red Cross.

Goldfish & Sherman, No. 5455 Central avenue, will sell bread on Friday and Saturday, and will devote the proceeds to the interests of the Red Cross.

BRITON SHOWS EVIL OF GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Political control in a democracy is one of the evils that makes government ownership of railways of dubious value, W. M. Acworth of the British commission which recently investigated Canadian roads, today told the joint Congressional committee investigating transportation problems in the United States. He said government ownership was unsuccessful in most countries that tried it.

"It is impossible," said Mr. Acworth, "to obtain satisfactory results on government railways in a democratic state unless the management is cut loose from direct political control. Neither Australia nor any other country with a democratic constitution—perhaps an exception ought to be made of Switzerland—has succeeded in maintaining a permanent severance. In France, Belgium and Italy parliamentary interference has never been abandoned for a moment. The facts show that parliamentary interference has meant running the railways, not for the benefit of the people at large, but to satisfy local and sectional, or even personal, interests. They show further that under parliamentary management it is easier to get money for big schemes of new construction than for inconspicuous day-to-day betterments and improvements which probably would produce much greater public benefit."

Mr. Acworth said some day the people might decide to constitute a branch of government to run the railroads, which would not be subject to popular interference and be independent of parliamentary control. Such a board, he said, might remove many existing objections to government roads.

PRISONERS TELL FRENCH OF HEAVY ENEMY LOSS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 7, 7:36 p.m.—The official communication issued tonight reads:

"The enemy did not renew his attacks north of Moulin de Laffaux or on the Chemin-des-Dames. Violent artillery fighting continued particularly near Hurtebise and the sector Craonne, where our troops consolidated their position on the plateau.

"According to prisoners, four fresh regiments which participated in the fruitless attacks last night on this plateau suffered very heavy losses.

"Northwest of Rheims we carried out an isolated operation which enabled us appreciably to enlarge our positions south of Sapigneul. About 100 prisoners, of whom two were officers, remain in our hands.

"Eastern theater: May 6. There were artillery actions along the whole front. An attack made by the French and Venizelist contingents in the region of Ljumnica (Loumnitza) Serbia, enabled us to occupy enemy advanced elements on a front of five kilometers. A Bulgarian counter-attack was repulsed May 6 by a Venizelist regiment which took some prisoners. In those two actions the Venizelist troops conducted themselves brilliantly."

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates! Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone

I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

Now LUCKY STRIKE the real Burley cigarette

YOU'VE had the real Burley cigarette coming to you for a long time. Last year you rolled billions of Burley cigarettes—because you couldn't buy them ready-made. You certainly do love Burley; 60 million pounds were poured out of those green, blue and red tins last year.

So we had to go back to the old kitchen stove for the right idea. And that old kitchen stove gave us a new principle in cigarette making.

The Burley tobacco—it's toasted

"It's toasted"—that makes you want to try one, quick. And the sooner you do the sooner you'll make a life contract with Lucky Strike, the real Burley cigarette.

FRAUD COMPLAINTS IN INSURANCE CASE.

THREE ALLEGED WRECKERS TO BE ARRESTED.

Conspiracy Charges Made by State Officials Against the Men Said to Have been Chief Promoters of Transfer Now Believed to Have been Illegal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Warrants for the arrest of three more men alleged to have been connected with the wrecking of the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company, a $24,000,000 life insurance corporation, were sworn out tonight by Horace W. Davis, deputy Attorney-General of Pennsylvania. The men named in the warrants are F. A. Wallis of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, who first agreed and then declined to become president of the Pittsburgh company; J. S. Grant and George A. Nichol, Jr., both of New York.

The arrests, it was announced, will be on the charge of conspiracy to defraud. During the day the following men were ordered arrested on the same charge: Clarence F. Birdseye of New York, alleged to have been the chief promoter; Kellogg Birdseye, his son, treasurer of the Pittsburgh Life under the new control; Joseph C. Watson, assistant secretary of the Commercial Trust Company of New York, who is alleged to have certified a check of $120,000 for Birdseye, who had no funds in the bank; Robert P. Moore, president of the Commercial Trust Company; Alfred Leury, William D. McQuesten and George Montgomery.

In a statement tonight Benjamin F. Hadley of New York, secretary and superintendent of agents of the Equitable Life Company of Iowa, declared that W. Howard Nimick, former president, and W. C. McCausland, former vice-president of the Pittsburgh Life, had had knowledge nine days before they turned over the company to the Birdseye interests that "the transaction was a fraudulent one."

OREGON WILL FEED BELGIANS, PROMISE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUGENE (Or.) May 7.—Oregon will take over the feeding of the Belgian province of Brabant, which contains about 2800 dependent children, according to an announcement made today by R. A. Booth, who has consented to serve as a member of the State Committee in connection with the plan. The rations these children are given cost about 3 cents a day, or $1 a month.

"BREAD TRUST" INQUIRY SURE.

Evidence on Price-raising to go to Grand Jury.

Woolwine After Information Regarding Coercion.

Food Dictatorship by City Latest Suggestion.

Grand jury investigation of the alleged "bread trust," charged with having arbitrarily raised the price of bread to 15 cents a loaf, practically was decided upon yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine. The latter had received further reports from his investigators, and had read the testimony of more than fifty witnesses examined by his agents.

Cumulative evidence piled up regarding the supposed agreement between the bakers to force retailers to advance the prices on bread ...ment. It is reported the original ...charges were repeated by many ...others who received warning from ...representatives of the alleged trust.

Mr. Woolwine's investigation has ...been met with offers of aid from ...many independent organizations, including women's clubs, which have unanimously endorsed his action. The prosecutor in a formal statement on the question last night, said: "In the matter of the investigation of the rise in price of bread, it is the earnest desire of the District Attorney that all persons having any knowledge of the facts in relation to this matter, and all dealers and bakers who have been injured in any manner, or who have been threatened with a discontinuing of the sale of flour or bread to them, immediately report all facts within their knowledge to the District Attorney. The matter, no doubt, will be taken before the grand jury, just as soon as the investigation has sufficiently progressed to justify such action."

The alleged action of the bakers is considered a violation of the Cartwright State law. If information against them is returned by the grand jury they will be tried in the Superior Court for a high-grade misdemeanor.

The Commerce League of Los Angeles yesterday filed a request with Mayor Woodman and the City Council for a municipal food dictatorship. The resolution sets forth that the present unwarranted advance in food products are detrimental, especially to the poor, who are forced to deny themselves and particularly their children, some ...ential necessities of life.

So long as the sale of such necessities is maintained for personal gain of individual speculators, so long the danger of high prices will exist and the danger of increasing hunger and want on the part of the poor will increase, according to the ...ers pronouncement.

For these reasons the Mayor and ...Council are asked to pass an ordinance to the effect that the city ...government shall control all food products and sell the same at reasonable prices.

The resolutions were forwarded to the City Attorney for an opinion as to the possible invalidity of such ordinance, if adopted. His report will be presented tomorrow.

CLUBS UNITE FOR COMMUNITY MUSIC.

ORGANIC BODY TO SUPERVISE PROJECT HERE.

Plans Made at Federation Meeting to Systematize Various Efforts Under One General Head, with Music Centers in Various Sections of the City.

Welding of community musical projects into one central organization was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the federation of musical clubs and music sections of federated clubs yesterday at Hamburger's auditorium. Steps were taken to combine the various individual efforts under the general jurisdiction of the newly-formed community music organization, so that the work of developing community music may be carried out systematically. Ninety-one clubs were represented at the federation conference, with Mrs. J. T. Anderson, federation chairman, presiding.

Seward Simons, who has lately returned from a tour of study of community music in the East, was the principal speaker. He declared community music is not to be regarded as an end but the means to an end, especially important in a national crisis, in that it brings the people together, teaching them to work in common.

The word community, he said, has a broader meaning than it is ordinarily given. "It does not refer to the common people, and in dealing with this subject of music for the people, I believe in forgetting the term 'common people.' Community music is for all the people. And it demands not only a reciprocal relationship among all the people, but among the musicians and the people as well. Music is something so free that nobody can get a corner on it."

Mr. Simons told of the magnificent community concert he had witnessed while in the East, in which not only a huge community chorus of 60,000 singers, under the direction of Harry Barnhart, took part singing favorite airs, but also trained choruses of smaller size, as well as an orchestra and soloists. He urged the unselfish co-operation on the part of musicians in furthering the cause of community music.

Luncheon speakers were Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, president of the Park Commission, who gave assurance of the co-operation of the parks in community music work; Ethel Graham Lynda, who spoke on "Musical Programmes in Clubs;" Mrs. William H. Anderson, who spoke on resident composers' programmes, that the federation plans to give in connection with the community music work, and Mrs. E. Longbotham of Sacramento, State chairman of the music federation, who spoke on music in the northern end of the State, detailing the remarkable progress that is being made in the community work.

Following Mr. Simons' speech, Joseph Dupuy, director of the Orpheus Club, lead a chorus of those present in patriotic airs. In introducing Mr. Dupuy, Mr. Simons drew attention to the fact that the musical director had started Harry Barnhart, now the most prominent figure in community music in the country, on his career in this city.

During the afternoon an organ concert was given by Arthur Blakely, and John Buchanan sang a group of Scotch ballads.

A meeting of the federation is to be held Saturday for the purpose of organizing a number of music centers in various parts of the city to direct the community work.

COAST SHIPS EXEMPTED.

Government will not Commandeer Morgan Steamer Line.

Coastal steamships of the Morgan line will not be commandeered by the government, according to a message received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday from Daniel Willard, president of the National Defense Council.

Following a report that these steamers were to be taken over, protests were made by the Los Angeles and San Francisco Chambers of Commerce on the ground that the 460,000 tons of Pacific Coast freight would be forced on the already heavily taxed railroads, causing calamitous congestion.

The message from Mr. Willard said that such a move was not contemplated at this time and that no action involving transportation or affecting the general business of the country would be taken by the council without complete investigation of the consequences.

WHO KNOWS HOW TO DRY FRUITS?

Do you know a good way to dry fruits and vegetables?

If you do, the Chamber of Commerce wants you to tell it and in turn the chamber will have a pamphlet printed giving the best recipes received.

Southern California is one of the few places in the world where fresh fruits and vegetables may be preserved for future use without expensive preparation. Figs, apples, peaches, pears, apricots, tomatoes and dozens of other products may be dried in the sun and kept indefinitely.

There are many people who would like to know the proper process. The knowledge will be useful in the prevention of any food shortage in the future.

Those sending in the best recipes will have the honor of having them printed in the forthcoming pamphlet, with their names attached.

Direct all communications to the Agricultural Committee of the chamber.

VIVISECTION KULTUR.

[Dead Bacilli.]
BY ROSEMONDE WRIGHT.
President California Anti-vivisection Society.

Now that the Prendergast vivisection bill has been suffocated in the Senate and the previous impending decadence of a barbarous measure has been relegated to the oblivion it deserved, we can discuss calmly and gleefully the editorial of Chester Rowell in the Fresno Morning Journal of recent date, entitled "Really Important." In a lengthy diatribe upon the urgent necessity of the bill becoming a law, he launches forth in a series of word pictures sordidly impressionistic and ominously pessimistic.

"The gentleman could see no harm, but everlasting good, in "a few hundred dogs a year" being handed over for the exquisite torture of vivisection, especially when the results would strengthen the war defenses and make impossible the flashings of the distress signals of General Debility.

"The dog pounds are governmental institutions and the provision that they shall furnish material for animal experimentation is a good thing, worthy of governmental recognition and encouragement." So also are county and insane hospitals, prisons and orphanages—because the inmates of these places, which are governmental institutions, are wards of the State, why, they shall furnish material for human experimentation, and the State has a perfectly legitimate right to demand it. That human vivisection is with us is not a vision fugitive but a fact apparent. Prof. H. A. Gehring of the faculty of the Michigan Agricultural College has recently said:

"There are hundreds of prisoners who owe a big debt to mankind and who would make splendid subjects for vivisection. I hope in the near future to interest lawmakers in my plan, and I can see no reason why it should not be adopted."

The experiments of Dr. Udo Wile of the State University of Michigan as detailed in the Journal of Experimental Medicine, February 1, 1916, consisted of experiments upon six insane and paretic patients in the Hospital for Insane at Pontiac.

Mr. Rowell, moved profoundly by the pathos of possible unsanitary camp conditions, believes that the magnificent work of hygiene and sanitation almost wholly devolved upon the passage of the Prendergast vivisection bill.

Permit me to quote from the New York Medical Record in an editorial in 1913: "The greatest reduction of typhoid in the British and American armies began before the vaccines were introduced. The same reduction has occurred where sanitary preventive measures are taken—so it seems fair to credit military sanitation with the recent improvement in the army."

Surgeon-General Gorgas states that in the war with Spain they were handicapped by lack of training and sanitation. A striking instance of the inutility of the anti-typhoid vaccine of Sir Almroth Wright was shown in the recent occurrence at the Peninsula of Gallipoli, where the sanitary system of the besieged Allies gave way, and notwithstanding the complete inoculation of the soldiers there were 27,000 cases of typhoid.

Does the gentleman imagine that he can so subtly impress the citizenry of California with the bland statement that sanitation and hygiene is due to animal experimentation? That proper sewerage and personal cleanliness, pure drinking water and fresh air are the results of vivisection of sentient animals under "surgical anesthesia?"

Mr. Rowell says: "This bill was right; its principle was true; and it was important." And he further says that it has behind it the most impressive array of enlightened authority ever mustered behind a bill in California—all the universities and colleges; the American Association for the Advancement of Science; the scientific bureaus of the State; the State Council of Defense with its array of distinguished names; the Federation of Women's Clubs; distinguished clergymen of all churches; in fact, every representative of organized enlightenment in California."

And where, may I ask—was God?

And where were the 100,000 protests of the common people of the great State of California; and what became of the eternal law: "There are no two sides to the fundamental concepts of morality; there are no two sides to the elemental precepts of humanity."

Permit me to say in the appreciation of the efforts of many thousand clubwomen who opposed officially and personally the vivisection bill, that the State Board of the Federation of Women's Club made no indorsement of the Prendergast vivisection bill, but did approve of Mrs. William Ritter presenting her interpretation before the committee at Sacramento.

The impression given by Mrs. Ritter as to the indorsement of the State Federation was flagrantly misleading and has been bitterly resented by some of the leading clubwomen. The action was in accord with a political-medical contingent in the federation, who have previously dominated public health affairs and rebuffed other humane measures.

In glancing over the recent convention programme of the State federation, I find nearly every subject conceivable, except the protection of the lesser animals, given a place. It is indeed deplorable, and I sincerely hope that the incoming regime may recognize at last that so neglected commandment: "Open the mouth for the dumb."

CHILDREN LOSE FRIEND.

Mrs. C. D. Baker, a Juvenile Agent of the State Control Board, is Called Suddenly in San Francisco During Her Official Duties.

The body of Mrs. Clara D. Baker, one of the three children's agents of the State Board of Control, who died suddenly at the hospital of Dr. Florence Ward in San Francisco, Sunday afternoon, will be brought to this city today for funeral services and interment. Harold A. Baker, only son of the deceased, is accompanying the remains.

Mrs. Baker, who lived at No. 1015 St. Andrews place, this city, left for San Francisco two weeks ago to accomplish her duties as a member of the board. A week later she was taken ill suddenly, and an operation was deemed necessary. She failed to rally and passed away late Sunday afternoon.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Bresee Brothers' chapel.

CONSPIRATORS LOSE.

Two Former Attorneys Must Stand Heavy Fine and Imprisonment for Endeavoring to Obtain Tribute from Woman in Lodging-house Affair.

Charles S. McKelvey and W. H. Stevens, former attorneys, yesterday lost their appeal from the stiff sentence of the United States District Court here in the case growing out of the Jonquil lodging-house disclosures. The United States Circuit Court of Appeal, at San Francisco affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

The two men were found guilty of conspiracy. McKelvey was fined $2500, and Stevens, in addition to the same fine, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. They both appealed on technical grounds.

The couple represented Mrs. Irene Brown-Levy in a divorce suit. The woman declared they endeavored to obtain tribute as a price of silence from some of the male frequenters of the Jonquil house. When they attempted to carry their plans into execution they were arrested.

GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES

An Object Lesson in Tires

TIRES wear out INSIDE—not OUTSIDE. They are burned out by internal frictional heat, rubbed up between the plies of the tire.

Could you thus look into ALL tires, you would find three types:

Cotton fabric, with five to seven swathes;
Thread-web, a five to seven ply base of strings;

It stands to reason that Silvertown tires, trademarked with the RED-DOUBLE-DIAMOND, with but two plies will outlast many-ply tires with their multiplied heat.

You cannot afford to be without their smart appearance, smoother-riding elegance, and their gasoline-saving economy

RENEW FRANCHISE AT SUMMERLAND.

SANTA BARBARA, May 7.—Because of the necessity for aiding the kelp factories at Summerland with wharf facilities the Supervisors today granted the Southern Pacific a wharf franchise against vigorous protest of the Summerland Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations. The company's nineteen-year wharf franchise is about to expire. A renewal was opposed on the ground that the wharf charges were prohibitive. The protest would have prevailed but for the urgency in harvesting kelp for potash to be used in the manufacture of explosives. The interest of the government in this manufacture made the granting of the franchise necessary.

SENTENCED TO WEAR AMERICAN FLAG.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, May 7.—Paul Pena, a Mexican ranch hand, will wear an American flag on the lapel of his coat for the next thirty days. This sentence was imposed on Pena after he had declared in Judge Schuhl's court, where he was taken to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct, that "Mexico will take possession of the United States within a month after war with Germany actually starts."

M. Gonsales, another Mexican, recently from south of the border, is alleged to have made remarks of a gravity sufficient that he be held for interrogation by Federal officers.

TROUBLE MAY UNITE COUPLE.

Athletic Elopement Brings Parents Together.

Unexpected but Pleasant End to Pasadena Runaway.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, May 8.—The reconciliation of Judge and Mrs. Clayton H. Herrington, who have been living apart for some time, may come as an unexpected result of the spectacular elopement of their daughter, Miss Virgene Herrington, and her marriage to J. C. Holmes Saturday in Los Angeles. Judge Herrington hurried to Pasadena from his home in San Francisco Sunday to co-operate with his wife in the crisis.

Friends of the Herringtons said last evening that the mutual concern of the husband and wife over the happiness of their daughter, and their sympathetic team-work during the last few days, has brought about a better understanding of their difficulties. Judge Herrington is still in Pasadena.

The battery charge brought against the bridegroom by Mrs. Herrington was dismissed and he was released from jail yesterday, when a thorough investigation of the situation by the parents of the bride, and Miss Katherine West Nathan and other close friends of the family, indicated beyond doubt that the young woman married Mr. Holmes of her own free will, and that she wanted to go with him.

Before the charge against Mr. Holmes was dismissed Judge and Mrs. Herrington talked with their daughter and her husband, and also visited Rev. J. L. Meyers, the Los Angeles minister who performed the ceremony. The minister declared that there was nothing unusual in the actions of the couple when they called at his study to be married. The young woman, he said, seemed to be perfectly willing.

It became known that the young woman had cut the telephone wires at the Herrington home, No. 1067 North Fair Oaks avenue, so that her mother could not quickly notify the police when her athletic lover came to carry her away. It was because Mrs. Herrington was bruised in her physical efforts to prevent the escape of Mr. Holmes and her daughter that she brought the battery charge against her son-in-law.

After the release of the groom yesterday he and the bride left on their delayed honeymoon. They did not take friends into their confidence as to the destination. While the bride's parents have become reconciled to the marriage, it is said that the young couple will not return to the Herrington home.

The newly-organized Pasadena woman's branch of the Navy League moved yesterday into permanent headquarters at Hotel Maryland. For the past week the organization has had the use of a small inside stockroom at the hotel, but now has a store with a Colorado-street entrance under the dining-room of the Maryland.

Free knitting classes opened yesterday in room A at the hotel, with a large attendance, and will be in session daily from 9 o'clock a.m. to 12 m., and 2 o'clock p.m. to 4 p.m., except Saturday, when they will be held only in the morning. Materials for knitting are furnished those unable to buy.

Sweaters, mufflers and wristlets are to be made for sailors soon to be called into the government service, and the particular ship for which Pasadena is working will be designated later. Within ten days several hundred knitters will be busy with needles.

Forty new cases of oriental art goods, embroideries, enamels, antiques, snuff bottles and ivories just arrived and will be ready for customers' inspection Thursday at Grace Nicholson's Famous Pasadena Shop.—[Advertisement.

Chatsworth's new school.

Palace of the People.

MAGNIFICENT SCHOOL IS OPENED AT CHATSWORTH.

CHATSWORTH, May 7.—The new Chatsworth grammar school was formally dedicated last Friday with appropriate exercises, the programme being presented under the auspices of the Chatsworth Chamber of Commerce and the West End Parent-Teacher Association. N. A. Gray, president of the former organization, acted as chairman of the evening, calling first upon Dr. Albert Shiels, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools, for an address.

After complimenting the people of the San Fernando Valley on the enterprise in providing such magnificent school facilities, Dr. Shiels expressed the hope that the same generous spirit would be manifested toward other sections of the city when the proposed bond issue for school purposes was voted on.

Former Judge Waldo M. York, member of the Board of Education, spoke earnestly of the high mission of the public schools, referring to the splendid educational institutions of America as "the palaces of the people and the nurseries of democracy."

C. J. McCormick expressed the pleasure it gave him as a member of the Board of Education, to assist in making the fine new Chatsworth building a success. He said the school auditorium should be the community center for the use of all the people. After a short musical and literary programme, refreshments were served.

The Chatsworth school is one of the most attractive in the entire Los Angeles city system. It was designed by Architect H. H. Hewitt and constructed under the supervision of Architect O. P. Dennis.

Welcome.

STRANGE PARASITE SAVES THE BARLEY.

DISCOVERY IS MADE ON LAND AT SAN LUIS OBISPO.

Government Experts Take Some of Them to Berkeley and They Believe Insects Can be Transferred from Field to Field and Aphides Exterminated.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 7.—Discovery of an unknown parasite which destroys the destructive grain aphis and saves the grain was made yesterday by S. V. Christierson, County Horticultural Commissioner, and C. M. Packard, government aphis expert. The discovery was made at the Souza ranch, six miles south of San Luis Obispo.

Six weeks ago Mr. Christierson was called to the Souza ranch to investigate inroads on barley by the aphis. At that time the barley was hardly knee high and covered with the deadly aphides. Report of the condition of the field was made to Mr. Packard, who is stationed at Martinez. His visit here was for the purpose of seeing what could be done.

Packard and Christierson yesterday went to the Souza ranch, where they were amazed to find that the barley was being cut. Instead of being less than knee high it stood above the average man's head and was in a flourishing condition, there being no sign of aphis.

Investigation which followed showed that some strange parasite of unknown origin had laid eggs in the aphides and destroyed them. Mr. Packard took several specimens with him for observation at Berkeley and Washington.

It is believed that the parasites may be transferred from field to field, and in this way will prove a great help in exterminating the aphis on grain.

SERIOUS IN FLORIDA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 7.—The seriousness of the citrus fruit situation in Florida is indicated in a letter received here by H. K. Small from his brother-in-law, F. L. Carr, manager of the Citrus Exchange at Arcadia, Fla. Mr. Carr states that, owing to the recent freeze, the groves are setting very little fruit and that the crop for the coming season appears to be practically a failure.

REAR WHEEL RESTS UPON BOY'S CHEST.

FRESNO LAD KNOCKED FROM BICYCLE BY AUTO.

Doctors Report that Youth has Slight Chance to Recover—Mass Meeting to be Held Friday to Formulate Plans to Increase the Food Supply.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FRESNO, May 7.—Claude Morgan, aged 12, was perhaps fatally injured late last night when he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile driven by Emmitt Riggins, a local contractor. The contractor stopped his machine with the rear wheel resting on the lad's chest. Doctors report the boy has a slight chance for recovery.

FOOD MEETING.

Representatives of every civic organization in Fresno city and county have been invited to attend a mass meeting Friday night when plans will be formulated to increase the food supply in Central California. It is the aim to get as many acres under cultivation as possible, but to go at it in a systematic manner so that the work will not be duplicated. The meeting has been called by W. G. Cochrane, president of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce.

TO GET RECRUITS.

For the purpose of securing recruits to the army in the Fresno sub-district, an automobile caravan of six machines will leave here tomorrow or Wednesday for a ten-day trip through the San Joaquin Valley. The caravan will be in charge of Sergt. Phillip H. Williams, recruiting officer for this district. Towns in Fresno, Madera, Kings and Tulare counties will be visited. Fresno business men are arranging to send out the automobile caravan.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, May 8.—Notification has been received from Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb, that the recently issued bonds of the Terra Bella irrigation district have been duly validated. This means that $600,000 needed to complete the first unit of construction of the work of irrigating 12,000 acres of cirtus lands will become immediately available.

Pending the formal validation of the securities six of the twenty deep wells for the project were completed and sufficient water developed for caring for all the orchards thus far planted.

GREAT CATCHES FILL SEA NETS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May. 7.—What is said to have been the biggest load of fresh market fish brought into port for many months arrived today. It consisted of fifteen tons of barracuda, seven tons of sea bass and two tons of mackerel. The entire catch netted Vitalich Bros., owners of the fishing boat Jupiter, and members of the crew, working on shares, over $3600. The fishing boat Maryland, owned by Zankich Bros., also brought in about twelve tons of barracuda. The total receipts since Saturday amounted to about forty tons, and the price dropped from 9 to 5 cents per pound wholesale. The Fisherman's Fish Company shipped a car of fresh fish to Kansas City today, it being the first full carload shipped outside the State for several weeks.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, May 7.—Two ministers in different churches, both of whom have been active in the "dry" movement, and in opposition to bathing-suit parades and the entrance of Baron Long to Venice, today presented their flocks with their resignations.

Rev. Fenwicke L. Holmes, pastor of the Venice Union Congregational Church, in announcing, said it is his purpose to continue his theological studies at Andover College, and is also attend Harvard. He has been pastor of the church for five years. He opposed boxing bouts in Venice, fought cafe dancing and yama-yama parades and at one time called a meeting to bring together the warring political factions of Venice in a "peace meeting." The meeting broke up when it was captured by a political faction.

Rev. R. L. Johnston, pastor of the Ocean Park Christian Church, which is in Venice, also resigned his pastorate, to take up additional duties that have come upon him in his law practice. Rev. Mr. Holmes' resignation takes effect June 15, and Rev. Mr. Johnston's some time early in June.

The first pictures to be shown in this country of the American airmen in France will be displayed Saturday afternoon and evening at Trinity Auditorium, when pictures officially filmed by the French government will be shown under the joint patronage of the American Red Cross and the French Society for the Relief of Wounded Soldiers. The French government, after filming the work of "our American boys in the European war," presented the pictures to the American volunteers to be shown in the United States. The proceeds are forwarded at once to the young men to augment their salaries, which are but 5 cents a day while in actual service. Lieut. C. E. Roeder, who is just back from France, accompanies the pictures as lecturer.

SHOWER AT POMONA.

POMONA, May 7.—A brief shower fell here at 3 o'clock p.m., but scarcely wet the pavement. There have been heavy clouds all day and tonight, following a fog this morning.

END LONG TRIP FROM GERMANY.

Californians Home After Two Months of Delays.

Say Teutons Were Confident Before Break with Us.

England's Blockade Modified to Please Norwegians.

After being detained in Norway more than two months because the British wanted the vessel that carried them to call at Kirkwall, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ephraim of Rivera reached Los Angeles yesterday from Germany. They are among the few Western Americans who have come out of that country in recent months.

When they left, which was before the German break with the United States, they found the Germans confident of winning the war, and reposing the greatest faith in their "man of iron," Von Hindenburg. While in Germany Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim spent most of their time in Berlin, where conditions are as normal as they can be when the government practically directs everything.

They went to Germany in 1914, about two months before the war started. Part of the time they spent at Marienbad, the famous watering place in Bohemia. They left Germany in January and boarded a Norwegian steamship for America on January 31. But the British would not let the vessel leave unless it agreed to call at Kirkwall for examination. As this would have taken the ship into the submarine zone, the owners declined to let the vessel depart. Fifteen hundred Americans were on the boat for a month, expecting to leave daily, and the steamship company boarded them. Finally, they were ordered off and their tickets cancelled.

Early in April the British decided to allow Norwegian vessels to travel by a lane left clear by Germany, on condition that the boats put into Halifax, N. S. Therefore, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim were able to leave April 15. They were not detained long at Halifax and arrived at an American port April 20. They said nothing looked so good to them in all the two years and more as the sight of Los Angeles and home.

Ministry.

TO BE ARMY CHAPLAIN.

Russell Morse Brougher, Son of Pastor of Temple Baptist Church, to Be Ordained at Meeting in Berean Hall Tomorrow Night.

Russell Morse Brougher, son of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, is to become a Baptist minister. It is probable that his first practical experience in the Christian ministry will be as a chaplain in the United States Army.

The ordination examination of young Brougher occurred yesterday afternoon in Berean Hall. Delegates and visitors from various Baptist churches of the Southern California Baptist convention were present; Dr. J. F. Watson was elected moderator and Dr. Edwin McMinn clerk. Thirty churches responded to the roll call, with sixty-nine delegates composing the council, and more than fifty visitors were invited to remain.

The candidate was presented to the council by his father, and then followed the young man's general statement, the questioning of members of the council, and declarations concerning the candidate by various persons close to him in various phases of life.

Dr. Brougher and the officers of the council were appointed a committee to arrange for the ordination services. These will be held tomorrow evening in Berean Hall Temple Auditorium Building.

Failure.

CANNOT INTERVENE.

Christian Scientists Fail to Get Privilege of Joining Defense in Action Brought Against State Medical Law by Drugless Healers.

Henry Van Arsdale and Peter V. Ross, members of the Christian Science Publication Committee, were yesterday denied in United States District Judge Bledsoe's court the privilege of intervening for the defendant in an action recently brought to enjoin the enforcement of the State medical law. The action was brought by L. E. Nickles and Robert J. Burke against the Governor, District Attorney and John W. Hart, attorney for the State Medical Board, and is in the interests of chiropractors and other drugless healers. The law does not interfere with Christian Science practitioners, and hence the desire of the Science Publication Committee to join the defense.

In considering the Christian Science motion, Judge Bledsoe said of the case: "The complaint does not state a cause of action. It ends nowhere and accomplishes nothing."

THREE ARE INJURED.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, May 7.—Dodging a motorcycle, R. E. Van Zelzer of No. 1029 West Fifty-street, Los Angeles, turned too short and has automobile fell over on its side, at the corner of First and Lyon streets, this afternoon. Van Zelzer's mother is suffering from shock, and his son-in-law has a foot gashed. Others in the car were slightly cut and bruised.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, May 7.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.78; at 5 p.m., 29.64. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 58 deg. and 61 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 93 per cent.; 5 p.m., 64 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southeast, velocity 8 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 11 miles. Highest temperature, 63 deg.; lowest, 54 deg. Rainfall for season, 15.05 inches; last season, 19.80 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS—The pressure is high over the north-central portion of the United States and the weather there is generally fair and cool. Frosts were common this morning in South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. The area of low pressure in the Southwest developed into a well-marked depression; showers resulted in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada and in Northern California. The influence of this depression in Southern California is shown in the general foggy or cloudy weather throughout this district this morning. Mt. Wilson reports strong clouds and relative humidity above the normal.

ORCHARD REPORTS—Minimum temperatures as reported during the past twenty-four hours: Mt. Wilson and Pomona, 46 deg.; Pasadena and Redlands, 48; Riverside, 47; Santa Barbara, 50; San Bernardino, 44 deg.

The Mary McLaren Photo Plays, Inc., filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The incorporators are Lillian E. MacDonald, Katharine M. Strauss and Ingle Carpenter. The new company follows the successful termination of Miss McLaren's suit against a local film manufacturing company. In this suit Miss McLaren, who is 17, sought to be relieved from a contract which she said bound her to an insufficient salary and, by not permitting her to make use of her name, deprived her of the results of her efforts before the camera. The court permitted her to use her stage name.

LARGE ARCADIA SITE FOR CONCENTRATION CAMP.

Mayor Wires President and Chamber of Commerce Marshals Forces.

THE following telegram was dispatched yesterday by Mayor Woodman to President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker:

We understand that the Sixteenth Division of the New Army will be concentrated at some point on the Pacific Coast, and desire to bring to the attention of the proper authorities the ideal location of the city of Los Angeles. Here we have three great transcontinental lines of transportation. It is the center of an immense paved highway system, insuring mobility of troops. Fresh food supplies are available throughout the year. The climate is ideal for the entire twelve months. We believe that the largest city on the Pacific Coast would make an ideal concentration point, and submit this matter for your consideration.

[Signed] FREDERIC T. WOODMAN,
Mayor of Los Angeles.

Determined to prove to the government that the Santa Anita ranch in Arcadia answers in every respect the requirements of a first-class concentration camp, where the men called from the Western States may be trained, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday mobilized its forces for the campaign. Maps and plans of the ranch, with detailed description of railroad facilities, water reserve and elevation were forwarded to Southern California representatives in Congress, with urgent requests that they present the matter immediately to the government.

LIKELY CHOICE.

Proof that the War Department is seriously considering Arcadia as a location for the western concentration camp was indicated in the fact that government agents and officers of the Quartermaster's Department have been combing the manufacturing field during the last few weeks, endeavoring to assess the resources of the nearest country in the event of such a camp being located here. Specifications as to just how much beef, mutton, hats, clothing, shoes, etc., is likely were requested, the manufacturers being asked to indicate the number they are able to furnish on short notice, how much they could produce upon in a week, and just how much output per month they would be capable of.

OPEN SUPPLY DEPOT.

Col. R. S. Granger of the Quartermaster's Department of the United States Army, yesterday established a suite of offices on the second floor of the Central Building. Telephones had not been put in and the furniture scarcely arrived when a squad of clerks began making requisition and order blanks for beef, pork, bacon, beef, flour and other foodstuffs. Even if the military authorities decide upon some other spot for the camp, this depot will continue, it is said, issuing rations for the army.

Special attention is drawn to the fact that in Arcadia ideal climatic conditions prevail for such a camp. Free from ice and snow, with excellent drainage systems drying the land immediately, Arcadia presents an ideal all-year-round camp. Engineering officers who have inspected the site declare that men concentrated in such a place would be entirely free from malaria, typhoid, dysentery, and other common camp diseases.

IDEAL SITE.

From a military point of view, the 1500 acres in the Puente Hills offer a location for training men in all branches unequaled in any other portion of the West. The ground is not unlike that over which the French, British and German armies are now struggling, and the possibilities for artillery practice are excellent.

Further definite action by Capt. John D. Fredericks, chairman, and the other members of the Military and Naval Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce are contingent upon news from Washington. The matter has been laid before the War Department, and if that body desires to consider the matter further, orders to survey and lay out the camp will follow. When these orders come, Capt. Fredericks will take charge of the work.

BID REJECTED.

New Offer for School Bonds Less Than Former One.

A premium of $3260 was offered by the Contractors' Security Company recently for $65,000 bonds of the Eagle Rock school district, but because the check accompanying the bid was not sufficient the Board of Supervisors rejected all bids and readvertised. Yesterday there was only one bid, that of R. H. Moulton, who offered a premium of $810. This was rejected.

E. H. Rollins & Sons were awarded $60,000 bonds of the San Marina school district at their premium of $1065.

Coming Soon.

NOT LONG NOW, BOYS.

Summer Vacation Period for City's Schools is Determined by Board of Education—No Action on Petition of Employees For Higher Wages.

The vacation period for the city schools, as fixed by the Board of Education last night, will begin next June 29 and continue until September 11.

Provision was made for the operation of intermediate and elementary vacation schools and an elementary vacation school of agriculture. The school playgrounds will be conducted for eight weeks, beginning July 9 and ending August 31.

The board deferred action on the petition of sixty-seven employees of the business department, asking that their salaries be increased in proportion to the raise in the cost of living expenses, or at least 20 per cent. increase be given. Similar action was taken regarding the petition of teachers for higher salaries.

TO BAR HIM AS ARMY CHAPLAIN

Methodists Denounce Pastor Tanner for Sermon.

Randall's Protege's Riddled in "Treason Meeting."

"Hired Murderers'" Parents to be Informed of It.

Resolutions denouncing Rev. I. F. Tanner for his alleged "treason sermon" in the church Sunday were adopted last evening at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Highland Park Methodist Church. At the same time steps were taken to prevent the appointment of Mr. Tanner to a place as army chaplain, a post to which he is said to aspire through Congressman Randall.

Harry M. Chapman vigorously attacked James G. Cortelyou, as chairman of the board, for not arising when the sermon was being delivered and ordering the visiting pastor from the church.

Mr. Cortelyou replied by stating that he had no authority to take such action. At this point Rev. David Loofbourrow, the pastor, interposed and stated that he should have done so, but he was too dumbfounded to speak. F. W. Hart counseled moderation and Christian charity, but qualified his peaceful words by stating that, were it not for the fact that he is hard of hearing and did not grasp the full import of the remarks, he certainly would have taken some action. John H. Geiger, who was among those who left the church during the course of Mr. Tanner's remarkable sermon, stated that he did so because he was afraid that had he remained he would have done violence to Mr. Tanner's person.

After a spirited debate, in which practically everyone present took an active part, C. B. Messenger offered a set of resolutions, which were unanimously passed. The substance of these is that the board, acting as the official mouthpiece of the congregation, and joined by the pastor, Mr. Loofbourrow, sincerely deplores the occurrence and severely criticises Mr. Tanner. The resolution recites that the church as a body honors and reveres the memory of heroes of the Civil War and of all other wars of the nation and pledges its unlimited support and loyalty to the boys who are today taking up arms in defense of the principles of right and justice.

Copies of this resolution are to be spread on the minutes of the church and sent to Congressman Randall, Bishop Hughes, Judge Trippet and Dr. E. P. Ryland, as well as to the mothers of the church whose sons have enlisted for the present war.

The board also decided to wire Congressman Randall and the War Department, urging that Mr. Tanner's application for an appointment as chaplain in the United States Army be denied. The resolution provides that all officials having to do with the appointment shall receive copies of it.

At the opening of the meeting Mr. Loofbourrow made a statement in which he said that he had asked Mr. Tanner for an outline of his sermon and that he had replied that it was in substance an argument tending to show that the good that was to come from the present awful conflict was tremendous, as that when it was over the world would experience a new birth of broader freedom and a quickening of the people for higher Christian ideals.

As this was along the line of his own thought, and as he had been given letters of reference bearing on Mr. Tanner's standing as a Christian man from such officials as Congressman Randall, who is seeking to have Mr. Tanner appointed as a chaplain in the army, Bishop Edwin Hughes and Judge Trippet, also vouching for him for this position, he, of course, had no suspicion but that the visitor would preach such a sermon as anyone would be glad to hear.

The board accepted Mr. Loofbourrow's statement and entirely exonerated him, although many of those present gave utterance to the idea that no such mistake must ever be made again in that church. The resolution, as originally offered, censured the pastor, but after his frank statement of the case this paragraph was cut out and he was permitted to join with the board in censuring the remarks of the speaker.

A California bride was claimed yesterday by Clifford J. Laube, youngest member of the Colorado State Legislature.

Mr. Laube, who is but 25 years old, was wed to Miss Dora C. Weber, a graded school teacher of Brea, and just his age.

The youthful lawmaker from the Centennial State came to Los Angeles solely to lead his sweetheart of long ago to the altar. They were married at St. Vincent's Church by Rev. S. S. O'Donovan, assistant pastor, yesterday morning, at 8 o'clock, nuptial mass being celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Laube left a few hours later for the Grand Canyon, amid whose stately beauties they will spend a brief honeymoon. The couple will make their home in Denver.

CHURCH IS LIABLE.

Court Finds Diocese Must Pay Bill Contracted by a Committeeman Named by Convention; Is Interesting Point for all Denominations.

Judge Jackson yesterday decided a point of interest to religious denominations. It holds the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Los Angeles responsible for the payment of bills contracted by members of the various boards and committees which are yearly appointed at the annual convention.

It was explained to the court that this question of who is responsible crops up every year, and a legal decision was necessary. The case came before Judge Jackson on a stipulation of facts. Goods valued at $1858.64, it seems, had been bought from Barker Bros., in June, 1914, by C. S. Mook, vice-president of the Board of Christian Education of the Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The bill was not paid because of a difference of opinion as to who was responsible.

Judge Jackson held that the legal responsibility goes hand in hand with the moral responsibility.

"Mr. Mook acted as agent for the Board of Christian Education," the court said, "the board was agent for the convention, and the convention was agent for the diocese. With that point established, matters may be handled in the future with better business results."

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac W. Norcross,

Snapped in Police Court yesterday, after the husband, who is 70 years of age, had caused the arrest of his 18-year-old bride on a battery charge. After the case had been compromised, they left, each maintaining, as shown, that it was the other's fault.

GIRL WIFE THE VICTOR; BOARDERS MUST LEAVE.

"I AM perfectly willing to go back and live with my husband if he will agree to live alone with me, as we were always happy, until he suggested that we take two women boarders into our house," was the answer of Mrs. Emma Norcross to Police Judge Richardson yesterday when he asked if she would forgive and forget if her husband withdrew his formal charge of battery against her. The husband, Isaac W. Norcross, 70 years old, filed this charge against his eighteen-year-old wife Saturday, alleging that she slapped his face because he told her that his conference with the two women boarders, Miss Patricia Feiner and Mrs. Anola May, in their bedroom last Friday, was none of her business.

Upon Mrs. Norcross's release from jail Sunday she returned to her home, and when one of the unwelcome boarders slammed the door in her face she smashed the glass with her fist and forced an entrance. The case was dismissed by Judge Richardson on the written request of Mr. Norcross.

Mr. Norcross, who is a dramatic teacher, living at No. 5624 Virginia street, further promised Justice Richardson that the women boarders will be forced to leave the home, and stated he would have had them turned out before but that they had paid their board in advance and he did not feel that he could legally do so.

The crux of the row seemed to hinge on the fact that while Mrs. Norcross has had the pleasure of cooking and caring for the rooms of the unwelcome guests, Mr. Norcross has invariably collected the board money. After the dismissal the couple left, each still insisting that the other was to blame.

TORRENS ACT ATTACK TO GO TO HIGHEST COURT.

AN ATTACK on the constitutionality of the Torrens Land Registration Act will be carried into the United States Supreme Court on a demurrer which Judge York yesterday allowed Attorney W. J. Morin to amend to the petition of Ashton Steiner. Mr. Morin represents M. L. Williams, who is named a defendant and to whom a mortgage for $18,000 was executed by Charles Archibald and Clara Reynolds Billings, on land at No. 91 South Grand avenue, Pasadena.

Mr. Morin wanted to file the demurrer yesterday, but Judge York gave him time to put it in shape to raise the disputed point in the highest court.

The demurrer is on the ground that the registration sought is a violation of Subdivision 1, Section 10, Article I of the Constitution of the United States; also that the application is based on a law which is in violation of Section 1, Article VI of the Constitution of California, involving the exercise of a function not within the power of the registrar.

The State Supreme Court, in a memorandum decision, held that the Torrens Land Registration Act was constitutional, when a San Francisco court refused to register applications, but this is the first instance in which the United States Supreme Court will have passed on the constitutionality of the act.

Schedule.

PHONE MERGER DATE SETTLED.

To Come When Copper is Freed by Government.

Eight Months Limit of Time Constructors Must Wait.

Employees of Both Companies to Retain Their Jobs.

Actual consolidation of the Home and Sunset telephone companies will take place probably within six months and not later than eight months, according to statements made yesterday by officials of both concerns. The long-awaited approval of the Federal government has been received.

To operate the merged companies will require the employment of practically all the persons now working in various capacities, and it is not believed it will be necessary to discharge anyone. Especially is it desired to retain all those in executive positions.

The merger would be consummated immediately were it not for the fact that the United States government has first call on the copper production of the country. When this restriction is released by the government there will be an abundant supply of copper, and the two companies will operate as one.

Approved by both the Department of Justice and the State Railroad Commission, the merger was recently authorized, the consolidated concern being known as the Southern California Telephone Company, but the consolidation was contingent upon physical construction, and officials yesterday said it is improbable that the necessary copper and other material can be secured in less than six months.

The officials of the Southern California Telephone Company will be: A. B. Cass, president; J. C. Nowell, first vice-president; H. D. Pillsbury, second vice-president; C. F. Mason, commercial superintendent.

When the actual consolidation takes place, patrons of both companies will be privileged to call any subscriber, either of the former Home or Sunset company, without extra charge.

According to stipulation, there will be no increase in the charge for extra service for at least five years. At the expiration of that period the Southern California Telephone Company will be privileged to apply to the Railroad Commission for permission to increase its rates.

"It is especially gratifying," said one of the officials yesterday, "that the consolidation will not make it necessary to discharge any of the employees of either company. The employees of both concerns, of course, are experts.

"The two concerns are ready and willing for the actual consolidation, but it is impossible to interfere with the government's plans, and we must wait until the supply of materials is released. When it is, and we have been assured it will not be longer than eight months, we will stretch the cables and consummate the deal at the earliest possible moment."

BARGAIN QUEST NOT INSANITY.

Probate Judge Takes Part of Women Who Join Rush at Downtown Stores.

Judge Rives of the Probate Court yesterday judicially declared simply because a woman hunts bargains in downtown stores, it is no evidence of an unsound mind. This declaration came during the trial of the contest of the will of Mrs. Maria Gartrell Tomb, whose $1,500,000 estate is at stake.

It was shown by the contestants that Mrs. Tomb once bought books to the value of $3000 from a book agent, on the representation that all the rich people were buying the de luxe edition. She also bought $600 worth of linen which she did not need, and laid in a large stock of Christmas decorations.

All these incidents were put forth to show her alleged unsoundness of mind. But Judge Rives drew the line when the offer was made to show that she hunted bargains.

DIES INTESTATE.

Relative of Late Kaspare Cohn Leaves no Will.

Caspar C. Cohn, distantly related to the late banker, Kaspare Cohn, did not make a will. A petition for letters of administration on his estate was filed yesterday by Simon Cahen. The heirs are the widow, Eleanor E. Cohn of No. 1434 West Forty-seventh street, and a sister, Carrie Cahen.

Mr. Cohn died last Wednesday. The petition states the estate for which letters of administration are asked does not exceed $20,654.91. It consists of cash in bank, $3254.91, and real property, including the Purser Apartments.

Funeral Halted.

DEATH PUZZLE SOLVED AT THE GRAVE'S EDGE.

DRAMATICALLY halting the simple funeral services as they were about to close yesterday morning, Mrs. M. A. McDonough and Mrs. A. W. Ball, both of Pasadena, identified the remains of the young woman who had been found dying at York boulevard and Aldama street the evening of April 29 as Miss Annie Fitzsimmons, former matron of the Ramona Convent. The services were immediately stopped and preparations made by Mrs. McDonough and Mrs. Ball to hold services at St. Ignatius Church tomorrow or Thursday. At the request of the two women the Coroner will hold a post-mortem examination this morning.

Miss Fitzsimmons was found lying in the street, apparently dying from heart failure, the evening of April 29. She died before assistance could be brought, and the body was removed to the Cresse undertaking parlors. Because no identification marks could be found, and because of the utter absence of personal articles from the person of the dead woman, police detectives were unable to identify her, and the undertaking company finally decided to hold the funeral services and inter the body in Evergreen Cemetery.

With Pastor Ford of the Highland Park Baptist Church officiating, the services commenced in the Cresse chapel at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A large crowd of persons, drawn by an article in The Times yesterday morning telling of the peculiar services, attended in the hope of recognizing the dead woman.

Nothing transpired, however, until the pastor had almost reached the end of the services. At this point Mrs. McDonough and Mrs. Ball entered and almost immediately identified the remains.

Mrs. McDonough stated last night that Miss Fitzsimmons was well known in Pasadena. She had come to visit friends in that city about two weeks ago, upon leaving a position as matron of the Ramona Convent. She had not settled and was still traveling about visiting old acquaintances when she met her tragic end.

According to the best information available to Mrs. McDonough last night, Miss Fitzsimmons had just left the home of a friend in Garvanza en route to Pasadena when overcome by heart failure. However, at the post-mortem to be held this morning an effort will be made to ascertain just why Miss Fitzsimmons was devoid of either purse or money. As her acquaintances were aware, she had seemed in the best of health.

White Squadron.

ELKS FORM A BATTALION AND DRILLING BEGINS.

WARLIKE activities, sped forward with military precision by the officers and men of the white squadron, one of the finest and best-drilled bodies in the country, last night permeated the Elks' headquarters at Third and Olive streets as the members of B.P.O.E. Lodge, No. 99, mobilized into a complete battalion, ready for Home Guard duty or anything their country calls them to do. At the close of the evening the scores of Elks that attended the meeting had been formed into three distinct companies and had started drilling. The famous Elks' Band was added to the battalion.

Co. A is composed of the sixty-two men of the 1909 White Squadron. This squadron, as famous in its day as the present organization bearing its name, is composed of some of the best drillmasters in the state.

Co. B had as its nucleus the present White Squadron, famous from Coast to Coast. Co. C was formed of the recruits who joined last night.

Charles P. Kitts, chairman of the Military Committee of the lodge, stated last night that the companies will drill at least once a week. A special effort will be made to get the men together two and possibly three times each week, in order to perfect the organization as quickly as possible. A petition for equipment is already in the hands of the Governor and word granting this request is daily expected.

MUST PAY CHECK.

Harry Ellis Dean, local attorney, was ordered yesterday to pay a check given by him to Parry Vaccua, involving $95. The check had been post-dated. Judgment for that amount was given by Justice Hinshaw.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Nellie Nadeau had Been Resident of City for Fifty-eight Years.

Mrs. Nellie Nadeau, 61 years of age, wife of George A. Nadeau, member of one of the wealthy pioneer families of Los Angeles, died yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 1600 East Nadeau avenue. Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of the Peck & Chase Co., No. 1213 South Figueroa street, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be at Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. Nadeau came to Los Angeles fifty-eight years ago and had spent most of her life on the present site of the estates, the site of the present home being a sixty-acre tract of immensely-valuable land. She survives her husband and four children, James A. Nadeau, Delbert G. Nadeau, Mrs. Grace King and Mrs. Stella May Bennett.

LAND SHIRKER MUST REFORM.

Government will Spare None Evading Cultivation.

Entryman's Final Proofs to Conform to Rules.

Much Patented Ground Found Almost Untouched.

In harmony with the policy of the Federal government that every available acre of land in the country be devoted to the cultivation of crops, Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office announced yesterday that hereafter there must be a stricter accountability as to cultivation by entrymen in quest of government land. So far the policy has been liberal, especially in cases where ranchers are compelled to endure hardships in making for themselves a home, but it is the desire hereafter to scrutinize more closely the final proofs as to the cultivation of public land.

In many cases, only sufficient land has been cultivated by entrymen to "get by" the local Land Office, but hereafter that matter will be more closely investigated. It is the idea of the government that those desiring public lands shall, in good faith, do the amount of cultivation required by the homestead and desert land laws, and in most instances this requirement has been honestly and faithfully complied with, but in many others, not so.

The Register and Receiver made an auto trip of about 200 miles last Sunday to inspect the cultivation of patented land. They found that the large areas under intensive cultivation were old grants, not secured from the government under the present land laws. Thousands of acres of patented land, where the government had surrendered title to entrymen, were not cultivated at all, and others so little as to amount to almost nothing.

Register Roche said yesterday that every acre capable of producing a crop should be planted this spring and cultivated to the limit.

"We have entered the conflict," he said, "and much is expected of us. We must not be found wanting. Sacrifices should be made and each one should do his 'bit.' All authorities agree that the most urgent and pressing immediate need is food. Herbert C. Hoover is quoted in recent Associated Press dispatches to the effect that we must more than double our present surplus for export, to do which it is clear we must effect a heavy increase in production, else we fail to do our part."

Under the homestead laws it is necessary the first year to establish a residence on the land and have a habitable dwelling; the second year the entryman must have one-sixteenth of the land under cultivation, and at the close of the third year, when he may prove up, one-eighth of the land must be cultivated.

Under the desert land law, it is not necessary for an entryman to live on the land, but he must spend $1 an acre for three years in cultivation and improvement, and at the end of the fourth year there must be one-eighth of the land under cultivation and a sufficient water supply for all.

ORDER 'EM BY PHONE.

No Longer will Hurried Business Man have to Tear Shirt in Making Train, for Espee will now Accept Ticket Order via Hello Girl.

In the future you will not have to hasten to the railway station to get your ticket when that rich relative dies in the East and funeral arrangements are awaiting your coming.

Nor will you have to stand in line two or three hours at the ticket window, then get your ticket just in time to hear the station master yell that the train has gone to—some place or other that you wanted to get to in haste.

Hereafter, the business man may sit at his desk to within ten minutes of train time, dash into his machine and catch the rear coach without worrying over final transportation affairs, for General Passenger Agent F. McGinnis of the Southern Pacific announced yesterday that this road will sell tickets in the future on telephone orders.

Given directions for destination, time of train departure and minor data, the ticket agents will proceed to fix up the ticket and send it to the prospective traveler by special messenger.

MAY HEAD OFF CASE.

District Court of Appeal to Hear Today Application for Writ to Prevent Further Pressing of Misconduct Charge Against Betkouski.

The District Court of Appeal will today hear a petition for a writ to prohibit Superior Judge Craig from proceeding further in the action against President Betkouski of the City Council, for alleged willful misconduct in office. Oscar Lawler will represent Mr. Betkouski at the hearing. So far, there has been no appearance in behalf of those interested in the prosecution.

The accusation against Mr. Betkouski was presented by the grand jury March 7, and on March 26, Judge Craig overruled objections to the sufficiency of the charge and set May 2 as the date for the hearing. A preliminary order of the District Court held up the matter until the pending petition could be heard on its merits.

Mr. Betkouski declares he is entitled to serve until the close of his term, the first Monday in July; that under the charter the only way to oust him is by a recall election; that he has never been charged with an offense, nor has he ever been convicted of any offense.

Judge Finlayson yesterday gave Dr. John Keefer West of San Antonio the right to adopt the name of his wife's former husband. He will now be legally known as Dr. John Keefer West-Hill. His wife will be known as Leah Paul West-Hill. Business and social reasons prompted the doctor to seek the change of name.

MINE FRAUD ALLEGED.

Widow of Founder of Yellow Aster Property Enters Suit Against Woman, Charging She and Her Co-plaintiff were Victims of Fraud.

Declaring they were defrauded in connection with a contract to buy 1202 shares of the stock of the Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company, C. G. A. M. De Pauw and Stella M. de Pauw asked for a rescission of the agreement and the return of their promissory note, in a suit filed yesterday against Kate F. Miller.

Mrs. De Pauw is the widow of the late John Singleton, founder of the famous mine. She has been prominently in court in the many suits for control of the corporation. The contract to buy this stock was entered into last March 8. The agreed price for the stock was $9000, or about $7 a share. Subsequently Mrs. De Pauw says she learned that negotiations had been made to sell the properties of the company to outside interests at a figure that would net the stockholders about $5 a share.

It is alleged in the complaint that Mrs. Miller knew this at the time, and that the De Pauws were unaware of it. She gave ninety-seven shares of stock she owned to secure a promissory note, and asks that the paper be returned to her.

Presidential Election Figures in Damage Suit Brought Against a Butcher who Says He Refused to Risk His Money on Wilson's Rival.

The late Presidential election was fought all over again in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. That is to say, it figured incidentally, the suit being based on an alleged assault upon Meyer H. Arnold by John Brand, a South Main-street butcher. The attack grew out of an attempt to place a bet with Mr. Brand on the result of the election.

Mr. Arnold stated that Mr. Brand slapped his face and kicked him when he entered his butcher shop. Mr. Brand testified that after the election and the evening papers had announced the victory of President Wilson Mr. Arnold came into his shop while he was busy with customers and wanted him to renew a bet on Mr. Hughes.

Mr. Brand said he told his caller to get out, and when the latter insisted on the bet he said he slapped his face. A witness declared that the butcher slapped Mr. Arnold twice. The jury found in favor of Mr. Brand. The latter was sued for $2000 damages.

RUSSIAN TRAGEDY READ.

Private Hearing of English Version of Dunaew Play.

To hear for the first time the translation of Nicholas Dunaew's tragedy, "The Spider," from the Russian, many prominent persons in the theatrical world were guests at Henry Christeen Warnack's home in Alhambra a few nights ago. Mr. Dunaew, the author of the play, is best known in Europe and this country as an actor of Ibsen drama; his portrayal of the role of Oswald in "Ghosts," receiving praise from George Bernard Shaw and Max Nordau. His plays, short stories and poems have been published in Russian, German and other continental languages.

On the programme were several selections by Carlos Bravo, the Italian tenor, and Charles Fleming Wilson, the composer. Douglas Gerrard, the actor-director at Universal City, gave a brilliant reading of "The Spider," which includes a prologue and three acts. James Young, the director gave a Shakespearean interpretation, and Henry Christeen Warnack entertained with several verse readings.

Among the guests of the evening were Frank Egan, Nicholas Dunaew, James Young, Douglas Gerrard, Carlos Bravo, and several others. "The Spider" received strong favorable criticism as a Russian tragedy, and it will probably be given an early presentation in the United States.

"JACK" ROSE SENTENCED.

To Serve Three Years for Looting Parcel Post Boxes.

John Rose, known to the pugilistic fraternity as "Jack" Rose, was sentenced by United States District Judge Bledsoe yesterday to serve three years on McNeil's Island. Rose had pleaded guilty to a charge that in 1915 he stole a master key belonging to a postoffice employee at Venice and looted parcel post boxes.

Albert W. and F. J. Winans went on Rose's bond for $1500, after the arrest. Rose vanished and it was learned the bondsmen could not pay. The fugitive was found at Colton, after his wife had given valuable information to the authorities.

SEWER PROBLEM UP TO VOTERS.

Five Millions is Estimated Cost of Improvements.

City Engineer Reports Upon System's Inadequacy.

A proposal for a bond issue approximating $5,000,000 for sewerage disposal by the city will be put up to the voters at the June election, in all probability.

City Engineer Hamlin yesterday reported to the City Council on the necessary improvements to provide adequate sewage disposal for the community. The tunnels of the present outfall sewer, constructed in 1907, are disintegrating fast, owing to the abnormal wear created by sewer gases. To properly repair these tunnels and to build a 2000-foot pier into the ocean, so that the effluent will be properly taken care of, will cost $270,000.

The present sewer system was built to take care of a population not to exceed 250,000 persons. It was planned to take care of a city area of only about 20,000 acres. The annexation of Hollywood alone added 11,600 acres and a large population. Other annexations have added another 7000 acres and increased to breaking point the sewage capacity. A break in a part of the sewer last year cost more than $31,000 and numerous breaks are anticipated unless the situation is immediately remedied.

HEALTH MENACED.

Last winter the inrush of flood waters broke pipes and this allowed sewage to escape in various parts of the southwestern section of the city, much to the detriment of health. The sewer was never intended as a drainage system.

The necessary additions to the present system will cost about $1,950,000.

A new system, to be known as the "North Outfall Sewer," is proposed. This would take care of the sewage of the southwestern part of town. It would extend from a point near Exposition Park westerly about four and one-half miles, thence southerly to a point near Inglewood and thence in a direct line to Hyperion.

Such a system would greatly relieve the present situation, which is said to be dangerous, and will in less than five years be absolutely essential if the community increases in population. The estimated cost of this sewer would be $3,050,000.

After considerable discussion, the majority of members of the Council seemed to favor placing a proposal for a $5,000,000 sewer bond issue to a vote of the people at the next election. The possibility of submitting the proposed $12,000,000 power bond issue to the voters was mentioned.

PROPOSITIONS DIFFER.

A number of citizens present at the Council session were heartily in favor of the sewer plans, but decried to power-bond proposition. Walter Little, secretary of the Los Angeles Property Owners' League, declared there is a serious and a vital reason for sewer bonds, but absolutely none for the power bonds, which would mean $12,000,000 used in an experiment that may turn out a losing one.

"Proper sanitation is one of our most crying needs," said Mr. Little. "Noted sewer engineers not long ago notified the county authorities that the problem of disposal here is becoming very serious and that an immediate step toward proper remedies should be taken. The Supervisors never got far with their plans. It remains for the city authorities to protect our residents, or at least give them an opportunity to vote on the question themselves."

CAPITALIST DIES.

Utah Man who Once had Large Property Holding Here Exires.

M. B. Whitnay, 48 years old, an Elberta (Utah) land and mining man, who was well known locally, died suddenly in the Kenyon Hotel in Salt Lake City, last week, it was learned here yesterday. Mr. Whitney had considerable business interests in Los Angeles and at one time owned the Los Angeles Mortgage Company. He was also the principal owner of the Utah Lake, Land, Water and Power Company, a corporation controlling some 11,000 acres of land near Tintic City, Utah.

The deceased leaves a wife who at present resides at Elberta. At the time of his death he was negotiating the sale of his big Utah land holdings to a Chicago syndicate through Thomas C. Wallace of this city. The transaction involved about $350,000, and was well on towards consummation.

MRS. SKEFFINGTON GUEST.

With Mrs. Hannah Sheehy-Skeffington as guest of honor, the Brownson House Settlement Association held its monthly dinner last night at Christopher's. About 100 guests were present. Mrs. Skeffington gave an interesting talk touching on social problems. Other speakers were Rev. Ray F. Carter and Mrs. E. McManus of the Social Service Commission, W. H. Whalen, division superintendent of the Southern Pacific, who told what the railroad is doing to aid Mexicans in its employ, and Rev. John Hegarty. Miss Mary Workman presided at the meeting.

Certain-teed

Enduring! Certain-teed is a name which has come thru the storm of business competition stronger than ever. It stands for quality, dependability, satisfaction and fair dealing. On the reputation of this name there has been built the world's largest manufacturer of prepared roofing and building papers.

Certain-teed Roofing

It costs less to buy, less to lay and less per year of life than other types of roofing. It does not rust, is proof against gases, coal smoke, acids, fumes, etc. It is a non-conductor of heat and cold, is fire retardant and weather-proof.

The cost of laying prepared roofings is the same whether you use good materials or poor. Therefore, it pays to get CERTAIN-TEED, which is the best. It is guaranteed for 5, 10, or 15 years according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply), and it will remain efficient long after the time when a poor quality roof would have had ceased to be serviceable.

For residences, CERTAIN-TEED Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles have all the advantages of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing, plus artistic beauty. They need no paint, are pliable, eliminate waste and misfits, cannot curl, buckle, rot or crack. Guaranteed for ten years.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes

These men have at their command all the machinery, equipment, materials and resources necessary to manufacture good paints and varnishes economically. They also have at their disposal the extensive selling organization and warehouse system of the Certain-teed Products Corporation, which materially reduces cost of distributing and marketing.

The result of this unusually favorable combination is that CERTAIN-TEED Paints and Varnishes are made of high grade products, sold at lower prices than you would expect to pay for good paints and varnishes.

We guarantee CERTAIN-TEED Paints and Varnishes to give perfect satisfaction. Whether you do your own painting or hire a professional painter you will find it to your interest to see that you get CERTAIN-TEED.

Any good dealer can sell you Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes. If he does not carry them in stock he can get them for you.

SOCIETY.

Honor Miss Leonardt.

Mrs. Alfred Bayer of No. 1223 South Alvarado street is entertaining this afternoon at a bridge luncheon in honor of Miss Clara Leonardt. Spring flowers will be used to decorate the tables. The affair will be informal. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Otto Sweet will entertain for the bride-elect.

Parrot Back.

Mrs. K. K. Parrot, after a lengthy visit from the city, has returned home and to the social whirl, which greeted her for the first time today at the Annandale golf links.

Garden Fete.

Hollywood and Los Angeles society will join hands in carrying out the tennis exhibition and garden fete to be given at the Garden Courts next Saturday. The affair is to be for the benefit of the Belgian children made homeless by the war, and is under the auspices of the Commission for Relief in Belgium.

Those of the women interested are Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, who is the Southern California chairman; Mrs. Ralph Burdick, Mrs. Guy E. McJohnston, Mrs. Harry Garland, Mrs. George Fusenot, Mrs. Ingle Carpenter, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Mrs. J. N. Danziger, Mrs. Morris Albee, Mrs. Willis Kerr, Mrs. I. J. Mums, Mrs. Tyler Oliver and many others.

This Frolic.

A very pretty affair was the party given by Mrs. Eric Barclay of No. 2933 Kenwood avenue gave for her little daughter Helen Lenore May 1 in honor of her birthday anniversary. The house was decorated in pink banners and the favors were tiny, old ivory reed baskets filled with vogue parrots on the handles. Many gifts were received by the following guests: Annette Hahn, Nancy Gilholm, Virginia Wells, Monkhouse, Jane Tutton, Roberta Lynn Gist, Leonce Rose, Jr., Edward Howes McCormick, Robert McWinney, Milton Getz, Harry Giffin, Patricia Hahn, John Prentiss of Santa Monica, Helen Schleicher of Pasadena, Jack Rodepe and Richard Perry of Manila, Philippine Islands.

Visit to Southern Home.

Mrs. Sarah McGarvey, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. N. H. Johnson and Mrs. Harriet Williams of West Adams second street, has returned to her home in Lexington, Ky. Mrs. McGarvey is a daughter of the late John McGarvey, author and lecturer on sacred themes. Mrs. Wallace Dean entertained with a delightful week-end party at her attractive home near Riverside in honor of Miss Johnson and as a farewell to Miss McGarvey.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. E. D. Wallace of No. [illegible] avenue entertained a few hundred party Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Wallace's sister-in-law, Mrs. and Mrs. J. [illegible] Mrs. Ada M. Schuck [illegible] will be announced later.

Of Philadelphia, Pa. A profusion of roses formed the decoration of the house and the well-appointed luncheon and the majority of the guests who enjoyed the pleasant affair were former residents of Wheeling, Pa.

Rank-Mullins.

On Thursday evening occurred the marriage of Miss Gladys Rank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rank, to Fla Mullins, a young attorney of this city, the invitations being limited to the immediate relatives and friends of the young people. Rev. H. S. Munger officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Naomi Smith, and Edgar Black acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Mullins left on an extended honeymoon immediately after the ceremony.

Engagement Announcement.

Mr. L. B. Cohn announces the engagement of his daughter, Winnie, to Jacob Cohn of El Rio. The groom-to-be is a business man, and Miss Cohn is well known in social circles here. Many affairs have been given for her, and more are scheduled for the near future. The wedding will probably take place this summer.

Mrs. A. B. W. Hodges of No. 109 South Kingsley drive, and sister, Mrs. A. B. Smith, left yesterday morning for an extended trip to New York, Washington and other cities. They will be gone about three months.

Betrothal Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. L. U. McClure announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Claire Newberry, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Newberry. The engagement was announced Saturday afternoon at a luncheon given by Mrs. McClure for twelve guests. The wedding will take place early in the summer.

Now in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Frazier of Los Angeles, who left for the East some weeks ago, are in New York, and are registered at the Hotel McAlpin.

Mrs. W. V. McQuaid is another Angeleno visiting Gotham.

Entertains Sorority Alumnae.

Mrs. G. B. Huntington of No. 1706 Seventh avenue entertained recently in honor of the alumnae members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority of this city. Cecil Brunner roses made an effective centerpiece, and the same flowers were used at the places for corsage bouquets.

Entertains Countess.

Mrs. George H. Melford of Hollywood entertained several friends recently in honor of Countess Blanca de Orvies, who has been wintering in Southern California. The Countess is the guest of Mrs. Arthur Schoellkopf of Niagara Falls, and the two have been staying at the Green, and making many motor trips through the surrounding country.

Daughter to Marry.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwartz of No. 749 West Seventeenth street announce the engagement of their son, Bernerd, to Miss Ethyl Abrahams of San Francisco. The marriage will be announced later.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY EMILY SQUIER.

They say it's a mean man who won't make a promise. There's nothing mean in that regard about any of the candidates for City Council who spoke before the Woman's City Club yesterday afternoon. They promised everything from reduction in taxes to increase in pay rolls, and pledged their personal attention to public utilities, libraries and nuisances. One could not help feeling while eyeing that line of earnest-looking gentleman and lady, that they were tried and true, and that their single ambition in life would be to uphold the right and battle for the citizens' welfare; in fact, they told us so.

Dr. A. D. Houghton was the first speaker, and he promised to cut down taxes. F. L. Cleaveland designated himself as a business man and was for business principles in dealing with city affairs. O. P. Conaway was strong for municipal ownership and A. P. Reeves held out for a strict enforcement of liquor laws. Ralph Criswell isn't a business man and is proud of it, and is going to give humanitarian principles the right-of-way—if elected.

N. P. Olsen was also anxious not to be classified as belonging to the T.B.M. class, and wanted it understood he represents the people. W. A. Roberts was somewhat hazy as to what he would do, but promised a square deal and was keen for a moral city. Dr. F. C. Langdon believed that business and not politics should run the Council, and pledged himself to encourage manufactories and industries. J. S. Conwell was frank in saying he didn't know what he would do until he gets there—if he gets there—but maintained his intention of giving the best in him. Fred C. Wheeler took to himself the glory of having established the fish markets, and promised to take continual whacks at the H. C. of L. Fred Powell took up the first one and one-half minutes of his three boosting Estelle Lawton Lindsey, and the last half of the time telling them he is a man of force, even if he isn't a city-bred feller, b'gosh. Martin Betkouski admitted he is the best man the people could put into office; said he had no apologies to make for anything he had done in the past, for they had been done after calm consideration and due deliberation. In closing, he promised earnestly to go on doing just as he had done in the past. Estelle Lawton Lindsey received a regular ovation when she rose to speak, and her three minutes were taken up with telling the difficulties encountered by the Council in carrying out constructive measures. She promised nothing beyond an earnest attempt to do her best in all things if re-elected.

The primary election for officers of the City Club will be held next week.

Vermont P.T.A. to Meet.

The Vermont Parent-Teacher Association will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the programme will consist of a vocal solo by Hugh Marshall, address, "The Work the California State Library is Doing for the Blind," by Miss Kate Foley, a brief outline of Red Cross work, and election of officers.

Bon Ami Social Club.

The Bon Ami Social Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday at Kramer's Studios, No. 1500 South Figueroa street, at 2 p.m. The club will entertain with the card games. It has heretofore met on the second Tuesday of each month but hereafter will meet on the second Thursday. The studios will be decorated in yellow and green, the colors of the club. All members and their friends are invited.

Entertain Club.

Mrs. J. S. Chapman and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks entertained in honor of the Ruskin Art Club at the home of the latter Thursday afternoon. Among those who contributed to a very interesting programme were Miss Ruth Hutchinson, who sang two groups of songs, and Mrs. Samuel Starrow, who read Tagore's "Chitra."

Dilemma.

CONFLICT OF DUTIES.

Mother Goes to Witness Stand with Sleeping Child on Right Arm. Is Sworn with Difficulty, but Infant's Slumber is Not Disturbed.

Mrs. Marie Brooks took the witness stand in Judge Wood's court yesterday, carrying her infant on her right arm. The child was asleep and when Clerk Hughes asked the mother to take the usual oath, which must be with the right hand raised, she was torn between awakening the infant or having someone hold it temporarily. Finally she raised her right hand an inch or so without disturbing the baby.

In her divorce action she charged Charles G. Brooks with being too fond of the white lights and the company of other women. He was ordered to pay his wife $25 a month for three months until he could square up some obligations, $40 a month for three months, and $50 a month until the suit is tried.

MOROSCO'S NEW PLAYS.

FANCIFUL DANCING ACT HEADS ORPHEUM BILL.

By Grace Kingsley.

Little by little the manner in which Oliver Morosco intends to keep us amused this summer, in spite of the war, comes to light. It seems his trunkful of plays which he will put on here at the Morosco include, besides the musical comedy heretofore mentioned in this column, and which has been renamed "What Next?" a number of dramas and one or two farces.

One play will introduce a brand-new author to the well-known public. His name is Frederic Truesdell, and the name of his play is "The Skeleton."

Harold Selman, a vaudeville actor, has written a comedy entitled "Just a Suggestion," which Mr Morosco has accepted for production.

Broadway will be lighted up with theatrically-distinguished faces. Among others, our old favorite, Lee Carrillo, who made a hit in "Upstairs and Down," in New York, is to return to Los Angeles forthwith and begin rehearsals in a play written especially for him by Frederic and Fanny Locke Hatton, entitled "Limbardi, Ltd."

Emily Stevens, who created the leading role in "The Unchastened Woman," which also won New York, will next season appear as a comedienne, the Hattons having been commissioned to write a smart play for her.

All these plays are scheduled for New York next season.

Lew Stone Enlists.

Those young ladies who always remember Lewis Stone for his handsome appearance as a soldier in "Shenandoah" and other romantic war dramas are now privileged to envision him in real soldier uniform and fighting for his country. In other words, that popular actor, who has lately been scoring a triumph in "The Brat," with Maude Fulton, in New York, has resigned his stage laurels to accept the fortunes of war.

Stone served with distinction in the Spanish-American War.

Busy Old Mason.

The summer season at the Mason is further enriched, according to advices just received, by the additional booking of the musical comedies "Flora Bella" and "The Masked Model."

The original companies, which have been playing in the East, will appear, 'tis said.

Burbank Announces Acts.

The vaudeville bill, which will open the Burbank next Monday, has, beside a number of picture offerings, Charlie Henry's Pets, presenting "A Canine's Dream;" Frank Melrose, eccentric comedian; Hogue and Hardy, comedians; a comedy playlet entitled "Just Pals;" Stone and King in song and patter, and the Musical Shirleys.

Bessie On Her Own.

Bessie Barriscale, as announced exclusively in this column, several months ago, when the first news leaked out, is to have her own producing company, to be known as the Bessie Barriscale Feature Company.

The productions will be released through the Peralta Plays, and the studio will be located in Hollywood. Oscar Apfel will direct the first pictures, and Robert Brunton and Raymond B. West will join the company in August.

Uncanned Romance.

After all, not all the romance is in the motion-picture plays, not even in "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

Miss Harriet Miller, a beautiful girl usher at the Majestic, it has been discovered by Lester Salisbury, famous deep-sea diver, is the same girl whom he rescued from a watery grave in the English Channel over three years ago. It seems both were aboard a vessel which was wrecked, and Salisbury rescued the young woman from drowning.

Orpheum.

Novelty in dance offerings often presents the appearance of effect strained for. Not so Alice Eis and Bert French's "Halloween," a ballet of spectacular and novel quality, embodying the very spirit of the ancient festival, as it brings to life some of the lovely and fanciful legends. Alice Eis (you pronounce it "ice."—but her dancing isn't like that) is possessed not only of a considerable technique, but her art is colored with a delicately vivid dramatic tinge, stimulating to the imagination, as well as to the senses. The offering, is sumptuously staged in several scenes, and a number of lovely young girls adorn the stage.

"Collusion" is a quaintly-intimate little comedy, just skating the thin ice of seriousness in its treatment of the subject of divorce. Una Clayton is the heroine, who is the intenuish wife; Margaret Vinton is of such pulchritude that you easily believe her when she tells you she has been an artist's model, and Mr. Griffin is very good as the mere man of the sketch.

Probably there were minstrel companies in Adam and Eve's time, or anyway as soon as the inhabitants could get around to organize one. Probably also there were dancing and jokes. All have survived in human affections down to the present time, and the Seven Original Honey Boys are very far from the aboriginal minstrels who perhaps chattered from the treetops, and the jokes, though of ancient and honorable vintage, may not have been conceived by Adam. Anyway the songs are new, and never were there more unctuous end men than Bill Cawley and Ed Lindeman. The act is a big hit.

You know how you have listened to singers who received hundreds of dollars per minute, and who have yet left you cold, and then out in the alley maybe you've heard the voice of some wayfarer singing snatches of song in a voice that had a quality which somehow thrilled and held you. While those young men singers "presented" by Alice Lyndon Doll are really very classy young men, and come unheralded, with their names not even programmed, that tenor voice, with its mellowness and haunting sort of thrill, won't soon leave your memory.

Eduardo and Elisa Cansino, matchless Spanish dancers, and Nonette and her violin continue to please.

For the Kiddies.

This is the last week of "Twenty Thousand Leagues" at the Majestic. All children, it is announced, are to be admitted this week at the flat rate of 25 cents.

Tally's Broadway.

Norma Talmadge always brings dramatic power, magnetism and a sort of vibrant intelligence, as well as a fine human sense of humor, to her interpretations. She does so in the case of "Panthea," at Tally's Broadway this week.

Wherefore, if you will just park your good sense and your high principles, doubtless the Talmadge witchery may befool you into a high enjoyment of the story. There is a convincing abandon in this young actress' emotional moments, which puts your judgment right out of business. It may even cause you to forget that probably a really good girl such as Panthea is represented to be, instead of "sacrificing" herself, would just keep on bolstering up her husband's courage by suggesting to him wholesomely that even if he couldn't write an opera they needn't starve, because, if the worst came to the worst, he could always get a good job in the ferry-house! And anyhow, just imagine any fine, up-standing young man like Gerard, with an evident predilection for clean collars and a taste for out-door sports, up and dying because he just couldn't write an opera!

Alhambra.

Those who have read and loved O. Henry—and who has not?—will find "The Green Door" at the Alhambra this week entirely refreshing. The producers of this O. Henry series are greatly to be congratulated on having retained the native sprightliness and atmosphere, as well as visualising the characters and stories so surprisingly that you leave with a feeling that at last you've really come face to face with people of your dreams.

Jack Pickford and Vivian Martin, James Neill and Edith Chapman, appear in a rather unimaginative story called "The Girl at Home," which is not worthy the powers of this very worthy quartette.

At least, however, the story is wholesome and natural enough, and there is no illegitimate reaching after thrills plastered on the tale for the sake of excitement.

Clune's Broadway.

"The Trufflers," at Clune's Broadway, is a real achievement—if you take the statement negatively. How any director could have taken so absorbing a story as this of Samuel Merwin's and turned it into such a bewildering and unconvincing hodge-podge, is difficult to understand. Its essence is of such juicy quality—the girl, Broadway, and stage-mad, sacrificing her friends and herself for an ephemeral triumph on the stage and in the films—that something gripping and colorful might so easily have been made from it.

However, the film serves to show that Florenz Ziegfeld has not thought of everything. There is a scene full of bare-legged posing nymphs which makes the Follies look like one of the New York department stores from which Mr. Ziegfeld is credited with having taken all the pretty girls after that producer had finished his raid.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Pantages.

Patricola is not the name of a soft drink, but it is the alias, pseudonym, or rather designation of a most attractive, alluring and fascinating stimulant to jaded or joyful nerves.

In other words, there is a young lady at Pantages this week, who can sing the "yacki-hacki-hicki-do" style of tropical and topical ballad with appropriate music, words and movements, or can play "Poor Butterfly" soulfully and tearfully on the violin, or can chant "That Syncopated Melody" in a Vachel Lindsey way that tempts you to do a little soft-shoe tattoo right then and there.

You could tell when Edward and Katherine Robinson trot out and do their sophisticated little song-and-dance-with-three-changes if you had your eyes shut. Exclamations of: "Isn't he cute," "She's just too sweet!" etc., arise from feminine throats over the theater.

Billy "Swede" Hall doubles as a race track tough and a red-haired chambermaid, and with the assistance of two comely young ladies gets much laughter and applause in "The Black Sheep."

Taber Monroe and Fred Green, black face and black-face comedians, (there is a difference,) bring down a big earful of palm music.

Hippodrome.

Although short on quantity, the Dare Brothers are exceptionally long on quality with a routine of remarkable hand-to-hand balancing.

A talking turn which pleases is that of Sullivan and Meyers, and is entitled "How it Happened." If any of the picture producers are looking for a successor to Charlie Chaplin, there wouldn't be any harm in giving Stan and May Laurel in "Raffles the Dentist" the once-over.

Flo Adler and her Singing Boys put over a fast and snappy line of songs which hit the right spot. Delton, Marenno and Delton stand out as one of the big features of the show. "The Man from Mexico" is the billing which serves to introduce Sam Hood with his bundle of nonsense. Completing the programme the Six Provenales offer some clever and difficult trick cycling.

THIEF SENTENCED.

Prison Term Sequel to Capture by Daring Girl.

Julius Parker, the young thief trapped by the calm intrigue of Miss Helen Wright of Hollywood while he was ransacking the house, pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Craig's court yesterday and asked for immediate sentence. He was given eighteen months in San Quentin.

Miss Wright was with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Wright, in their home, No. 1771 Tejunga avenue, when they heard Parker prowling through the lower rooms. Miss Wright sent her mother to a neighbor's home to telephone the police. Then she walked directly into the presence of the thief and engaged him in conversation until the police arrived and arrested him. At first he maintained he was a grocer's clerk, but confessed his guilt when cross examined at his preliminary hearing.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are telegrams at the Western Union for the following: Holbrook Booney, Richard F. Burgess, Miss L. E. Bair, F. H. Chase, W. W. Cockins, Humphrey J. Caughlin, Miss Belle Coryell, A. Duperault, H. P. Detwiler, H. L. Gorham, John Le Goa, H. F. Holley, J. T. Hudson, H. R. Lloyd, John Lugo, J. A. McLaughlin, Dan J. McCauley, Mrs. J. K. Murphy, Helen Nisbitt, C. H. Owen, Charles J. Reynolds, W. A. Russell, J. R. Sneed, Irving Sharkey, Ralph G. Steck, F. M. Tiller, Jack Vihell, Al Vosberg and Miss Clara Wilson; at the Postal for W. M. Peterson, Percy Stalling, S. P. Davidge and Rushino.

Meets her hero again.

Lester C. Salisbury, deep sea diver, employed to exploit "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and Miss Harriett Miller, usher at the Majestic Theater, between whom a chance remark brought a renewal of an interesting acquaintance, for Mr. Salisbury rescued Miss Miller from drowning in the English channel some three years ago. No. Salisbury is married, and there are two little Salisburys, and he is quite happy.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Wall Street prices rose to higher levels, following a sudden cessation of the liquidating movement of the last few days. The improvement for rails and other investment issues was considered due to the plea of the transportation companies for increased freight rates. Domestic bonds were somewhat irregular; international issues showed no material change.

ON THE RUN.

The troops of Mr. Hohenzollern seem to be slowly and surely adopting the tactics recommended in Butler's Hudibras:

"He who fights and runs away
Lives to fight another day."

Henry Ford says that the Austrian soldiers resemble faulty automobiles: "they work better after they are re-tired."

ANYTHING ELSE, DOCTOR?

Dr. Dumba, former Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States, lays the entire blame for America's entry into the war at the door of President Wilson and says that "the entry of the United States into the war was a plausible protext for the creation of a big army." Well, we are getting the army; but of course if Dr. Dumba objects we will immediately cease all preparedness work.

SHOCKING PEOPLE.

Members of the various women's clubs of the State received the shock of their lives a few days ago when the daughter of a local poet appeared before them, very thinly garbed, and rendered a terpsichorean classic. People are sometimes pleased, but never shocked, by a poem. The poet is always pitied and forgiven, but if a poet's daughter dares to appear as a symbol of one of her father's nymphs or sylphs she finds it pretty hard to get away with it.

HOW THEY HATE US!

"With joyful pride we contemplate this latest deed of our navy," commented the Kolnische Volkszeitung on the sinking of the Lusitania which went down on May 5, 1915 with 1198 men, women and children. The newspaper which editorially prints this sentence is a mouthpiece of the War Lord who is obsessed by the new demons of greed and hate—and these are the demons which our American sailors will try to send back to the Hell that belched them forth.

THE MISSION OF GENIUS.

Surrounded by United States soldiers, Thomas A. Edison is working faithfully and constantly on submarine devices for the government. The world is coming to realize that it is not physical prowess but mental power that must be called upon to solve all the problems of humanity. And when genius is inspired by lofty purpose there is no achievement beyond the possibility of accomplishment. "Not by might nor by power, but by My Word, saith the Lord of Hosts."

ADVANTAGE OF PRISON SHIPS.

Instead of confining prisoners of war in jails or camps on land, why not place them in prison ships, and employ the prison ships in the transportation of food and supplies. It would cost no more to feed the prisoners and require no more men to guard them on board ship than on land. If the captain of a German submarine knew that by torpedoing without warning an enemy vessel, he would murder more of his own countrymen than of Englishmen, he might hesitate.

CASH VALUE OF CHARACTER.

The Times is dee-lighted to note that the Board of Public Works will grant free water for irrigating gardens upon vacant lots only to "proper and deserving individuals," who are certified as such by recommendation of the home gardening committee. An improper individual is not inhibited from irrigating hills of potatoes with the city water, and an undeserving individual can moisten a few rows of corn therewith, but the improper and undeserving cultivators must pay for the water they use.

The cash value of character is by this method placed at 50 cents per month, and when the cucumber cultivator seeks a job as cashier in a store and is asked for references, he can pull and present his water-using permit and flaunt it, and the job will be his.

MAKING A HIT.

When the Rev. I. F. Tanner, in a sermon at the Highland Park Methodist Church, uttered his bitter denunciation of "men who for $15 a month hire out as murderers" and said that "no Christian would ever go to war," he made a hit, but it was not the kind of hit that he had expected to make. He was reproached by his indignant congregation and took refuge in a near-by German bakery. The minister whose pulpit Tanner was filling for the day says that he did not dream Tanner intended to make an inflammatory address, but, said the minister, "I believe that the Rev. Mr. Tanner is sincere in the statements he made. I do not think he is a German propagandist but a pacifist who has gone too far with his conclusions." Tanner's idea may have been to exalt the spirit of peace, but his bitterness proved the source of strife and ill feeling which he might have avoided if he had been truly wise. He is a zealot who has allowed his sentiments to warp his judgment, thus tending to defeat the very cause which he would espouse.

MITCHELL—NO!

It is to be hoped that President Wilson will not assail the fairness and dignity and good judgment of the American people by sending to Europe Gompers's man Friday—the self-appointed labor union leader, John Mitchell—as a representative of the honest workers of the United States.

Capitalists and paupers, hand-workers and brain-workers, Republicans and Democrats, Knights of Columbus and Orangemen, are all united in defense of the freedom and honor of our country against the assault of Germany. In the presence of our great danger, the voice of faction should be hushed to silence, and union labor is in numbers and in influence, as controlled and represented by Gompers and his gang, only a faction, and a very small faction, of the American people.

To couple John Mitchell with Elihu Root as a representative of the American people is like hitching a coyote with a lion in double harness. We are engaged in a mighty struggle to preserve civilization from the onslaught of caste. Is it logical or seemly to give a voice potential to a representative of a low order of caste in the adjustment of relations with our Allies? Suppose that Britain had coupled with Balfour a striker and brawler from the docks of Liverpool, and France had united with Joffre a leader of the mob that murdered the Archbishop of Paris. How would we have received such envoys?

To credential John Mitchell to Europe as a representative of the American nation would be not only a crime but, as Talleyrand phrased it—"Worse than a crime—a blunder."

AIRPLANES AND U-BOATS.

A peculiar anomaly it is that allows an aviator flying above the ocean to see further into its depths than the lookout of a ship who is near to its surface. Moreover, the aviator gets a bird's eye view of a large area and his ability to detect underwater craft has made the airplane an important factor in fighting submarines.

The Italians, largely by the use of aerial observers to spot and swift destroyers to chase, have practically cleared the Adriatic and Ionian seas of U-boats. Not a single ship has been lost in the Adriatic this year, and one destroyer alone has sunk thirteen submarines.

The Italians have succeeded in doing what in the larger stretch of water the Allies are determined to do it. It at least has been established that the U-boats are not to have a one-sided victory; and if nothing else is developed it may happen that merchant ships will ultimately have escorts of airplanes as well as gun crews.

It is possible to land and fly from the deck of a ship, though a special platform is required. Hydroplanes can manage this with more security than airplanes; and while in the air can locate and signal warnings to the vessels being escorted, which by superior speed should be able to avoid the submarine.

The airplanes would be an awkward and expensive auxiliary to the merchant fleets—perhaps inadvisable at present when every available form of aircraft is needed over the battle lines. But if the worst comes, and nothing else is devised, they will probably be employed on the Atlantic. Long before England's food supply is really menaced, we may be sure that ways and means will be effected to get ships into port; and while we Americans have hydroplanes, our ships are not to be swept from the seas with the ease that Germany, now in a very contemptuous frame of mind, seems to expect.

BANISH PESSIMISM.

"Where are you going?" asked an Eastern pilgrim on meeting the plague one day. "I am going to Bagdad to kill 5000 people," was the reply. A few days later the same pilgrim met the plaguo returning. "You told me you were going to Bagdad to kill 5000 people," said he, "but instead, you killed 50,000." "No," said the plague, "I killed only 5000, as I told you I would; the others died of fright."

Optimism is hope, pessimism is fear. Shakespeare said: "The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves that we are underlings." He also said:

"Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt."

There is an old French proverb which says:

"Some of your griefs you have cured,
And the sharpest you still have survived;
But what torments of pain you endured
From evils that never arrived."

"Fear," said Trine, "is a most expensive guest to entertain, the same as worry is; so expensive are they that no one can afford to entertain them. We invite what we fear the same as, by a different attitude of mind, we invite and attract the influences and conditions we desire. The mind dominated by fear opens the door for the entrance of the very things, for the actualization of the very conditions it fears," while the mind inspired by hope helps to bring about the conditions for which it hopes.

BIRDS OR CATS?

The bugs and the worms are the farmer's foes. If their ravages are unchecked the crops will suffer. Here is where the birds come in. They are the farmer's friends. They act as a faithful police and destroy the bugs and worms. Of course, the birds will eat a few berries from the vines and bushes, but are they not entitled to a light dessert of strawberries after a heavy three-course dinner of potato bugs, cutworms and grasshoppers?

Birds are slain by thousands by cats, and while pussy has her usefulness in house and barn to hunt mice and rats, she is a detriment to the garden, for she kills or drives away the birds. Yet of course she cannot always be kept indoors. The Kansas City Aldermen, with a forethought that redounds to their credit, have passed an ordinance requiring all cats to be belled before being permitted to go outside the house. The robin, the wren, the lark, the sparrow, the blackbird and the mocking bird, hear the tinkle of the bell and seek safety in flight.

The Spokane Spokesman Review approves of the bird preserving ordinance of the Kansas City fathers; it says:

"It is an example of thoroughness applied to the problem of insuring a full cupboard for next winter. Not that there is but one side to the question, for ever so many years fierce debate has raged about the relative public desirability of cats and birds. For every controversalist who wants the bird sheltered at whatever cost there is one who loves little pussy, her coat is so warm. It is an exceptional State Legislature that has not had to devote some of its golden moments to the consideration of bills aimed at the cat. Debating societies have given the cat-versus-bird thesis the place of honor once occupied by the demon rum. So far the cat advocates have been able to hold their own almost all along the line. But with the agitation against her founded on the new basis of patriotic food-increase there is no telling how much longer felis domestica will be able to maintain her place in the sun."

TIMELY QUOTATIONS.

King Solomon recommended town lot gardening. He said: "Much food is in the tillage of the poor. (Proverbs xiii:23) and he also remarked: "He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread (Proverbs xii:11.)

Evidently there were food speculators in Jerusalem in those days, for Solomon further said: "He that withholdeth corn the people shall curse him; but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it (Proverbs xi:26.)

The poets have not scorned to compose verses to vegetables. Tom Moore wrote:

"I'm a careless potato, and care not a pin
How into existence I came;
If they planted me drill-wise, or dibbled me in,
To me 'tis exactly the same.
The bean and the pea may more loftily tower,
But I care not a button for them;
Defiance I nod with my beautiful flower
When the earth is hoed up to my stem."

"On Thanksgiving Day, when from East and from West,
From North and from South come the pilgrim and guest,

And Fosdick wrote:

Where nature and freedom reside,
By plenty still crowned, and by peace ever blest

We'll cultivate the cabbage and irrigate the turnip
Germans may raise hell, but we will raise peas,
And with beans we will conquer—if you please, if you please."

AUSTRIA TRAPPED.

No country that has entered into the great world war promises to come out of it more unfortunately than the dual empire of Austria-Hungary. A defeated Germany will see her minor partner shorn of part of her Adriatic seaboard by Italy and called upon for territorial or monetary compensation by the ravaged states of Serbia, Montenegro and Rumania. A triumphant Germany spells the complete vassalage of Austria as a satrapy in the extended empire of the Hohenzollerns. Austria, by heeding the wily counsel of the Prussian diplomats after the assassination of her Grand Duke, was neatly trapped into a hopeless situation where she was predestined to come out loser.

Since the opening of hostilities, Germany has riveted on Austria more tightly than ever the shackles forged for her by Frederick the Great. Austria has performed no startling feats in the present war. No victory stands to her unaided efforts. For financial aid, for the sinews of war, for rescue from ignominious defeat she is indebted to the prowess of Germany.

The Kaiser has completely demonstrated to her how helpless she would have been but for the iron shield of Prussia. If the Central Empires win, Austria will discover that she has been fighting to the last ounce of her blood, only to be incorporated finally as a province in the larger German Empire. And if the Teutons are beaten, the "ramshackle empire" is likely to go to pieces altogether, to the relief of the millions composing its mixed popuation.

Miss Gabble: Oh, no; but you can repeat it!—[London Answers.

Noted Exception.

"So has mine, except when I want him to put down the carpets."—[Baltimore American.

The Strap-Hanger.

"That so?"

"Oh, yes. Why, coming to the office this morning I had only two persons on each foot!"—[Minneapolis Tribune.

The Simple Truth.

Mabel: "I'm going to get married next month, Lizzie, if Jim can get a week off from his job. I think he'll be able to; yer, see, it isn't as if 'e was asking for a vacation to have a good time."—[Vanity Fair.

Zim's Last Hope.

Speaking of "lost provinces," there are of course New Hampshire, Ohio and California. Perhaps Herr Zimmermann will make a proposition to the Republican National Committee.—[Puck.

The Poison Gas of a Beetle.

[American Boy:] Most people think that the use of poison gas in warfare is a purely human or perhaps one should say inhuman idea. Yet the plan has been adopted by nature. Certain kinds of beetles, known as bombardiers, and called by scientists brachinus, makes free use of poisonous fumes to keep their enemies at bay. A typical species known as Brachinus crepitans is largely attacked by certain ground beetles. These ground beetles are very active and can easily overtake the bombardiers. Just as they get within reach a strange thing happens. The bombardier has the power of ejecting a peculiar liquid which when it comes into contact with the atmosphere bursts into a sort of pale blue green flame. This is immediately followed by a kind of smoke. Now this smoke has a remarkable effect upon the pursuer. No sooner do the fumes come into contact with the ground beetle than the creature is blinded and stupefied. Paralysis overtakes the insect, and it seems unable to move any farther. Quite a while elapses before the ground beetle recovers. In the meantime the bombardier makes good his escape.

Cherchez la Femme.

[Chicago Herald:] Jeff McLemore, the Texas Congressman whose resolution prohibiting Americans from traveling on belligerent ships was defeated, was married three months ago.

Result: He discovered that his wife's shoes cost from $12 to $14.

Jeff got mad. He couldn't complain to his wife, so he complained to the Department of Justice.

That department will institute an investigation to see if there is a shoe trust. If there is, it will "bust" it.

AMERICA IN THE WAR.

[The Argonaut:] These are days of tremendous import in the life of the republic. We are learning the true meaning of world-power—something of its dignities, more of its responsibilities. Self-glorifying phrases vociferously exploited this half century past from 10,000 stumps are being translated into reality. Washington for the moment has become the capital of the world, since there are assembled there foremost men of the leading countries of Europe seeking our counsels and praying our aid. Our President happily has risen to the amazing demands upon his judgment and his powers. He is doing nothing precipitately. He is listening attentively, weighing arguments carefully, manifestly endeavoring to determine what may best be done—best for our own country, best for the troubled world. Incidentally it may be said that in connection with these momentous incidents Mr. Wilson is carrying himself with a fine dignity. To paraphrase a famous remark, he is by the simplicity and propriety of his course from day to day making the pomps of royalty ridiculous.

The first positive determination on the part of the administration has been carried through Congress successfully. We are to have an army enlisted, not under individual and political inspirations, but by conscription. There is to be avoided the fundamental error which in our Civil War led to scandal and disaster. In an army raised upon the plan now assured there are to be no embarrassing issues of uncertain authority, no subordination of military purposes to political diplomacies. To accomplish so important a change and to enforce it upon the country was a great achievement. The very word conscription has through long misuse acquired an evil significance. It has been identified in the American mind with one of the worst abuses of kingly authority. None the less conscription is the one system of filling the ranks of a national army consistent with common justice. Advised by expert military counsels, instructed by experience at home and abroad, the President took a firm stand for a policy founded on considerations of equity and expediency, and in the face of a popular prejudice has carried it through.

Those who in the conferences at Washington speak for France make emphatic appeal for physical participation on our part in the great struggle on European soil. Gen. Joffre phrases his plea in strong terms. France, he says, "cherishes the confident hope" that "the flag of the United States will soon be unfurled on our fighting line;" and he adds, "this is what Germany dreads." Victories won shoulder to shoulder in defense of liberty, he declares, "will hasten the end of the war and tighten the links of affection and esteem which have ever united France and the United States." There is a thrill in such an appeal from such a source, but there are grave problems to be considered. It would be worse than useless to send over raw and untrained forces. If we should send a considerable part of our small standing army it would leave us ill equipped for home defense. How would it fare with us, thus ill provided, if the smouldering fires in Mexico and Central America should flame into conflagration? In any event the problems involved in transporting and in maintaining on European soil a force large enough to be worth while would be very serious. There is indeed exhilaration in the thought of the Stars and Stripes above the battle line. There comes a certain stiffening of the spirit at the suggestion of an American army battling for the release of Belgium. We incline to sympathy with Gen. Joffre's request.

In time past President Wilson has not always been clear-sighted, not always wise, not always just. Consistency is no part of his mental equipment. But experience should have taught him many things; assuredly it has taught him some things. Obviously he is studying his part under the inspirations of conscience and devotion. Today, without reference to past differences, he has the support of the people without qualification. The magnitude of his responsibilities has endowed him with public sympathy. That he may make mistakes is possible, even probable. But if we are to pursue this war with energy, if our aid to the Allies is to be really helpful, we must trust our leader. We believe he is addressing himself to the colossal tasks before him with absolute singleness of purpose. God give him wisdom!

RIPPLING RHYMES.

FEEDING THE WORLD.

It's up to you, oh, Mr. Farmer, although you pack no sword or armor, to win this crucial fight, for you must feed the Allied nations, provide the millions with their rations, so hustle day and night. Now keep the husky hired men jumping, and see that all your mules are humping, do things with ordered haste; let every foot of soil be growing some harvest for your future mowing, let no land go to waste. For every time you raise a pumpkin you swat some kultured Prussian bumpkin who lacks enough to eat; you push a harpoon in the Kaiser and make his noblets sadder, wiser, whene'er you raise a beet. Our Uncle Samuel indorses the man who leaves a swath of corses behind him as he scraps; but he who raises wheat and barley will soak those Kaisers, Bill and Charley, and change a lot of maps. Not all of us can seek the battle, for some of us must feed the cattle and slop the shrieking swine; and it is good to know our labors will help the men who wield the sabers and form the battle line. So let us not be heavy-hearted if younger fellows have departed for great and thrilling scenes; for we can aid our country's legions who face the foe in distant regions by raising spuds and beans.

AMERICA AND THE CHINESE LOAN.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY HUN LIANG HUANG, Chinese Scholar.

IN REFUSING to support the participation of the American bankers in the Six Powers Loan and in encouraging independent American loans to China the American government once more shows a policy of wisdom and friendship toward China. Secretary Lansing when asked by the American bankers to approve the international group which has been negotiating a $125,000,000 loan to China, said that President Wilson has not changed his view since 1913 when he refused to lend his support to the bankers in making a joint loan to China with England, France, Germany, Russia and Japan.

This action of the American government will meet with the grateful support of the Chinese people. It will be recalled that the international loan of 1913 was made by China in order to meet the extraordinary financial situation created by the Revolution of 1911 which had for a time paralyzed the whole financial structure of China. The republic found itself upon its birth in dire financial straits. The government obligations, domestic as well as foreign, were due or overdue; but the revenues were not forthcoming from the provinces. Young China therefore approached the foreign bankers in Peking for accommodation and assistance. The bankers, however, had organized themselves into a monopolistic combination. They insisted on terms, which, had they been accepted in total, would indeed "very nearly touch the administrative independence of China." The bankers said that the credit of China in the world was bad and that they would not make any loan to her on terms other than what they proffered.

Facts, however, soon showed that the credit of the Chinese government at that time was not so bad as the bankers tried to make China and the world believe. While the bankers were still trying to show her how impossible it was for her to get money through any other channel except through them, China succeeded in making a $10,000,000 loan from Messrs. Crisp & Co. at terms far more liberal and satisfactory. Mr. Crisp did not demand "control," nor did he ask for "supervision." But China was not to enjoy fair competition of her bankers. The international group backed by their governments at once brought pressure to bear upon the Chinese government and Mr. Crisp was finally compelled to cancel the loan contract with the Chinese government, although he had already floated successfully half of the $10,000,000 in face of the opposition of the other bankers. The group insisted on China borrowing money from them at their terms.

It was at this stage that President Wilson issued the encouraging statement disapproving the action of the international group and refusing to support the participation of the American bankers therein. The American government was too fair-minded to support such an international "combination." In his statement President Wilson declared that although this government "desired that the good will of the United States toward China should be exhibited in this practical way," it considered the conditions of the loan "obnoxious to the principles upon which the government of our people (American) rests."

Some of the friends of China have criticised this step of President Wilson, saying that if the United States is desirous of assisting China it should participate with other nations in loans and put itself in position where it can exert its influence on the other bankers and keep them from exacting their "pound of flesh" in full from China. Such criticism in our opinion is unteasable. In the first place participation in the group would imply approval of a situation which the American government, true to its traditional policy of fairness and friendship, could not lend its support. Secondly, it is to be doubted very seriously whether the American government could prevent the bankers from exacting their "pound of flesh" in case of some "unhappy contingency."

Europe has no money to lend. But there is in this country today a great surplus of capital seeking profitable investments. The war has transformed this country from a debtor to a creditor nation and created a favorable trade balance of no less than $5,000,000,000. Why not invest part of this in China?

China needs money to develop her resources, to build up her railways and to open mines. She has good securities to offer, backed up by a reputation of irreproachable character in money matters. China wants American capital. She welcomes American investments. Let us hope that this action taken by President Wilson in encouraging American investments in China will mark a new era in the financial and economic relations between these two great republics.

The scheme to have all battles done through sterilized gauze has fallen by the wayside and the memory of the fellow who suggested it poses in limbo.

It is rather hard to believe some of the things we see in the news. For instance that a newspaper porter, dying, left $200,000 to an eastern hospital.

It is soon going to be a tough job to move freely around in the old World without falling over an heir prince or stepping on some one of the emperor's toes. They will soon be knocking their scepters.

Those who believe that the end of the world is likely to come at any time, following the teachings of the Millerites, have concluded to put in plenty of garden "sass" to be ready against the day of the feared deluge.

It ought to be fully understood that no man in this country can conspire against the United States in war time, whether by actual physical force or giving aid and comfort to the enemy, without being guilty of treason.

It is estimated that the interest on the English war debt will amount to $1,000,000,000 a year if the war closes this summer. The people over there are wondering how they are ever going to pay the interest, to say nothing of the principal.

The meaning of marriage is much more important than algebra or classic Greek or Latin, yet by some strange oversight this has been left out of all practical school courses and has not been touched upon in college or university.

Perhaps you did not know that dogs are troubled with rheumatism. It seizes upon them in their old days and their limbs become lame and their tempers affected by pain. Don't kick a dog that appears cross; he may have rheumatism. Maybe you perhaps know how that is yourself.

The Marine Corps has been ordered recruited to its maximum strength, which, under the new law, will be 17,400 men. The service of the marines is peculiar, as they are devoted principally to police duty. To land a detachment of marines is not considered an act of war, nor the sending of a regiment of infantry or cavalry would be so regarded.

The new harbor of the Virgin Islands (formerly Danish West Indies) purchased will soon be a rendezvous for the American submarine chasers and destroyers ships as well as for the larger types of naval vessels. As a purely commercial proposition, these islands, for which the United States paid a check for $25,000,000, would probably not auction off for $100. They form a new Atlantic outpost.

The output of the steel trust in the United States is at the present time two and one-third times that of Germany at the beginning of the war, four times that of Great Britain and eight times that of France. It has grown to such dimensions that it will be a source of strength to the nation. Perhaps the supremacy of this steel trust United States ought to be credible in war.

Well, he is. The upper panel of photographs show some of the things he does every day to give himself the wonderful physique and vitality. The funny thing about this young man is that athletics, which he took up merely for recreation, have helped him to earn one of the biggest salaries known to man. By the way—his name is Douglas Fairbanks. Mebbe you've heard of him?

Bingo!

BENNY LEONARD WRECKS THOMAS

New York Lightweight is the Whole Show.

Decision is First Class While it Lasts.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—Benny Leonard, New York lightweight, knocked out Charlie (Kid) Thomas of Philadelphia in the last round of their scheduled bout here tonight. Leonard clearly outclassed the local boxer in every round. Soon after the opening of the final round the New Yorker dropped Thomas to the floor with a right to the jaw and a series of rights and lefts to the same spot put him down for the count. At the end of the bout both of Thomas' eyes were nearly closed and his lips and nose were badly battered. Leonard weighed 133 pounds and Thomas 136.

RIOT PREVAILS ON HILLTOP CAMPUS.

Coach Wright's invincibles are up in the air for the first time this season. The team has yet succeeded in ruffling the even tenor of their victorious way. Now they stand liable to lose their coach, the most popular man who walks on the Hilltoppers' campus, Patrick O'Hara.

Pat, has sent in his application to join the officers' reserve to be trained at the Presidio. If accepted, and there has been little doubt but that he will be, he will leave for the north the early part of next week.

And while the outcome is yet in doubt, gloom reins in the Blue and White team. Under the little fighting Irishman, a team of only ordinary promise was converted into a championship aggregation of undefeatable demons.

PREXY HICKEY TO CALL CONFERENCE.

PLAYERS AND OWNERS TO TALK OVER MATTERS.

American Association Clubs are Anxious to go Through Season, but may Have to Give up Schedule on Account of War and Increased Taxes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 7.—Although declining to admit that players in the American Association would be asked to accept a reduction in salaries, President Hickey, after a conference here today with six managers of the clubs, said the situation confronting the club owners would be placed before the players and owners alike.

President Hickey denied that a part of the schedule would be cancelled. The subject, he said, had not been contemplated, although the league had lost $10,000 because of postponements within the last ten days.

"Every club owner wants to go through the season," he said, "but if the government imposes a tax on baseball and the war situation cuts down the attendance, it will be absolutely necessary for us to retrench. The opening this season was the most disastrous in the history of the association."

PUNCH SWAPPING ON AT VERNON.

A punch-swapping exhibition of more than ordinary interest is expected at the Vernon Athletic Club tonight when Louis Rees and Chet Neff, lightweights, clash in the four-round main event of the weekly boxing programme. Neff has never been beaten at Vernon, and has won the majority of his bouts by his clever infighting. In Rees he is meeting a man who will tackle him at his own game, and a rough bout is expected.

Battling Rudy and Martin Davis, two hard-hitting lightweights, will furnish the semi-windup. The first preliminary will begin at 8:30 o'clock, with Harry Lee refereeing. The pliminaries follow:

O'Brien vs. Richards, 122 pounds; Moore vs. Frisco, 135 pounds; Mende vs. Brenton, 116 pounds, and Davies vs. Watson, 125 pounds.

NEW YORK MAY STOP BOXING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) May 7.—A second message urging the repeal of laws legalizing professional boxing bouts in New York was sent to the Legislature tonight by Gov. Whitman. In response to his first message, a repeal bill was introduced but was defeated.

The message tonight was received in silence and no action was taken on it.

A Real Athlete.

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF THE VALUE OF EXERCISE.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

IF every American took as good care of himself physically as Douglas Fairbanks, or even spent fifteen minutes a day in outdoor exercise, Uncle Sam wouldn't be turning down five out of every six would-be volunteers because of inability to pass the physical examination.

There have been star moving picture actors who have won fame because some athletic young individual "doubled" for them and shoved them into the limelight by proxy, but Douglas Fairbanks "isn't that kind of a guy." If there is any young man sufficiently talented to double for "Doug" he can command a salary that will look like the Russian national debt.

The photographs published above tell why Mr. Fairbanks requires no assistance in hurdling horses, climbing hotels via the drain pipe, licking half a dozen ruffians in a free-for-all fight and in other ways earning his little $42,500 a week.

It can be said without fear of successful contradiction that Fairbanks's build comes very close to the ideal. He stands about five feet ten inches and strips at close to 160 pounds. Starting with black hair and a genial smile at the north end, he spreads out into a massive set of shoulders and then tapers down gradually through a slim waist and slim, muscular legs, to No. 7½ feet, at the extreme south.

Fairbanks attributes his health and vitality to the fact that he started in while very young to take exercise at every possible opportunity and has never had time to quit since. At the present time he has two trainers, Spike Robinson, the old-time boxer, and Bull Montana, the wrestler.

These two busy individuals have but one mission in life, and that is to see to it that whenever Mr. Fairbanks feels frisky, which is a continuous process from early in the morning until supper time, he works off his surplus energy on them instead of rushing out onto Hollywood boulevard and uprooting a few trees or shoving street cars playfully off the track.

Fairbanks has no regular time for exercise. He never has had, and never expects to have. He simply peels off his coat and wrestles with Montana, boxes with Robinson, or otherwise works off steam whenever the spirit moves him.

Fairbanks is a splendid boxer and an equally good wrestler. As a gymnast, however, he shines. He can do a hand-stand on anything, climb to unknown heights hand over hand, lift his 125-pound pocket press agent, Bennie Ziedman, with one hand, and hold him over his head; and just for a bet, he jumped over the tonneau of a Stutz automobile last week.

And, with all his marvelous development, Fairbanks isn't the least bit musclebound. His chest expansion is exceeded only by the width of his smile, and his disposition is such that one admiring person had to remark that "it must be worth $12,500 a week to feel that way."

EVEN ATE THE LOBSTER.

The Quality Market, No. 613 South Main street, was broken into early yesterday morning, and change amounting to about $20 was taken. The thief entered by the back door, and his methods indicated that he was familiar with the place. A cooked lobster was in the ice box, and on this he made a hearty meal.

C. BEAN DEFENDS HANDBALL TITLE.

Exciting Challenge Match at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Winds up with the Champion Ahead. Abe Roth Puts up Excellent Game and Stages Neat Rally.

C. Bean came through with a terrific burst of speed yesterday and proved himself the best man in class C of the Los Angeles Athletic Club handball chart. Abe Roth was the man who doubted Bean's ability, but he wasn't able to make his doubt come to life. At the end of three interesting games the score resolved itself into 21-13, 13-21, 21-7.

From the standpoint of handball the exhibition was high class. Both experts were playing in good style and were whaling the pill in championship form. Bean had an off inning in the second frame and was unable to get his hand on the elusive ball. In the third game Abe Roth slipped in a similar manner with disastrous results.

Throughout the game Bean's serve stood him in good stead. He managed to hash them up along the left-hand wall time after time and they were almost impossible to return.

Charlie Keppen and Carrol Van Court cluttered the rooting section and did some interesting cheering for their respective heroes. Keppen was stanchly in favor of Bean, and Van Court showed a decided leaning toward Roth. The fact that Keppen was able to talk the loudest may have had a telling effect on the result.

RIVERSIDE IS VICTOR AGAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, May 7.—"Frenchy" Allec scored his fourth consecutive shutout today when he pitched Riverside Poly to a 13-to-0 victory over Chino. Allec allowed but one hit. This gives him a record of thirty-four scoreless innings in which he has been hit safely but eight times.

Batteries—Allec and Caldwell, Curry and Nash.

CHANTILLY AGAIN SEES BANG-TAILS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 7, 4:45 p.m.—Chantilly today resumed its position as the chief training center for thoroughbred race horses when races were reinaugurated, with attendance by the public and without betting, with the object of selecting the best products of the various breeding farms for breeding purposes.

The first feature race, which was run today, was won by the American horse, Sandy Hook, owned by F. R. Hitchcock of New York. Baron Rothschild's Pindaro was second.

SURF FISHERMEN HAVE A BIG DAY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 7.—Surf and pier fishermen were in their paradise yesterday along the Santa Monica Bay shore. There was a plentiful supply of a good variety of fish, Pompano, smelt and bass, and the largest run of halibut in nine months, was the reward for the fishermen. In addition the day was fine. Many returned home with baskets full of fish.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Miss Kathleen Wright, 17, or thereabouts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wright and sister of Carlton Wright, ex-Southern California champion, was the heroine of the women's invitation tournament at the Annandale Golf Club yesterday. She brought in the superlative score of 37, 45 out and 43 in, with a par 4 on the eighteenth hole—and this in the face of a gallery which included mamma and papa.

She played round in a threesome, which included Mrs. F. F. Carpenter and Mrs. Paul J. Pitner, and all of them had excellent scores. Mrs. Carpenter had an 89—45 and 44—and Mrs. Pitner was 91—48 and 43. Miss Wright's score, of course, won the qualifying trophy for best gross, and Mrs. G. M. Midgely of the Brentwood Club won the best net with 107-24-83. That 107 was an amazing score for a 24 handicap player, who is but taking part in her second tournament and has only been in the game for a year.

Miss Doreen Kavanagh had a 91 gross, Mrs. J. V. Eliot a 96 and Mrs. Guy Cochrane and Mrs. H. D. Requa a 99. Mrs. Frank Griffith and Mrs. G. E. Field had 101, Mrs. C. A. Perley 102, Mrs. Fred Griffith 103 and Miss Peg Cameron of Riverside 104.

TRAP SHOOTERS ARE ON THE JOB.

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Trap shooting tournaments have been scheduled for the States of Massachusetts and Idaho, according to announcement today by the Interstate Association for the Encouragement of Trap Shooting. The Massachusetts tournament will be held at Boston June 29 and 30 and the Idaho trap shooters will compete at Twin Falls June 11 and 12.

STAR SWIMMER JOINS COLORS.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 7.—L. B. White, rated as one of the leading breast stroke swimmers of the country, today resigned from the Hamilton Club tank team to enlist in the United States army. He left tonight for Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis. He requested that he be assigned to the Sixth Cavalry Regiment and was promised that this would be done. White's swimming against Mike McDermott of the Illinois Athletic Club, and Bess Ward of Cincinnati last season featured the Central and National competition. Mike McDermott is considering seriously joining the navy.

EARL CRADDOCK DEFEATS EUSTACE.

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 7.—Earl Caddock of Anita, Iowa, successfully defended his claim to the heavyweight wrestling title here tonight by defeating Allan L. Eustace of Wichita, Kan., in two straight falls. Caddock secured the first fall in twenty-three and a half minutes with a scrotch and half-Nelson, the second in thirteen minutes with a head scissors and half-Nelson. Frank Gotch, former champion, referred the match.

BRANDSTETNER IS ELECTED MANAGER.

Carl Brandstetner was elected athletic manager of Occidental College yesterday evening. He will succeed Millard Mier and will handle the athletic destinies of the Tigers for the 1917-18 season.

Brandstetner has been prominently connected with athletics ever since his entrance in Occidental. He was one of the star backs of the Tiger football machine and was captain of the basketball team. That he will make one of the finest athletic managers the Tigers have ever had is an accepted fact.

Felix Fiefifteen Sure is a Creature of Habit! . . . . . By GA

Which is nearing completion at the shops of Harry A. Miller in Los Angeles. This is the first photograph published of Barney's car, which he claims will enable him to break every existing speed record and eliminate the danger of being killed through a spill. The body of the car is being constructed to withstand a tremendous strain.

Golf.

Miss Cameron's score was certainly tantalizing, for she began with a radiant 44 for the first nine, and then suffered all the agonies of the tortured with a 60 for the second nine. Miss Elizabeth Sherk, southern champion, had 104. Mrs. Martin Redmayne was 105, and Mrs. K. K. Parrot, who received a fitting welcome on her return to the game, 106. Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, a new comer in local tournaments, who plays at the Los Angeles Country Club, also brought in 106, as did Mrs. Norman Jack. Mrs. Kegley was 107. Mrs. Jack, Mrs. Ellsworth and Mrs. Parrott tied for last two places in the championship flight. Mrs. Jack being relegated to the second flight on the draw.

Riverside had quite a goodly contingent, for besides Miss Cameron, Mrs. McCrae and Mrs. Odell were on the scene. Mrs. Odell had two dazzling par holes in her otherwise dismal score—think of the joy of doing the fourth in four and the seventh in three in a score that ran up to 120.

Florence Sutton, popularly known as "Birdie," enhanced the charm of the tournament and began very well, but when her friends started wagering reckless 75-cent balls on her prowess she got flustered, so she won the balls, but not the cup, on her net 89.

Here are the pairings for today's first round match play: First flight, Miss Kathleen Wright and Mrs. R. D. Field, Mrs. J. V. Elliot and Miss Elizabeth Sherk, Mrs. Guy Cochran and Mrs. K. K. Parrot, Mrs. Fred Griffith and Miss Doreen Kavanagh, Mrs. F. F. Carpenter and Mrs. C. A. Perley, Mrs. H. D. Requa and Mrs. Martin Redmayne, Mrs. Frank Griffith and Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, Miss Fee Cameron and Mrs. Paul Jarvis, winner. Second flight, Mrs. Norman Jack and Mrs. Odell, Mrs. C. P. Thomas and Mrs. T. E. Ford, Mrs. J. T. Gilmer and Mrs. J. Marx, Mrs. McCane and Mrs. G. M. Midgeley, Mrs. Frank Kegley and Mrs. E. P. Morphy, Miss Florence Sutton and Mrs. A. T. Scherer, Mrs. W. J. Hill a bye, Miss E. Morphy and Mrs. Phil Harrington.

It was interesting to see with what fearsome industry knitting for the Navy League occupied all the intervals. All through tea Mrs. E. R. Williams, who had come in after playing six very good holes, because it began to rain, did yeoman service on a navy sweater, and was snorting to find she was making it of German wool, with printed instructions in German how to do it. Mrs. Parrot was knitting golf stockings for father by way of practice. If father can walk in 'em, she will give the Navy League the benefit of her experience.

And there was a warm discussion over the tea cups about the valuable prizes. There were those who thought they ought to be turned in for some relief fund and the winners satisfied with a mere certificate of prowess from the golf association.

There will be a Bogey handicap today, for which all are eligible, and mixed foursomes have been substituted for women's foursomes on Friday, so many gentlemanly golfers having offered themselves in the cause of gallantry.

By the way, that tie in the State championship between Mrs. Luther Kennett and Miss Cheesebrough for best gross in the qualifying round was played off on Saturday at the Los Angeles Country Club, Mrs. Kennett winning, 2 and 1. And a mighty flutter of excitement they caused, too, for that afternoon is sacred to masculinity, and when they appeared nonchalantly on the tee the lord of creation saw a wicked infringement of his collective rights. It was a tragic and pathetic picture to see Ed Tufts pleading with them to desist from their nefarious scheme, in creating so vicious a precedent. But, being two champion golfers, they declined the humiliation—there was really no danger of their delaying the field. And they didn't.

The other foursome tie between Miss Katherine Mellus and Mrs. Luther Kennet against Mrs. Martin Redmayne and Mrs. G. W. Northwood was also played off, the former winning by two strokes.

The new management came in for some congratulations at Annandale yesterday, for they certainly made a difference to the general atmosphere of hospitality. And the course was voted excellent, even if the pesky greens are diabolically topographical, interspersed with young ranges of mountains and gaping chasms—the very latest scientific kind of green that is as often as not standing straight up on its edge. But, as so many of the scores were first class, prowess obviously rose to the occasion.

TIGER BALL TEAM TO TACKLE HUNS.

The crack Occidental baseball team will journey to Claremont this afternoon to tackle the Sage Hens. If the Tigers come out victorious the situation in the college league will be tied up. If the Huns win the game, the affair will be settled. No matter what happens, a return game will be played on the Occidental campus Saturday.

YOSEMITE PARK ROADS BARRED BY HEAVY SNOW.

THE Automobile Club of Southern California has just received the very latest news "flash" with regard to the condition of the roads leading into Yosemite Valley. These the club cheerfully passes on to those contemplating a trip into that scenic paradise.

At this writing it is impossible to drive into Yosemite Valley—due to the fact that all roads are blocked with snow. Because of the heavy snowfall of late February and early March, together with the continuous cold weather up to the middle of April, the high mountain roads, even at this late date, are covered with such quantities of snow as to preclude the possibility at this time of stating at all definitely as to just when they will become passable. The Wawona road, scheduled to open May 1, and generally open prior to that date, is covered in places with two to four feet of hard-packed snow, and its opening will be delayed at least two weeks. The Big Oak Flat road, scheduled to open May 15, is overlaid with from one to six feet of snow, and, unless an extended warm wave comes, its opening will also have to be delayed. The Coulterville road, generally free from snow about April 15, is still blocked by one or two feet of snow, but should be open and passable at an early date.

EARLY LIMITS NIGHT BEFORE.

Splendid Stream Fishing is the Rule—"Over-egged."

Some pretty good "fish stories" have been told already this season, but here's one that nobody has broken any records to tell as yet.

Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner William R. Malone had it figured out that the competition between Los Angeles sporting goods houses and automobile salesmen for the advertising "beat" of bringing down the first limit of Bear Lake trout would prove too severe a strain for somebody's sportsmanship. Like most wardens, he thinks prizes for first limits put a needless premium upon ante-season violation. So, knowing how keen the rivalry was over this trout business, Malone put in Monday evening with some well-placed trusty aides, watching creeks and "smelling around" some "scout cars" on whose sides tackle and automobile "boosting" had replaced the usual paint. After one outfit had returned after a rather suspicious visit to Red Ant Creek, where the "spawners" were known to be lying sandwiched like sardines of a greater growth, Malone "smelt fish" and arrested the driver, H. F. Hulett of Los Angeles, then searched the car, seizing fifty-seven pounds of big rainbow trout full of eggs. Judge Ed Wall of San Bernardino fined Hulett $30 for his part of the job.

"Stealing spawners" out of the creeks is one of the things the Fish and Game Commission has tried to stop, as it is spending a lot of the sportmen's license-money helping nature to make more fish and better sport. This year the season is late; the creeks in Bear Valley are still are filled with big spawning trout lying in plain sight. Although they are thin and flabby—the kind of fish some people condemn Bear Lake trout for, not knowing them when right—there are persons who would rather violate the law than be thought "bum fishermen" by their friends. The State fish wardens have been busy keeping gaff-hook crooks and netters away from the breeders.

Saturday Malone and Bob Belt, who has been doing a lot of good work watching the fish, took a Victorville man, William Harvie, for catching trout "by means other than hook and line," and Judge Wall imposed fine in San Bernardino.

The season for fishing should not open in Bear Valley for another two weeks, or even longer, in such delayed springs as the present. June will show splendid fish and the very best of sport. At present the fish are not biting freely, and those which do hook on are not the brilliant, dashing fighters that the fullfed and lusty trout of another month will be. Metcalf, North, in fact, all the bays wherein a stream runs, are literally crowded with big trout; many even forced their way up the scanty Van Duzen Creek across from Knight's. There is no scarcity of trout in Bear Lake, and no reason for alarm because the poor, spent things, having just discharged their duty by nature, are not yet strong enough to repay whatever debt they owe the sportsman whose license money put them there through the Fish and Game Commission's hatchery.

Reports continue piling up at the Fish and Game Commission's southern office attesting the unusually fine sport being enjoyed by trout fishermen in the streams this last week.

Tuesday the creeks were called on to withstand a flailing that caused general wonder at anything with fins being left to tell the "tale." The biggest turnout of angling licensees ever known, was the general verdict from every section. Ventura River, the Santa Ynez, the upper San Gabriel, had the best opening fishing in their history. Everybody who did not kill the limit had only himself to blame. Salmon eggs by the canful were chucked in until the scanty streams fairly ran red with the things. Around Little Bear Lake the salmon-eggers spoiled their own sport for the rest of the week, just as they did last year, the fish being literally gorged with the canned bait, which looks like red beads and appears to be about as indigestible. Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner Gyger took forty eggs from one trout. In most of the creeks the fish hugged the bottom and kept their mouths open the rest of the week, the red, rolling diet coming their way easier than flipping up to the top for flies, as a decent, undegenerated trout is supposed to find his rations in low, clear water like the present.

This is one of the great objections expert anglers have to salmon eggs; they ruin the habits of trout entirely and make "suckers" instead of game fish, striking snappily at their normal insect food. They spoil sport for those who come after.

Sunday another great crowd fared forth to the brooks, and many limits were creeled, but considerable complaint is heard regarding salmon eggs. Bait has been used so very plentifully that the fish have no inducement to feed.

All the literature and romance of trout angling is written about the artificial fly, and with every reason, for all other methods of taking trout are compromises with necessity, wherein the salmon egg only figures because of spoiling the taste of the fish for worms or their other natural bottom-food in times of freshets and roiled water.

It has made very little difference where the angler went this year—if he only went far enough. Low water and lack of winter floods has kept the fish in the head waters largely; they are there for those willing to go forth and work for them. The Santa Ynez and Ventura have given limits with the least work.

RELEASE LIEUTENANT UPON PROBATION.

SAN DIEGO, May 7.—Lieut. Claud B. Swesey, son of Maj. C. B. Swesey, U.S.A., was arraigned for preliminary examination today before Justice Solon N. Bryan on a charge of issuing worthless checks, defrauding the U. S. Grant Hotel here, for which he was arrested in Los Angeles recently. The hotel bill was paid and, on motion of Dist.-Atty. Marsh, the young officer was given six months' probation and the sentence suspended.

DUCK UNDER BED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, May 7.—County Game Warden W. E. Adkinson arrested Eugene Le Roy of Los Angeles for shooting a duck out of season. Adkinson saw the duck fall, and he saw Le Roy take it into a fisherman's shack at Anaheim Landing. When the arrest was made Adkinson found the dead duck under a bed.

til the Harlem Club paid it at the ringside. The bout played nearly one hour and meantime many of the asked for their money funded. This the club announced would be done to comply with the request ticket holders.

MICK KING HAS PAINFUL DEBUT.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) May 7.—Jack McCarron gained an easy eight-round decision here tonight over Mick King of Australia in the Australian's American debut.

McCarron floored King just as the bell ended the third round and again twice in the sixth. In the sixth King took the count of nine each time. Over anxiety on McCarron's part and a pair of nimble limbs possessed by King was all that saved King from a knockout.

With the exception of light left jabs, King did not land an effective punch. King clinched often and in the clinches was a master in defending himself.

DAUGHTER'S VISITOR SHOT BY FATHER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 7.—Tony Jubera, a well-known rancher of San Timoteo Canyon and father of nine children, is in the Riverside County Jail, charged with having shot Pedro Velasquez. Velasquez will probably die, for the bullet ripped through his abdomen.

There had been bad blood between the two men and Jubera warned Velasquez to stay away from one of his daughters several times. Yesterday he went to the Al Sweeney ranch and without warning began to fire at Velasquez. Four shots went wild but the fifth took effect.

Jubera has lived in the canyon for many years and has always been well liked and respected.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, May 7.—Richard A. Maxwell, veteran member of Barrack D, was found dead in bed this morning. He complained of a pain in his chest last evening before retiring, but gave it no serious attention. A member of the company, who happened to be awake heard a peculiarly loud gasp made by Maxwell, and when he reached the cot discovered that the man had passed away. Death, the surgeon decided, was due to acute dilatation of the heart. Maxwell was 67 years old. He was but 14 years old when, in the latter part of the Civil War, he enlisted in Co. A, Fifty-fifth Illinois Infantry. He was a native of Illinois.

DELHI WOMAN DIES OF SEVERE BURNS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, May 7.—Mistaking gasoline for coal oil, with which she expected to hasten a fire in her stove, Mrs. Nellie Alcares was suddenly enveloped in flames that burned her from her ankles to the top of her head. She died soon afterward. The accident occurred at Delhi. Her husband, Jose Alcares, employed at a sugar factory, was severely burned in trying to put out the fire.

CLUB AND FIGHTERS HANDED SUSPENSION.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Indefinite suspension of the Harlem Sporting Club was announced here today by the State Athletic Commission. Jimmy O'Hagan, Albany middleweight, and Tom Cowler, English heavyweight, also are suspended indefinitely.

PRICES REBOUND WHEN SELLING DRIVE CEASES.

Sudden Cessation of Liquidation in Rails and Other Investment Securities Stiffens Market and Readjusts Values on Higher Levels—Improvement Thought Due to Plea for Increased Freight Rates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 7.—A sudden cessation of the recent liquidating movement in rails and other investment securities stiffened the stock market today and effected a readjustment of prices to higher levels. The improvement probably bore direct relation to the plea of the railroad companies for increased freight rates.

Coppers were in more active demand, to the accompaniment of favorable trade reports which are said to involve orders for over a billion pounds of the metal running into the third quarter of the year.

Prices were higher on indications of increase in the crude and refined oils, and motors were elevated from 2 to 4 points, mainly at the expense of the boards.

United States Steel's consistent strength gave the list its early rise, the stock advancing 2 points, to 115¾, before midday, relinquishing half this gain on profit-taking but coming forward again almost to the top level in the final hour.

Sales, 465,000 shares.

Local issues were the most irregular features of the bond market, the international group showing no change. Total sales, par value, $1,956,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Business Page: Citrus Fruits, Butterand Eggs—Current Trade— Local Produce Markets

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

F. E. Harris & Co. of this city have the following to say regarding the rice situation: "The local market continues very strong on all grades of rice, and holders are not inclined to sell unless they obtain full prices. Stocks in the hands of the local mills and in the hands of dealers are limited and it looks as if all the mills in this State would be obliged to close for the season in the course of the next few weeks, due to the fact that stocks of paddy rice are practically exhausted. There are a few lots of paddy rice left in the hands of the growers and speculators, but these stocks would not amount to over 30,000 or 40,000 bags. The bulk of this will probably be used for seed. The situation is strong in the South, and on account of the fact that the export demand has been heavy a great deal of rice has been moving out of the country. Several mills in the South have already closed for the season and will have nothing more to offer until new crop, and on account of having disposed of their entire stocks, have entered the market and are now buying rice in New Orleans. These conditions indicate a very strong market with probably higher prices."

There were not many price changes to be noticed in the Los Angeles produce market yesterday, but what changes there were, were on a downward scale. Old crop potatoes are cheaper at 4½ to 4¾ cents a pound for all varieties. Even the extra fancy Shima potatoes can now be had for $4.75 per hundred. New potatoes are becoming rather plentiful although there is a tendency on the part of dealers to hold up values so that the market will not become demoralized. Ruling quotations Monday for very best new potatoes were $2 to $2.25 per lug.

Trading at yesterday morning's session of the Produce Exchange was very quiet and there were no price changes recorded among the various listed commodities. Cheese offerings were heavier than usual with butter scarce. According to Secretary Hudson, the receipts consisted of 477 cases of eggs, 66,960 pounds of butter, 20,852 pounds of cheese, 1004 sacks of potatoes, 1600 sacks of onions and 69 sacks of beans.

GARDEN UNDER NIGHTLY GUARD.

Watchman is Provided for Six Rich Acres Owned by School Board.

Garden produce is now of such moment that it has attained the dignity of requiring a night watchman. The Board of Education took cognizance of this condition last night. More than six acres of rich lands at the Jefferson High School have been placed in garden crops.

An appeal was made for its protection, day and night, and Supt. Shiels also urged this action.

Dr. Shiels pointed out that a night watchman can be secured for $75 a month for the growing season, and that the school garden would be considered a big failure if it did not produce a crop whose valuation would total several times that amount, but that the very value of the crop made it a temptation to purloiners. The night watchman for "spuds" was provided.

lent good humor. Both gave impromptu recitals.

Athletic novelties were supplied by Al Treloar, including Sheck and Gleason, with strong-arm stunts; Talbot, Adams and Talbot, with comedy acrobatics, and a troupe of tumblers from the club, who by the end of their act were running a race to see who might get the most applause.

For the rest of the week Mr. Treloar is to supply a fine line of entertainment of this kind. Also there are to appear one or more of the following stage or photoplay actors, it is announced: Blanche Ring, Theodore Roberts, Charles Winninger, George Beban, Wallace Reid and Max Fisher.

No show of a patriotic character has had a more effective patriotic close than that given under the direction of Mr. Hartford, with dialogue written by Bill "Ham" Cline. The first tableau showed French officers tendering their felicitations to George Washington at the time of the Revolutionary War, Washington in turn promising the aid of the United States at the time of any crisis in France. Followed a transformation and the marching on the stage of groups of young girls representing the States of the Union, and a final tableau showing Columbia, defended by a soldier and a sailor. George McDaniel appeared as Washington, Seymour Hastings as Marquis de Lafayette, Clyde Benson as Comte de Rochambeau and Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas as Columbia.

GIVES THEM HEART.

Capt. Ian Hay Beith, who is here to Lecture, Says America's Entry into Great War is of Tremendous Import to the Allies.

America's entry into the war greatly heartened the Allies in the struggle which democracy is waging against autocracy, asserted Capt. Ian Hay Beith, author and soldier, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

"The entrance of the United States will make a lot of difference; it is a great thing," he remarked at the Hotel Clark, which will be his headquarters until Friday. "I have been in the United States for six months, but since America aligned itself with the Allies, I have noticed a tremendous awakening here."

Capt. Beith, who served as an officer of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, wrote "The First Hundred Thousand," a book which gave a remarkable and interesting account of the first of Kitchener's army which went to Flanders. He will lecture tonight in Trinity Auditorium on trench warfare, dealing with the "human interest" side particularly. Official motion pictures will be shown of the men in camp at Aldershot, their landing in France, their arrival in Paris, the construction of trenches and life as it goes on in those trenches. Pictures also will be displayed showing real trench warfare.

The visitor will also speak tomorrow afternoon at the British Ambulance Society headquarters, No. 933 South Broadway, at 4 o'clock, p.m. A buffet tea will be served and there will be a musical programme. The proceeds are to go to purchase supplies for the soldiers in the trenches.

NEW CARMEL METHOD.

Why my dear Mrs. Chadwick, now wonderfully well you are looking today.

Thank you, Mrs. Bryson, I am feeling fine—just had one of the finest shampoos I ever had in my life—can't really call it a shampoo—it was more like a general scientific treatment of the nerves of the head. So many of my friends are patrons of the New Carmel Method of Shampooing, who have their parlors in the Wright & Callender Building, 4th and Hill Sts. The effect of their method is truly marvelous—they use their tonics and ointments and they furnish the lemon rinse gratis, or when a dry shampoo is requested they use bran and brush the hair so thoroughly and scientifically massage the scalp. Really one feels amply rewarded and refreshed. Their charge for either one is only 75c a treatment.

Oh, I am so glad I met you—I will make an appointment today—must treat myself to one of those wonderful shampoos.

RED-CAR FORCE IN BUS FIGHT.

Pacific Electric Employees Also Ask Regulation.

Will Circulate Duplicate of Yellow-car Petition.

Plan to Get Sixty Thousand Initiative Signatures.

The 4206 employees of the Pacific Electric yesterday joined the 3000 and more workers of the Los Angeles Railway in a move for an ordinance to regulate jitney-bus operation. The red-car men, through a committee, will put in circulation today a petition for an initiative ordinance, identical with that just filed by the yellow-car people. It is planned to secure 60,000 signatures for the new petitions.

The Pacific Electric Employees' Committee announces it represents fully 15,000 persons—the workers and their dependents—and it appeals "to the voters of Los Angeles for a square deal in the jitney question."

An open letter, addressed to the people of the city, says in part:

"Our future and the future of our families is at stake. There are not more than 400 jitney drivers operating in the city and county of Los Angeles, and in order that they may get the cream of the business, by trailing the best-paying electric lines, we must take the skim milk.

"We should be placed on a fair competitive basis with the jitney bus. The jitney bus should be forced to bear the same burdens that railway service bears; forced to accept responsibility for accidents; forced to pay the same proportion of street paving; maintain service whether it pays or not; give and take transfers; operate in poorly-paying territory as well as on the paying streets; give up nickle-sniping from our cars and go into the service of the public on a business basis."

BY PRESIDENT'S ORDERS.

Leanings and Associations of Aliens to Be Investigated.

As a result of the proclamation of President Wilson regarding alien enemies who live within a half mile of any fort or national reservation, United States Marshal Walton stated yesterday that he desires all subject to the provision of the Executive deliverance to be prepared for eventualities.

Aliens who reside within the circumscribed territory will be subject to immediate investigation; and their surroundings and associations canvassed. If found to be without belligerent intentions they will be allowed to remain there, provided they are able to get a permit to do so, otherwise they will be compelled to move.

In the local district there are two forts or reservations, Fort McArthur, at Point Fermin, and Fort Rosecrans, in the vicinity of San Diego.

"DON'T QUIT COLLEGE."

Secretary of War Urges Students at Universities to Stay with Their Books for Present, According to a Wire from President Bovard.

"The Secretary of War urges university students to remain in college and to make every effort for greatest efficiency in case of call for service;" telegraphed President Bovard of the University of Southern California from Washington, at the conclusion of a conference of university presidents held there Saturday.

His telegram was understood at the university to imply that university students would not be drafted immediately, but would be exempted by the officials, probably on instruction from the Secretary of War.

"The outlook for athletics would appear to be rather favorable," commented Mr. Bovard.

President Bovard, Dr. Norman Bridge and Supt. Housh of the Los Angeles High School were appointed by the Council of National Defense as a committee to examine students who desire admission to Annapolis.

FOR RECLAMATION.

Committee is Named to Gather Data to be Used in Effort to Turn Back Waters of Colorado River from Wide Palo Verde Valley Tract.

A second conference held yesterday at the Alexandria by representatives of the California-Arizona Colorado River Regulation Commission, with reference to the back waters in the Palo Verde Valley, named a special committee to prepare complete data on the area of the valley affected, the best method of protection, the cost and other data for consideration of the commission. T. E. Gibbons is chairman of the committee, the other members being Stoddard Jess, E. G. Judah, I. W. Stewart, A. E. Warmington, J. C. Allison and A. S. Dudley.

According to estimates submitted yesterday, there are 40,000 acres in the valley affected by back water from the Colorado River and rendered practically useless for cultivation. This land can be reclaimed, it is stated, if a method is found for controling the back water.

GREAT NIGHT JEWEL.

Edison Company Leases Entire Ten Upper Floors of Building Now Erecting at Broadway and Third Street—Lighting Plan Elaborate.

One of the largest leases ever closed in downtown Los Angeles in point of space involved was signed yesterday by the Stability Building Company, as owners, and the Southern California Edison Company, as lessees.

By the terms of the deal, which was negotiated through R. A. Rowan & Co., the lighting corporation will have possession of the entire ten upper floors of the twelve-story steel and concrete structure now being erected by the building company at the southwest corner of Third and Broadway. The consideration for the term is given at over $500,000.

The part of the building leased to the Edison company is the Broadway side, with a frontage of 121 feet on that thoroughfare by a depth of sixty feet on Third street. The rear or theater portion of the building was recently leased through R. A. Rowan & Co. to Sid Grauman, a San Francisco amusement man.

Negotiations are now under way for the leasing of the ground floor stores on Broadway to two San Francisco concerns. The edifice will will be known as the Edison Building.

The ten floors named will be subdivided to suit the tenant. Albert C. Martin, the architect of the building, having so planned the structure that this could be done. The company itself, after taking possession in October, expects to install an exterior illumination system that will make the structure one of the most beautiful and conspicuous by night in the country.

BOYS OF FOURTEEN ARE TO DRILL NOW.

Principals Throughout City Believe Action is Advisable. Superintendent Gets Power to Permit Cultivation of Vacant Tracts of Land.

By unanimous vote, the Board of Education last night modified a resolution previously adopted, thereby changing the minimum age limit for military instruction in high schools from 16 to 14 years. This was done at the request of the high-school principals and upon recommendation of Maj. Copp.

In all the city high schools the principals are undertaking to establish cadet corps, and they believe it is desirable to include therein the boys who have reached the age of 14. The taking of military training, at this age, however, is not compulsory.

The Board of Education gave its permission for the distribution at the high schools of circulars regarding Camp Throop, and it also discussed the matter of permitting the issuance of graduation diplomas to senior students who go into this camp. This subject was carried over, however, for further consideration.

The board expressed itself as being in full accord with the campaign to increase the general food supply, and indorsed the statement of President Bordwell that any land held by the schools which they cannot cultivate should be placed in the hands of private citizens for planting, and the matter of compensation is of small consequence compared with that of getting these lands seeded to food crops. This subject was referred to Superintendent Shiels, with power to act. It came up on an application of private parties for use of lands at the Marion school.

The Elks Lodge, No. 99, was granted the use of the old Los Angeles High School grounds for nightly military drills.

All employees of the board who are now or who hereafter become active members of any of the military or naval forces of the United States, or who enter the active military or naval service of the United States, during a period of actual warfare, insurrection, or intervention, or threatened or actual invasion, shall be granted, upon their own request therefor, leaves of absence during such active military or naval service; and, upon their return from such active military or naval service with an honorable military or naval record, their respective positions shall be open to them.

ROAD BOOSTERS LOCATED.

Permanent headquarters for the Arrowhead Trails Association have been opened at No. 633 South Spring street. The society is promoting the most direct, and incidentally, the great scenic automobile highway from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, its chief purpose being to divert to Southern California most of the transcontinental traffic which now reaches the Pacific Coast at San Francisco.

NATIVE DAUGHTER TAKEN.

Following a stroke of apoplexy and a hurried ambulance trip from Venice to this city, Mrs. May E. Jones, wife of Edward C. Jones, general agent here for the Judson Freight Forwarding Company, died yesterday at the California Hospital. Mrs. Jones, a native of San Francisco, resided at No. 1325 South Hope street, but had been spending a month at the beach, where she was stricken Sunday. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Baker P. Lee officiating. Interment will be at Rosedale.

Full Lines of Carter Underwear at Coulter's

Comfort—women like Carter's Knit Underwear because it does not chafe nor sag from the shoulders, the waist or the hips; it fits close to the figure, insuring ease and comfort; mothers buy Carter's Knit Underwear for the baby because the fabric is so fine and soft and does not become harsh after repeated tubbings.

Sanitary Qualities—all fabrics are thoroughly washed before being made into garments; every finished garment is thoroughly sterilized before packing.

Wearing Qualities—no matter how many times Carter's Knit Underwear is tubbed, it does not turn yellow; buttons are sewed to stay on; crocheted edge will not unravel; button holes will not work large; seams will not rip or tear.

(Garments; Second Floor)

Shetland Sweaters

Are very much the vogue this season; they are soft and warm without weight—yet not too warm to be worn all summer long at beach, mountains, outings, country clubs and the dozen and one other places at which women wear these convenient and really handsome garments nowadays.

While we speak particularly today of the Shetland sweaters, of course we have a great many others — up to the choicest pure silks, at all prices—

For $7.50—we are showing a Shetland sweater in rose, gold, light blue and other colors, with sailor collar, sash and trimmings of white; a smart sweater at a reasonable price.

Other Models—including the new slipover styles, may be had at $10, $13.50 and up to $18.50—the latter a hand-made garment in rose, pink or light blue, and a remarkably good value, indeed.

(Sweaters; Second Floor)

FOR THE GOOD OF THE YOUNG.

Sunday-school Convention to Open Here Thursday.

Greatest in the Southland's History is Indicated.

May Festival Also will Make its Bow this Week.

Final details have been arranged for what promises to be the greatest Sunday-school convention ever held in Southern California. The sessions will be held at the Bible Institute, commencing next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and concluding Saturday night. Marion Lawrence of Chicago, general secretary of the International Sunday-school Association, will arrive within a few days.

Convention headquarters will be at the Bible Institute, No. 540 South Hope street; the Elementary Division headquarters will be at the First Baptist Church, No. 727 South Flower street; the Secondary Division headquarters at the First Congregational Church, No. 841 South Hope street, and the Adult Division headquarters at the Bible Institute Auditorium.

Among the meetings announced by Edward J. Ruenitz, general secretary of the Los Angeles County Sunday-school Association, are: County Executive Committee at Bible Institute Hotel Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock; Elementary luncheon at First Congregational Church Saturday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock; Secondary luncheon at same church Friday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock; county and district officers' banquet at Temple Baptist Church Friday evening at 6 o'clock; adult and administration conferences in Bible Institute Auditorium Friday and Saturday mornings; men's mass meeting at First Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to be addressed by Mr. Lawrence.

The first annual May festival will be given Thursday evening at the Bible Institute with 500 voices and an orchestra. An effort is being made to increase the total to 1000 voices. Special attention will be given to sight reading for those who have natural talent that is undeveloped. The chorus is under the direction of Prof. J. B. Trowbridge and the orchestra under Prof. Arthur M. Perry. The following numbers will be sung at the first appearance:

Chorus, "The Heavens are Telling," Creation (Haydn,) "Unfold Ye Portals," Redemption (Gounod;) orchestra, Prof. J. B. Trowbridge, director; ladies' chorus "No Evil Shall Befall Thee," Eli (Costa,) "List the Cherubic Host," Holy City (Gaul;) male quartette, "Arise, Shine!" (Rhodes,) "Lead Kindly Light" (Buck,) Messrs. Williamson, Trowbridge, Books and Dodelan; chorus, "Send Out Thy Light" (Gounod,) "When Thou Comest" (Rossini,) Soprano solo, Mrs. Edward Whitehorn; offertory; orchestra; hymns and gospel songs, "The King's Business," "My Faith Looks up to Thee," "Glory Song," chorus and audience; mixed quartette, "He Watching Over Israel," Elijah, Mrs. Edward Whitehorn, Clemma Budlong, Forrest Routt, Edward J. Reunitz; male chorus, "What Did He Do?" (Owen,) "My Anchor Holds" (Towner;) patriotic songs, "Land of Hope and Glory" (Elgar,) Edward J. Reunitz and chorus, "America;" "Hallelujah," Messiah (Handel.)

AID FOR NAUGHT.

Special Investigator in Oxman Perjury Case Returns Home.

Former Judge Robert M. Clarke, assistant to Atty.-Gen. Webb, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he acted as special investigator for the Attorney-General in the matter of the Oxman perjury exposure in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, who was convicted of complicity in the dynamite horror on the occasion of the preparedness parade last summer.

The result of the investigation made by Mr. Clarke was that he found sufficient evidence upon which to base an indictment against Oxman, but the District Attorney and the grand jury did not agree with him and no such instrument was returned.

MINER HUNTS SON.

Clifford H. Potter, 79 years old, once possessor of a fortune through his mining activities in '49 in California, and now penniless, appealed to Lieutenant of Police Johnson yesterday morning to help him find his son in this city. The aged man was without funds and was hungry. He says he deeded his fortune to his five children who, the police say, later turned him out. Lieut. Johnson took the forty-niner to his home. A search for the son in Los Angeles will be instituted today.

FOR ARMY SERVICE.

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter was asked by the United States Civil Service Commission yesterday to transmit to the War Department at once a list of the unassigned storekeeper gaugers in the Sixth District that they may be assigned to the Quartermaster's Department of the army. There are a number of such in the local district, and the collector will at once respond to the request.

HARBOR FUNDS NOT TO BE CUT.

The Congressional appropriation of $50,000 for Los Angeles Harbor in the rivers and harbors bill was not reduced by the House Committee, says a telegram received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce from Congressman Osborne. Previous reports reaching Los Angeles stated that the appropriation had been cut to $25,000.

IS TRACED BY LOST GARTER.

Wife, at Home of Spouse to Hunt Evidence, Leaves Some Instead.

Mrs. Sam Hawley appears to have lost her garter during a secret visit to the home of her husband, from whom she is separated, in a search for evidence. She did not dare switch on the lights, and so was unable to find the errant article.

When Mr. Hawley returned to his home at Fifty-fifth street and Pacific avenue he first saw his trunks had been inspected. Then he found the garter on the floor, and identified it as one similar to those worn by his wife.

He reported the matter to the District Attorney's office and the investigators reported Mrs. Hawley admitted her visit.

The Hawleys have been separated several months, and an interlocutory decree of divorce exists. She was not arrested for visiting her husband's home.

EACH SCENTED A RUSE.

Both Sides in a Pandering Case Finally Disillusioned.

Defense suspected prosecution and prosecution suspected defense, and both growled and neither trusted, until frankness finally prevailed, and it was found that Mrs. Ralph Felix, central figure in the prosecution of her husband on a charge of pandering, had disappeared several weeks ago, and neither side knew her present address. Each party to the suit suspected the other was shielding her to spring a surprise at the trial.

When Mrs. Felix failed to appear in Superior Court for either side, interest in her whereabouts became paramount. As a result of her disappearance the jury returned a verdict of not guilty for Mr. Felix.

TO AUCTION SEATS.

For Theater Performances to Benefit Home Gardens.

It was announced yesterday that seats for the opening day's performances at Quinn's Rialto Theater will be auctioned off, for the benefit of the Home Garden Committee. Mr. Quinn has offered the committee the entire gross proceeds from the sale of seats at the opening of the new show house, and the offer has been accepted. The date is next Monday and the attraction will be "The Garden of Allah," with music and specialties filling out an unusual bill.

Members of the local picture colonies have agreed to assist. Stars will appear on the stage at the Rialto and all will help in the distribution of tickets.

COMPOSERS MEET TONIGHT.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Composers' Club will be held this evening at No. 1350 South Figueroa street. An excellent programme of exclusively American works will be presented, which will include numbers by Hallett Gilberta, one of the most prominent composers of New York City, who is at this time touring the West and giving recitals of his works. Miss Florence Howard will present the three songs from her pen which are having a week's run at this time at the Mason Operahouse. Charles J. Morey will give several numbers from his comic opera, "The Frog Prince," and there will be other works by local composers. The public is invited.

Public Service—City Hall, Courts

NO LIKELIHOOD OF SALARY RISE.

COUNCID HOLDS OUT NO HOPE TO CITY WORKERS.

Employees will Probably Have to Struggle Along on What They are Getting Because Taxation has About Reached its Limit and Budget will not Permit More.

The City Council yesterday poured cold water on the hopes of employees for an advance in salaries. Councilman Conwell called attention to the fact that the various branches of the city government asked for salary increases which would total $360,000 during the ensuing fiscal year.

His resolutions then set forth the fact that there is little chance of a material increase in the revenues of the city which would be applicable to the expense of current operation and maintenance. Because of such a situation he suggested the adoption of the proposed salary standardization which was first suggested about two years ago.

The Mayor and the Efficiency Commission were requested to prepare and present a standard schedule of salaries based on the "classification of personnel" adopted by the Council on March 31, 1916. The resolution concluded with the statement that this standardized salary plan will be put into effect on July, 1, 1917.

The Council yesterday unanimously favored the plan which will insure a more equitable and uniform compensation in all departments. It may mean the lowering of a number of salaries and an increase in others, bringing proper adjustment all the way around.

TO CHANGE PARK NAME.

EASTLAKE TO LINCOLN.

Backed by the approval of a large majority of residents living in the vicinity of Eastlake Park, a delegation of these people appeared before the Council yesterday and asked that the name of the recreation place be changed to Lincoln Park.

Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt of the Park Commission, Miss E. P. Andrus, principal of the Lincoln High School; Joseph Mesmer and B. P. Glenn of the North Side Board of Trade, W. A. Spalding, C. H. DuBois and Alfred Moore of the North Main-street Improvement Association were in the delegation.

"We want to make the Eastlake Park section a great living memorial to our most distinguished martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, and feel that the entire community will gladly sanction such a change," said Mrs. Orcutt. The matter will be taken under consideration.

To Shut 'Em Up.

The Public Welfare Committee of the City Council yesterday advised the entire Councilmanic body that the vulgar theaters charging a double price should be entirely wiped out. The first proposal was to make them eliminate the dual charge, but because of the nature of their performances, it was decided that they would best be entirely omitted from the entertainment feature of the city. The City Attorney was ordered to draft an ordinance to this effect.

Commend City Treasurer.

City Treasurer N. T. Powell was yesterday officially commended by the City Council for his efficiency in office. An order to have a resolution engrossed to this effect was given and the City Treasurer will soon have this in his possession.

Mayor to Jail.

Mayor Woodman is going to jail. It will be the Oakland jail which he desires to inspect in order to be able to recommend necessary construction features when the new local jail is built. The Mayor leaves tomorrow morning for a visit to Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland and a number of other places. In San Francisco he will discuss a number of co-operative municipal plans which will work for the advancement of both San Francisco and Los Angeles. In Sacramento he will take up the signing of several locally important bills with Gov. Stephens. He expects to get back here on Sunday.

At the Courthouse.

EMBARRASSING? IT CERTAINLY WAS.

BEAUTY DOCTOR'S CARD DROPS FROM HIS BANK-BOOK.

Had Just Told Judge, in Wife's Divorce Action, that He was not Friendly with Any Ladies and had Even Accused Better Half of Being a Flirt.

Charles G. Broadhead would have been saved embarrassment if he had examined his bank book before he handed it to Judge Wood yesterday. A card dropped out of the bank book. It was a woman's card, and Mr. Broadhead had vigorously denied that he had been sweet on any other woman, and had even countered by accusing his wife of being a flirt.

The woman whose name was on the card is a beauty doctor. Questioned, Mr. Broadhead stated that his aunt gave him the card and that he had gone to the doctor to obtain a face lotion. The bank book showed that he had $1287 in the bank. The court ordered him to pay his wife, Mary Broadhead, $30 a month out of the sum, pending the trial of the divorce action.

JUDICIAL ASIDE.

SHOULD SAVE SOMETHING.

A woman earning a salary of $100 a week ought to be able to save something, Judge Wood opined yesterday in the case of Mrs. Ines Schmidt, an actress, when she sought to have her husband, Karl H. Schmidt, contribute to her support.

"You know very well, Judge, that to keep up a wardrobe in a stock company is very expensive," replied Mrs. Schmidt.

"No, I didn't know that, but I will take your word for it," said the court.

However, Mrs. Schmidt stated that she has no engagement now; that Mr. Schmidt earned $50 a week in his last engagement as an actor, and owns a half interest in an orange grove.

The court ordered him not to dispose of his personal property, but as the couple had lived together only ten months, he would not make an order for alimony pending the trial of Mrs. Schmidt's divorce action.

PASS THE LIE.

SHE'S MEAL TICKET.

"You will pay your wife $25 a month for two months," Judge Wood stated to William D. Whistler, an electrician, yesterday, in alimony proceedings brought by Mrs. Louise Whistler.

"I will if you want me to," was the sober reply.

Mr. Whistler informed the court that his wife had told him she was keeping him for a meal ticket until she got steady employment. Mrs. Whistler contended that this is not so, as she is the meal ticket for the family. In her divorce action she charged her husband with desertion and failure to provide.

COURT BRIEFS.

SMALL ITEMS INDEXED.

GRANT NON-SUIT. A non-suit was granted by Judge Monroe yesterday in the action brought by J. J. Griswold against the Pacific Electric Railway for $30,200 damages for the death of his wife, Margaret E. Griswold. The accident occurred at the Florence-avenue grade crossing last August, while Mr. Griswold and his wife were riding in an automobile.

DUNCAN ESTATE. Stating that it was the separate property of his mother, Marcessa Duncan, who was also known as Marcessa Key, a widow, J. S. Duncan filed a petition yesterday for letters of administration on the estate, which is valued in excess of $10,000. Personal and real property is listed. The heirs include J. S. and Henry Duncan, sons; Clara McClain, Mrs. M. J. Fogel and Maude M. Laughlin, daughters.

LAWYER SUES LAWYER. One lawyer sued another yesterday, growing out of office assocoation and handling of cases. John D. Dawson in suing William Freeman is seeking for an accounting and a dissolution. According to the complaint, Mr. Freemen has failed to account for certain moneys that came into his hands. The two lawyers now occupy separate offices.

NEW TRIAL. Mrs. J. A. Parrish has won a new trial in the suit brought against her by Miss Grace Gould. In this action, which was tried recently by Judge Finlayson, Miss Gould was awarded $300 damages against Mrs. Parrish. The suit was the result of an altercation between the women. Miss Gould alleged that Mrs. Parrish slapped her face, and that the slapping grew out of the sale of a pair of silk hose. Mrs. Parrish is the proprietor of an establishment, and across the floor Miss Gould was clerk in another store.

DAMAGES AWARDED. Judge Taft gave judgment in favor of Mrs. Julia Dox for $550 against John Kahn in a suit against Mr. Kahn and Jay C. Hoagland, growing out of an automobile accident. Mr. Hoagland was driving a jitney bus, Mrs. Dox being a passenger. There was a collision between the jitney bus and the coupe of Mrs. Kahn. Mr. Hoagland, who was exonerated by the court, claimed that Mrs. Kahn cut the corner. Mrs. Dox asked $5000 damages. She claimed that her hat was destroyed, dress torn, coat ruined and a diamond lost from a ring.

INCORPORATIONS. The California Gold Kings Mines Company, incorporators, L. E. Lounsbery, Lloyd M. Moultrie and B. Who wants to have false teeth?

Yet thousands of people must get them every year simply because they did not take proper care of the teeth Nature gave them.

All you need to do is to visit your dentist twice a year and clean your teeth twice a day with a real dentifrice. A dentifrice that not only cleans and whitens your teeth, but which counteracts "Acid-Mouth"—the commonest cause of tooth decay.
